Planes Drop Leaflets On 5 Viet Cities

Air Force Begins Propaganda Drive On Anti-Red Areas

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force planes dumped 215 million cartoon leaflets over five cities in North Viet Nam today, urging residents to oppose the Communist government, a U.S. spokesman reported.

All the cities were South of Hanoi. They are known centers of Roman Catholicism or other groups potentially likely to be opposed to the Communist government.

The U.S. spokesman said the drops were the beginning of a major leaflet campaign to be carried out in North Viet Nam "below a certain line" south of Hanoi. The northernmost city was the Catholic community of Phat Diem, 55 miles south of Hanoi.

No ground fire or enemy planes were spotted, and all eight planes returned safely, the spokesman said.

The leaflets, with cartoons on one side and a text on the other, charged that the Hanoi government was taking rice from the people to feed its troops in South Viet Nam.

Four Americans were killed Sunday night and today in Viet Nam, U.S. authorities announced.

A U.S. Air Force officer and an enlisted man were killed when the Viet Cong shot down a C123 transport plane Sunday night 13 miles east of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport. They brought the number of Americans killed in Viet Nam by enemy action to 429.

Military spokesmen would not say how many other persons were aboard the plane. Their reticence indicated that it was on a secret mission.

Two paratroopers were killed by an accidental shot from the shotgun of another paratrooper at the Bie Hoa Air Base, U.S. military authorities reported. They gave no other details.

U.S. and Vietnamese planes also dropped bombs on North Viet Nam today.

Area Marine Loses Life In Plane Mishap

Services are being arranged for Marine Pfc. Henry Delbert Grimm Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Grimm of Ohioville Borough, Smiths Ferry, one of 84 persons killed in the crash of an Air Force jet transport Friday at the Marine Corps Air Base at El Toro, Calif.

Pfc. Grimm was among a group of servicemen en route to Okinawa via Honolulu when the big plane crashed shortly after take-off.

Born in New Brighton March 11, 1947, he had been in the Marines for over 15 months. He worked with his father in the trucking business before he entered the service. He was a member of the Ohioville Free Methodist Church.

Besides his parents, he leaves four brothers, Richard E. Grimm, Donald E. Grimm,

Last Escapee Caught By Indiana Officers

Fred D. Hill, 28, of Elyria, last of five men who escaped Thursday night from the Lorain County Jail in Elyria, was captured Sunday by police in Richmond, Ind.

Acting on a tip, the Richmond officers surrounded a home and nabbed Hill as he fled out the back door. He is being held for return to Ohio. Hill was described as a former Richmond resident.

Three others were nabbed earlier, including Charles Twyman, 18, and LeRoy Schart, 19, both of Elyria, who kidnapped a Boardman man, forced him out of his car at Rogers and finally were captured at Wintersville. Robert S. Fay, 24, surrendered Friday night at Cleveland and Carl R. Mahaffey, 25, was arrested in Lakewood Friday morning.

Salem Girl Crowned

'Miss Clayland'

Barbara Kaercher, 19, of Salem, a 5-foot-2 brunette, reigns today as Miss Clayland of 1965, earning the title in the annual competition Saturday at Dennison.

A sophomore in French education at Ohio State University, Miss Kaercher won over eight other girls in all phases of judging, including the talent event in which she performed a narrated modern jazz dance.

She will vie for the Miss Ohio title at Cedar Point July 15-17. She is the daughter of Mrs. Josephine Kaercher and the late Lawrence Kaercher and is a 1963 graduate of Salem High School.

The pageant is the climax of the annual National Clay Week celebration of the brick and tile industry.

Nancy Gene Maurer, 17, of Mineral City was first runner-up, and Judy Darlene Morgan of Sherrodsville was second runner-up.

As Auto Runs Wild

Motorist, 21, Hurt In District Crash

A Wellsville man was hospitalized with injuries suffered in an auto accident early Sunday morning on the East Liverpool-Wellsville road and a city man remains in "fair" condition at the hospital with injuries received in a three - car crash late Saturday morning at the intersection of Lisbon St. Ext. and the Y. & O. Rd. in Glenmoor.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said William A. Hickman, 21, of 2103 Nevada St., Wellsville, was hurt in a spectacular crash near Kountz Ave., Wellsville, in which his car ended up on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

Hickman was southbound when he apparently fell asleep. The vehicle first went off the right side of the highway, returned and crossed over through a break in the medial strip and went off the left side. It then struck a dirt embankment and continued on, landing on the tracks.

THE MISHAP was timed at 2:45 a. m. Hickman was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with multiple small abrasions of the right knee and left elbow, a possible fractured nose and contusions and abrasions of the body.

Lewie Williams, 44, of 1049 Monaca St., remains in "fair" condition at the hospital with injuries received in the three-car crash Saturday at 11:07 a.m. in Glenmoor.

Officers said the crash involved a station wagon operated by Williams, a 1960 sedan driven by Arvil Howell, 45, of Irondale R. D. 1 and a 1960 compact operated by Clyde B. Campbell, 45, of Glenmoor.

Howell was headed west on the Y. & O. Rd. and failed to observe a stop sign at the intersection the patrol said. His car plowed into the left side of the Williams vehicle, forcing it into the Campbell car. Campbell had halted at the other side of the intersection.

Howell, who was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way, was treated for lacerations

Water Source Traced

Officials Probe Disease Afflicting California City

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—The epidemic apparently has come and gone, but not those who seek its source.

Local, state and federal health officials continue to search for the source of bacteria called Salmonella Typhimurium which they say spread through the city water system, sickening more than 18,000 persons.

"I believe now that the epidemic stage—hard to define—has passed," says Dr. Louis Hertz, regional director of the California Department of Public Health.

"The disease, communicable, now lingers on in the secondary stages, passed from one person to another," Hertz said. "This now appears to be the biggest thing to hit the nation in almost 30 years, in terms of number of persons affected within a given area."

The organism attacks the intestinal tract, bringing on diarrhea, vomiting and fever. Three victims have died.

Authorities believe this city of 132,000 first was hit by contamination about May 21.

An increase in the number of intestinal disorders reported was not apparent until May 27, Hertz said. At that time, local health officials called for help.

With hopes of finding that those stricken had something in common, 200 patients were interviewed quickly by telephone. Said Hertz: "Did this blanket the community, or was

Bliss Wants No 'Splinter' Fund Units

Party's Unity Called Vital By GOP Chief At Leaders' Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)— Chairman Ray C. Bliss told the Republican National Committee today he will try to discourage the creation of GOP organizations which will vie for party funds.

The committee is concerned about splinter organizations and curious about the case of the ransacked desk at GOP headquarters.

In his prepared statement there was no mention of the ransacking incident and no direct reference to Barry Goldwater's new-born Free Society Association.

However, Bliss told the committee members:

"We will never have a strong, united party until our fund raising efforts are also united and coordinated.

"It is for this single reason that I view with some concern the creation of separate organizations which solicit funds from Republicans, whether these organizations be liberal, moderate, or conservative. My first responsibility is to finance the operation of the Republican National Committee. Until that operation is fully financed — and we are far from that position at this moment — I, like my predecessors, must attempt at least to discourage the creation of organizations which will compete with us in the soliciting of Republican funds.

"However, once these organizations become a reality we certainly will attempt to fully utilize the assistance they may 7,000 Attend Anniversary Fete Of U.N.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The United Nations, now 20 years old, ended a birthday party in the city of its birth with leaders of seven religious faiths, embracing more than two billion people, joining in support of the U.N. quest for peace.

The three-day commemorative session, mainly a gala 114-nation celebration of pomp and ceremony, began Friday with moments of silent meditation, as it had in 1945. It ended Sunday in a huge religious convocation.

In between a crackling exchange over Viet Nam by the Soviet Union and United States ambassadors underscored a warning by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant that the cold war seems to be intensifying and threatening to spread to untouched areas of the world

2 Guards Captured As Hostages Found Unhurt In Attempt

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three prisoners armed with homemade pistols and a bomb seized two guards and briefly took over the second floor of the hospital at Western State Penitentiary Sunday night.

A squad of guards crushed the rebellion with tear gas. The hostages were freed unharmed.

The bomb, fashioned from crushed match heads jammed into a piece of pipe, blew up in the rush on the prisoners' stronghold.

It shattered the hand of inmate Richard Mayberry, 27, a convicted robber doing extra time for leading a sensational attempted prison break and riot in Philadelphia two years ago.

He was the only person hurt in the rebellion which involved only three of the prison's 950 inmates. Other prisoners banged on their bars and yelled but authorities said it was unrelated "horseplay."

Warden James Maroney said he didn't know what caused the rebellion.

"They had demands. They wanted to make a deal. I refuse to make deals at anytime. Therefore I didn't listen and I don't know what the deal was about," he said.

The warden said the rebellion started at 7 o'clock shortly after supper when the prisoners hustled two guards onto the second floor of the hospital building.

From there they fired on guards in two nearby cellblocks. The guards returned the fire, forcing two of the prisoners to retreat into a washroom, the third into a 15-bed ward.

Scores of city and county police, state troopers and off-duty guards ringed the 40-foot walls of the prison, which is located about two miles south of Pittsburgh's downtown section on the north bank of the Ohio River.

Maroney, called from his home, organized the tear gas assault. The three prisoners

Dirksen Hits Viet Critics' 'Concessions'

Senator Declares Proposals Should Be Explained Fully

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen siad today anyone who talks about U.S. concessions in the Vietnamese war should be specific. He warned against establishing a South Vietnamese coalition government which would include Communists.

Speaking on the Republican National Committee radio program "Comment," the GOP Senate leader said:

"Any who talk of concessions by the United States have an obligation to specify the kinds of concessions which they are prepared to advocate.

"Seantor Fulbright suggests the Geneva agreements of 1954 "in all their specifications' as a basis for settling the conflict in Viet Nam. But this agreement, as Secretary Rusk acknowledged in 1962 contained a fatal flaw in providing veto power to the Communist member of the international commission established to supervise the execution of the terms of the Geneva settlement.

"This mistak must be avoided in any future peace settlement. So must the mistake of establishing a coalition government with Communist participation for South Viet Nam. Bitter experience should have taught us that such a coalition merely defers a Communist takeover."

Dirksen's personal references were to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In a June 15 speech to the Senate, Fulbright said U.S. policy "has been — and should re-

6 Scientists Selected For Lunar Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Six young scientists picked to land on the moon in the Apollo program begin their preparations next month.

But first they will appear at a news conference at Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center Tuesday.

Two of the six, who are trained pilots, will start astronaut training here at the space center. The other four go to Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., for a year of flight training.

For the most part the six were tight-lipped about their selection awaiting the news conference. Their names became known Saturday through a copyright story in the Houston Chronicle. Their selection later was confirmed officially. However, the National Aeronautic and Space Administration announcement will be made at the news conference.

One of the two trained pilots, Dr. Frank C. Michel of Rice University, commented on the

Child Drowns After Tumble In Farm Pond

Gene L. Barnes Jr., 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barnes of Hanoverton R. D. 1, was drowned early Sunday night after he apparently fell out of a boat in a farm pond in Fox Township, Carroll County.

Sheriff Dean Yeager of Carroll County said the victim's body was recovered about 9:20 last night in the 250-foot square pond at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson of Salineville R. D. 2. The recovery was made by sheriff's deputies and members of the Fox Township volunteer fire department.

The sheriff said the Barnes family was visiting at the Hudson home and the boy had been at the pond with the family groups earlier in the afternoon. About 6:30 p.m., the boy apparently wandered alone to the pond, which is a quarter mile from the house in a wooded area, the sheriff said.

The search for the boy began after a small boat was found overturned. The sheriff theorized the boy tumbled out of the boat. The water ranges in depth from 12 to 16 feet. The child was unable to swim, he added. The Hudson farm is about two miles southeast of Mechanicstown.

The child was born in East

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Six young scientists picked to land on the moon in the Apollo program begin their preparations next month.

But first they will appear at a news conference at Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center Tuesday.

Two of the six, who are trained pilots, will start astronaut training here at the space center. The other four go to Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., for a year of flight training.

For the most part the six were tight-lipped about their selection awaiting the news conference. Their names became known Saturday through a copyright story in the Houston Chronicle. Their selection later was confirmed officially. However, the National Aeronautic and Space Administration announcement will be made at the news conference.

One of the two trained pilots, Dr. Frank C. Michel of Rice University, commented on the

Queen Announces Engagement, Lists Doubts Over Match

SOESTDYK PALACE, The Netherlands (AP)—Queen Juliana announced the engagement of her eldest daughter to a West German war veteran today and said she was "very conscious about the doubts and even the resistance" many Dutch may feel toward the match.

But the queen said she expected her future son-in-law, Claus Von Amsberg, 38, a West German diplomat, "by his personality will be of great support" to her daughter, Crown Princess Beatrix, 27.

Von Amsberg's wartime background had stirred up opposition by many Dutch.

Beatrix told a news conference preceding the announcement that she understood resistance to her choice still ex-

New Ministers Assigned At 5 Methodist Churches

New ministers were assigned to five Methodist churches in the East Liverpool area Saturday night as the annual meeting of the North-East Ohio Conference of the denomination neared a close at Lakeside, near Cleveland.

The pastoral changes are:

The Rev. John L. Clark, to leave the First Church here for the pulpit of the Thoburn Memorial Methodist Church in St. Clairsville. He will be replaced by the Rev. Allen R. Conway of the Mulberry Church in Mount Vernon.

The Rev. Arden R. Beck of the Wellsville First Church, to the Uhrichsville First Church. He will be succeeded by the Rev. I. Melville Whorley of the East Fairfield - Rogers churches.

The Rev. George Sweeney of the Columbiana Church, to the Rockport charge in the Cleveland district. He will be replaced by the Rev. Russell Linton, now at the Rockport Church.

The Rev. Herman Strawn of the Franklin Square Church, to the New Garden - Franklin Square charge.

The Rev. Paul Sells of the Harlem Springs Church was assigned to the East Fairfield - Rogers Church to replace Rev. Whorley.

The Rev. Donald C. Bable of the Jewett Church was assigned to the Salem Church as associate pastor.

The Rev. Charles Dailey of the First Church in Toronto was assigned to the Wintersville

Child Drowns After Tumble In Farm Pond

Gene L. Barnes Jr., 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barnes of Hanoverton R. D. 1, was drowned early Sunday night after he apparently fell out of a boat in a farm pond in Fox Township, Carroll County.

Sheriff Dean Yeager of Carroll County said the victim's body was recovered about 9:20 last night in the 250-foot square pond at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson of Salineville R. D. 2. The recovery was made by sheriff's deputies and members of the Fox Township volunteer fire department.

The sheriff said the Barnes family was visiting at the Hudson home and the boy had been at the pond with the family groups earlier in the afternoon. About 6:30 p.m., the boy apparently wandered alone to the pond, which is a quarter mile from the house in a wooded area, the sheriff said.

The search for the boy began after a small boat was found overturned. The sheriff theorized the boy tumbled out of the boat. The water ranges in depth from 12 to 16 feet. The child was unable to swim, he added. The Hudson farm is about two miles southeast of Mechanicstown.

The child was born in East

Boy's Unhurt When Bicycle Strikes Auto

A 7-year-old East End boy escaped injury when his bicycle collided with an auto Saturday at 5:24 p. m. at the junction of Blaine Alley and Brushton Alley, police reported.

He is Bobby Wingett, son of Elroy Wingett, 1028 St. George St., whose bicycle was involved in a collision with a 1964 four-door sedan operated by Ray Fellure, 41, of 1011 Ohio Ave. After the collision, the boy said he was not injured and declined medical examination, officers said.

Fellure told officers he was driving south at a "very low speed" in Blaine Alley and the boy rode out of Brushton Alley and hit the side of his car.

Two cars were damaged in a mishap at Jackson and W. 4th Sts. at 3:43 p. m. Sunday, police said.

It involved a 1965 four - door sedan driven by John R. Rollins, 56, of 309 W. 4th St. and a 1964 two-door sedan operated by Allen I. Clark, 40, of Lisbon St. Ext.

Clark told officers he was halted on Jackson St. for a traffic light when Rollins pulled onto the right side of his car, striking the right rear. Rollins said he had just pulled from a parking space on Jackson St. and apparently his gas pedal stuck. He said he cut his wheels to the right, but could not avoid hitting the Clark car.

There was damage to the left front fender of the Rollins car and the right rear fender of the Clark auto, police said.

1st Assembly Of God Closes Bible Classes

Commencement exercises for the 102 pupils of the Vacation Bible School of the First Assembly of God Church were held Friday night at the church. Twenty-one teachers and helpers were in charge.

The Rev. and Mrs. James Miller of Cory, Pa., were the directors. The theme was "Living for God in This Space Age."

Miss Claudia Trainer received a prize for having the most new members. Work of the students were on display. Refreshments were served.

2 Fined On Speeding

NEW CUMBERLAND — Solomon Wright, 31, of R. D. 1 and Bernard Virden, 20, of New Cumberland were fined $10 and costs each on speeding charges in hearings conducted Saturday by Squire John D. Herron. The two were cited by West Virginia State Police on State Route 2.

Pair Injured In Auto Crash

Two city residents escaped serious injury early Sunday morning in a two - car crash on the Midland - East Liverpool road which saw one of the autos demolished and the other damaged heavily.

Mrs. Dorothy Berresford of Stage Coach Rd. was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the chin and chest and small scalp lacerations. Jack Eccleston, 1030 Oak St. was treated for lacerations and abrasions of the right arm.

The autos collided about a mile west of Midland. Bernard Zlatovich, Ohioville police chief, said Eccleston was traveling toward Midland when he swerved into the left lane, trying to avoid a second car which stopped in front of him. His compact spun in the road several times and was struck broadside by a late model sedan driven by Mrs. Berresford.

Eccleston's compact was termed a total loss, while some $1,200 in damage was estimated to Mrs. Berresford's car.

Midland police stood - by and directed traffic at the scene until the Ohioville department arrived.

2,000 Visit New Children's Home

An estimated 2,000 attended the open house held Saturday and Sunday at the new Hancock County Children's Home on Gas Valley Rd. near Pughtown.

Afternoon tours were conducted by the children in the home. There are 33 children living at the home. Mrs. Mary Lancaster is supervisor.

A plaque honoring Mr. and Mrs. Mike Starvaggi, benefactors, was placed in the lobby in recognition of their contribution, which made the home possible.

The Hancock County Commissioners and the Board of Trustees comprised the open house committee. Refreshments were served.

selves with the war in Viet Nam.

"Is it not known by all that the dirty aggressive war in Viet Nam was unleashed by the United States?" asked the tall, bespectacled Soviet ambassador.

He had left the Opera House scene before U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson fired back:

"I must say that the Soviet Union might do more by encouraging the peaceful purposes of the United Nations than by attacking my country for protecting a small country from aggression and, indeed, assisting the agressor."

Before the exchange, U Thant had said the cold war appared to be intensifying and expanding, then cautioned that the trend "must be arrested and reversed if humanity is to be saved from the scourge of war."

Sunday's convocation of Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Greek Orthodox Christians, Hindus, Buddhists and Moslems was a solemn display of religious unity in support of the United Nations. It was staged in San Francisco's vast Cow Palace. Police estimated attendance at about 7,000.

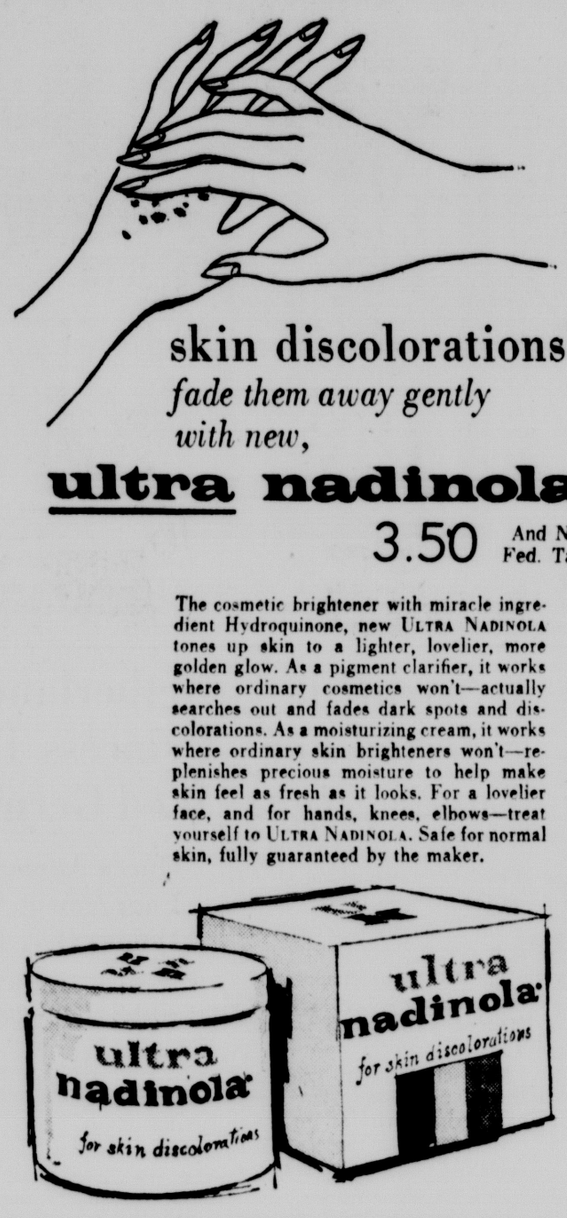

The surprise of the commemorative session was its failure to deal openly with the United Nations' financial plight because of such refusals as the Soviet Union's to pay for U.N. activities in the Congo.

President Johnson omitted treatment of the subject in his speech Friday but afterward conferred for more than an hour with U Thant.

Pair To Face FBI Charge Of Kidnaping

Two Monaca brothers are being held in Cuyahoga County Jail at Cleveland to face Federal Grand Jury action on kidnaping charges filed by the FBI as the result of a chase that began after a Beaver County robberty Thursday night and ended near Alliance.

The FBI said Saturday Edward Icenhour, 36, and his brother Elmer, 32, waived a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Thomas M. Moore in Youngstown.

Herbert Bollia, constable of Smith Township, just east of Alliance, said the Icenhour brothers admitted they stopped James Puffinberger, 22, on a bridge in Rochester and forced him at gunpoint to drive them into Ohio. When the Icenhours stopped at a tavern near Alliance early Friday, Puffinberger fled into a wooded area where the constable found him.

The Icenhours forced two Alliance youths who were sitting in a car parked outside the tavern to drive them toward Canton. Police took up pursuit and the car went out of control on a curve and crashed near Alliance. Edward Icenhour was treated for back injuries at Alliance City Hospital, and Elmer was jailed in Sebring.

Pennsylvania authorities want the pair for questioning about burglary of a military surplus store in Rochester, where guns and ammunition were stolen Thursday night and for the $350 holdup of a Fallston tavern late that night.

Groups Will Plan Flower Show At July 12 Session

Members of the East Liverpool Garden Club will be guests at the July 12 meeting of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society, it was announced during a meeting of the floral society's Board of Directors Saturday night at the home of Jack Eccleston of St. Clair Ave. Ext.

The Garden Club, which is in charge of the arrangement division of the annual East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Show Sept. 25-26 at Westgate School, will display and discuss the classes it has set up in its division.

Other plans for the fall show, including publicity and judges, were discussed.

It was disclosed that the horticultural discussion at the July 12 session of the society will concern budding and mulching of dahlias.

An invitation from the Dahlia Society of Ohio also was read for the local floral society to attend the state group's annual picnic Aug. 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kovar of Southington.

The next meeting of the Board of Directors will be July 24.

7 Pre-School Clinics Planned By Hancock

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Hancock Board of Health has announced that seven pre-school immunization clinics for whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox and polio will be conducted on several dates in July from 10 a. m. to 12 noon. The schedule follows:

Thursday, Weirton Community Center, Weirton; July 6, American Legion Hall, Newell; July 7, City Building, Chester; July 10, 17, 24 and 31—Health Department, New Cumberland.

Pair To Face FBI Charge Of Kidnaping

Two Monaca brothers are being held in Cuyahoga County Jail at Cleveland to face Federal Grand Jury action on kidnaping charges filed by the FBI as the result of a chase that began after a Beaver County robberty Thursday night and ended near Alliance.

The FBI said Saturday Edward Icenhour, 36, and his brother Elmer, 32, waived a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Thomas M. Moore in Youngstown.

Herbert Bollia, constable of Smith Township, just east of Alliance, said the Icenhour brothers admitted they stopped James Puffinberger, 22, on a bridge in Rochester and forced him at gunpoint to drive them into Ohio. When the Icenhours stopped at a tavern near Alliance early Friday, Puffinberger fled into a wooded area where the constable found him.

The Icenhours forced two Alliance youths who were sitting in a car parked outside the tavern to drive them toward Canton. Police took up pursuit and the car went out of control on a curve and crashed near Alliance. Edward Icenhour was treated for back injuries at Alliance City Hospital, and Elmer was jailed in Sebring.

Pennsylvania authorities want the pair for questioning about burglary of a military surplus store in Rochester, where guns and ammunition were stolen Thursday night and for the $350 holdup of a Fallston tavern late that night.

Groups Will Plan Flower Show At July 12 Session

Members of the East Liverpool Garden Club will be guests at the July 12 meeting of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society, it was announced during a meeting of the floral society's Board of Directors Saturday night at the home of Jack Eccleston of St. Clair Ave. Ext.

The Garden Club, which is in charge of the arrangement division of the annual East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Show Sept. 25-26 at Westgate School, will display and discuss the classes it has set up in its division.

Other plans for the fall show, including publicity and judges, were discussed.

It was disclosed that the horticultural discussion at the July 12 session of the society will concern budding and mulching of dahlias.

An invitation from the Dahlia Society of Ohio also was read for the local floral society to attend the state group's annual picnic Aug. 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kovar of Southington.

The next meeting of the Board of Directors will be July 24.

Cures And Complications

The nightmarish complications of the proposed presidential disability amendment that Congress is about to approve for submission to the states are obvious.

The proposed amendment would provide for nomination by the president of a vice president when the office is unoccupied, as it was after the assassination of President Kennedy. The appointee then would have to be confirmed by both the House and Senate.

If the House and Senate were controlled by different or by hostile political majorities, the first of the nightmarish complications would materialize. There would be an indefinite standoff, with consequent clouding of the right of anyone else in the line of presidential success to succeed the president.

The second complication would materialize over the provision for a presidential declaration of disability. Authenticity of the declaration would be determined by a president's ability to sign his name. Likewise, the end of disability would be determined by the presidential signature.

It would be possible, of course, for a chief executive to be irrational yet able to sign his name.

The third complication is the provision for a vice president and a majority of the Cabinet or whatever other group might be designated by Congress to declare that a chief executive was unable to perform his duties. This would be a built-in invitation to a coupe d'etat.

Unthinkable in the United States? Not if it were made legal.

Everybody worried about presidential succession after the Kennedy assassination, when the next two officials in line were unsuited to the task. Every president in recent times has worried about presidential disability, especially Dwight Eisenhower who twice had to delegate authority to Richard Nixon.

But when attempts are made to cope with these possible emergencies, it is quickly evident that the cure might be as troublesome as the malady.

'Teeth' Needed

The West Virginia legislature would do well to give serious thought to a resolution adopted by the state's prosecuting attorneys at their association meeting over the weekend.

The resolution asks the legislature to bring the law up to date with descriptions of modern gambling devices. An association spokesman called the present law outmoded and said modern gambling equipment is not identifiable in the statute's language.

A recent case at Moundsville brought home forcefully the point that a change is needed when a gambling equipment charge was thrown out of court for the reason cited by the attorneys in the resolution. The present wording of the law has not kept pace with developments.

With almost weekly arrests disclosing gaming equipment of one form or another in the Northern Panhandle, there's no question but it's time to put more teeth into the law.

A Story With A Moral

The entire country is chomping or chuckling over that imbroglio in Republican National Committee headquarters.

The incident in which a Goldwater loyalist and his staff members caught a Ray Bliss loyalist rifling a desk was one of those upper-hall things that never should have hit the headlines. The party and its top officials can't afford to be laughed at.

But it did hit the headlines. And some good may come of it yet. Perhaps there's a moral to be squeezed out of the mess; to wit, never rifle the desk of someone who's on his way out until he has left town. Otherwise, you might leave town first.

Retiring GOP finance director Frank J. Kovac was going to leave July 1.

William Cody Kelly, who had just arrived, now has been asked to leave first. Chairman Bliss didn't have any choice. Desk-rifling in an office is unpardonable.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

As a veteran world traveler, you might be interested in hearing about a couple of country mice who made a trip to the big-city New York World's Fair.

They went by bus, one night for the jaunt there, a day at the fair and home the next night—an all-night ride each way.

Well, Twill, you'd be surprised at the strange sights and experiences of a couple of country mice visiting their city cousins, so to speak.

The country mice, naturally, were more or less familiar with the barnyard animals displayed at the fair and amused by the ignorance of their city cousins.

The city mice stood around the cages and made remarks which showed they thought rabbits were guinea pigs, calves and goats were big dogs with funny feet and chickens were baby turkeys.

Laugh, they thought they'd die at the gullibility of the city hicks.

THE CITY MICE expressed concern for the safety of a bored girl nonchalantly reading a book inside a cage while tending a coyote puppy and wolf puppy who entertained onlookers by playing tug of war with a rag. Shucks, those pups wouldn't hurt a fly.

And, of course, there was the other side of the coin. The country mice were impressed by the hordes of hoods loitering about.

If you don't know how to recognize a hood when you see one, here is how you do it. He has a cigarette drooping from his lips, wears a silver-shiny suit with narrow cut pants, has his hands in his pockets and talks like a gangster.

Another thing which made their eyes bulge was Bourbon Street in the Louisiana state show. The old hometown was never like that, at least not the parts of the old hometown they lived in.

They thought at first they must have been in a hardware store, because the menu listed a "screwdriver." The waiter had a hard time explaining this to them, because he kept getting tangled up with whether this screwdriver made screws loose or tight.

It was just like the movies and TV, only in real life—or as real life as fairs ever are.

And the guys wore berets, beards, jeans, sandals, velvet sweat shirts and sported pipes. Wow!

A BLAZE listener to the tales of the country mice couldn't resist inquiring if Bourbon Street had a termite patron who asked, "Is the bar tender here?"

All of that was the light side of their first visit to a big city fair, but while the bohemian-type shows intrigued them they were equally impressed by the religious and church exhibits, mammoth automobile manufacturing displays and gimmicks and nationality shows.

At various times, you have held forth against the pressure on patrons to tip employes who serve them. You needn't worry too much.

The World's Fair staff had a bad day. The country mice feel the same way you do about tipping, only more so.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

When equal rights are mentioned, it's always females who are going to come up in the world.

Males are entitled to as many equal rights as females. That's what the law says. One day soon, when men realize what has happened while they were holding the door open for women, they will assert themselves.

In many fields of employment, ranging from scrubwomen to nursing, men are now frozen out.

Thousands of jobs in retail employment that men could perform as handily as women are monopolized by women. Why shouldn't men work at perfume counters in department stores if they want to? Why shouldn't they sell lingerie?

Take "Waitress Wanted" pleas of the resaurant owners. They're always wanting waitresses. Why don't they ever want waiters?

Taking into account that a third of the jobs in this country are held by women and most of them formerly were held by men and could be held by men now if the men had a chance, more fun is going to come out of outlawing sex as a basis of discrimination in employment than anyone can realize until the fun begins.

"I am here to apply for the vacancy in Upper Hall, whose 'house mother' quit at the end of the spring term," announces the kind-looking man to the stern-looking dean of women.

"But Upper Hall is a girl's dormitory," sputters stern-looking.

"I know that," says kind-looking. "Your former house mother in Upper Hall happens to be my wife. She quit because she is taking a job as trainer for the football team. When she told me about this, I realized I always had wanted to be a 'house mother,' in a manner of speaking.

"I have a strong brooding instinct. This came out strongly while our children were growing up. I was always clucking over them and gathering them around me. You either have it or you don't. Take my wife, for example. She's a nut on physical fitness. That's why she nailed the job as trainer for the football team. She's crazy about adhesive tape and rubbing compounds.

"This new law forbidding discrimination on account of sex in handing out jobs is a boon to natural aptitudes. When I was a school boy, we had a house mother in a men's dormitory. It made sense. There can be a house mother in a men's dormitory there can be a house father in a girl's dormitory. Well, now, can't there?

"Don't try to stare me down, lady. I know my rights. I am the best qualified applicant you have for the vacancy. Those other two guys you interviewed aren't even married. Furthermore, both of them lied about their age. They're younger than they were made up to be.

"Okay, then, so I get the job. Put it there, sweetie. We've got some great times ahead of us."

60 Grave Men Come To Dinner

By Victor Riesel

Some 60 very grave men left the White House at 10:30 p.m. last Tuesday.

They were labor and business leaders who had been invited to dine privately with the President in the State banquet room. They had not had much notice. Invitation had come by telephone the previous Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

Victor Riesel

These prominent men had come to discuss the nation's economy with the President and many of his Cabinet. But they also were briefed on the Viet Nam escalation by Defense Secretary McNamara.

When he had finished, some of the labor leaders present believed a crisis in Southeast Asia was imminent. They interpreted Secretary McNamara's report as far grimmer than anything they had yet heard or read in the public prints, and they are mighty well-informed men.

AT LEAST ONE of the labor men later told a friend that he thought the defense secretary's briefing meant that the U.S. "soon" would have 250,000 troops in and around South Viet Nam.

One uncommunicative labor chief muttered some thing that sounded like "We're losing there if heard right," and they did a sphinx.

Though many of the labor leaders in the state dining room had sharp disagreements with some of the government's leaders there, all the union chiefs pledged full support for the nation's foreign policies. George Meany, AFL-CIO president, in his hard and blunt fashion gave the backing of his movement's 13 million members.

After the President gave the floor to his guests, many of whom had flown in from across the land, the National Maritime Unions hardy leader, Joe Curran, took the floor. There was silence.

"BIG JOE" is a waterfront militant from away back. He put it succinctly. This was, and is, important, because he is one of the few such militants left of the old CIO leadership.

He urged strong action in South Viet Nam. Backing up President Johnson's dispatch of troops to take the fight to the Communist forces, Mr. Curran warned that this was imperative. He struck the Leninist theme that the road to Paris and control of Europe, and therefore the world, was through Peiping.

The NMU chief, a student of Leninist tactics, asserted that the Communists' strategy was Leninist—aimed at isolating America. Curran's thesis was to the effect that if this succeeded the U.S. could not survive.

Rarely has there been such unanimity among the labor leaders. Meany and Curran usually growl at each other.

THEIR UNITY on foreign policy is symbolic of the new fraternalism permeating the labor movement.

There is only one major dissenting voice among the nation's influential labor leaders. Oddly, that voice is the soft-spoken tone of Emil Mazey, who as secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers is second in command of that powerful union headed by Walter Reuther.

Time and again, Mazey has attacked President Johnson. His strongest assault on U.S. foreign policy was made at a huge mass meeting on May 15 in Detroit.

"I disagree completely and totally with President Johnson as to why we are in South Viet Nam," said Mazey.

"Johnson has said we are in South Viet Nam to preserve liberty and freedom, but there is no freedom, no liberty in South Viet Nam. . . ."

His have been the only blunt attacks in labor's upper echelons.

AT ONE POINT during Tuesday night's White House dinner, the President turned quiz-master.

"Where is my friend, Walter?" asked the President, searching out the 10 labor leaders, among whom was the Steelworkers' new president, I. W. Abel, on one of his rare visits to the White House. The reference, of course, was to Reuther. The Detroiter greeted the President.

But he did not speak—not on foreign or domestic issues. He was uncharacteristically silent.

Not long afterwards the men who came to dinner and briefing went out into the balmy capital night—far more disturbed than when they arrived.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Miss Helen Redinger of Salem and Miss Elise Hess of East Liverpool were successful Columbiana County applicants in a state civil service examination for appointment as investigators in the aid for the aged division.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Miss Eleanor Whitehill of Georgetown was awarded a four-year scholarship at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa.

Edward Gloss, former newspaperman and a native of Wellsville, was appointed director of information of the Regional War Labor Board at Cleveland.

Ruth A. Flowers of Edward Ave. was promoted to corporal as a WAC medical technician at Ashford General Hospital, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Helen Petrakis of Weirton was named Hancock County 4-H Club agent, replacing Mrs. Ruth McPherson.

People In News

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) —Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., has paid a return visit to Cooley Dickinson Hospital where he spent three weeks last year after suffering a broken back in a plane crash June 19.

This time the senator presented a scholarship fund Sunday to the school of nursing. It was announced that the fund is a memorial to Edward S. Moss, a Kennedy aide from Andover who was killed in the crash.

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — Helen Keller has celebrated her 85th birthday with a cake, a champagne toast and a close group of relatives and friends.

The celebration Sunday was a quiet one for the blind and deaf author who has devoted most of her lifetime to helping the handicapped.

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Bing Crosby crooned a few bars of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" as he led Meadow Court into the Irish Derby winner's circle at the Curragh Race Track.

He had reason to sing. Within hours after Crosby bought a one-third share in the horse, Meadow Court earned him $52,940 as his share of the $155,820 first prize money in Saturday's race.

Crosby bought the share from Canadian millionaire Max Bell. He wouldn't say what it cost him, but commented after the race, "I've got my money back now and more."

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — President Johnson's younger daughter, Luci, arrived in New Orleans Sunday and rode from the airport to her hotel with a young man she described as "a good friend."

His name was not disclosed.

Debt Cloud Overhead

By David Lawrence

It's Now Up In The Trillions

Amid the glowing statements now being broadcast by administration spokesmen predicting a continuing expansion of business, there is a conspicuous indifference to the trouble that can come from excesses in the field of credit.

David Lawrence

The average person isn't aware of the sensational rise in debts, private as well as public. In the last 20 years the total debt in America has gone from $434 billion to $1.3 trillion. That word "trillion" is soon going to describe private debt, too, which already is $882 billion—up 530 per cent since 1945.

It's unquestionably the rapid increase in borrowing by individuals and by business that has stimulated a postwar boom, which is now being described exultantly as an unending prosperity.

Ten years ago, personal debts were 41 per cent of the total income of individuals after taxes. Today these debts are 61 per cent of all individual incomes after taxes.

Walter E. Hoadley, a well-known economist and vice president of the Armstrong Cork Co., said in a recent speech that consumer credit has been "advancing at approximately twice the rate of income gains —a situation which cannot really be expected to persist too much longer without some temporary slowdown."

"IN FACT," he added, "in bank loans and consumer credit are now to be found some definite signs of excessive, and hence unsustainable, activity which portends some periods of correction and adjustment ahead."

Some unpalatable facts need to be stressed in order that corrective measures can be put into effect.

Frankness is more than ever essential, and there was a good example of it in an editorial in "The Wall Street Journal on Wednesday, which said:

"To put it bluntly, we are witnessing at home and abroad mounting evidence of the dangers of credit excess. When a big New York real estate firm heads for bankruptcy; when the largest credit union in Minnesota is being placed in receivership; when a number of banks around the country fail and a great many others put out shaky loans; when the pressures build for higher wages and prices—when all that is visible, we think it reasonable to conclude that there is quite a credit spillover in the domestic economy.

"Even officialdom is beginning to sense it. The government is trying to stick rocks in the stream in the form of lecturing bankers on sound credit practices and talking sternly to employers and unions about the desirability of wage-price stability.

"WHAT WASHINGTON money managers so far refuse to do is halt the swift creation of credit supply by enlarging member bank accounts in the Reserve Banks, and it does that chiefly by purchasing federal securities—with perennial federal budget deficits, there's always a growing supply of them around. Member commercial banks then can make loans in amounts six or more times as large as the sums added to their reserve Bank accounts. . . .

"In fact, businessmen who expand their operations mainly because money is cheap and plentiful are building the foundation for anything but a sound and lasting prosperity, as some of the recent collapses ought to suggest."

It would be a mistake to assume that either a recession or a depression is inevitable but it's by no means impracticable to heed the advice given by Chairman Martin of the Federal Reserve Board and other economists who feel that restraints must be applied.

THE FIRST RESTRAINT, of course, is not to exaggerate the nature of the current prosperity but to emphasize the simple fact that the whole credit system has been permitted to get somewhat out of hand through the granting of credits in many instances without applying sound guidelines. This is why the excess of optimism from official sources can only lead many people to take more chances by expanding loans far beyond the ability of the borrowers to pay.

The oldest rule of economics still applies—that continually to borrow money and run deficits in any business or in government is bound sooner or later to cause a series of events that can make it difficult to put into effect the corrective measures that are necessary. As the Federal Reserve Board chairman said recently about current thinking:

"While the spirit is willing, the flesh, in the form of concrete policies, has remained weak. With the best intentions, some experts seem resolved to ignore the lessons of the past."

Mr. Martin might have added that in a political atmosphere it's always difficult to apply restraints. Yet when these measures are finally initiated, they are more painful politically than if a bit of foresight had been courageously used, especially in keeping credit expansion from overreaching itself.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

In answer to your editorial in Saturday's Review "The Lake Could Be Lost" you, Mr. Editor, did not find out all of the facts.

You did not find out why we are opposing the vacating of these roads. Our main reason is Fire Protection. By losing this section of the Old Steubenville Rd. it leaves approximately 100 families with practically no protection. It will take trucks 20 minutes to a half hour longer to come around by the other route we are to use. In that time our church or a house or barn is beyond help.

Also the state is not giving us another two lane road out. They say the existing roads could be used, but they have not inspected them. The road to the east is mostly a one-lane dirt road with two bridges unsafe for much traffic. In the spring they are mud and in the winter snow covered and sometimes impassable. The road to the west is somewhat better.

Part of it is blacktopped, but one section has a spring under it and is nothing but mud, besides a bridge that is bad and a low spot that is covered with water in the spring floods. The townships who care for these roads have no money to improve the roads and Mr. Williams said the state would not help them even though the bids were $85,000 under the allotted amount.

If you do not call the loss of fire protection, road conditions, and dividing a community undue hardships, I would like you to tell us what is.

You say the lake would provide the county with a major recreation facility and tie in with Gov. Rhodes program of making Ohio more wonderful. Take a drive out this way and see the beautiful land the Wildlife Division has acquired since 1956, it is mostly grown up with weeds and no proper care is taken of it. It was much more wonderful and beautiful when the farmers farmed it.

We'll also say if the lake were someplace else in the county and doing to a community what it is doing to Highlandtown the residents there would be taking the same steps we are.

We are not trying to stop the building of the lake, although if it is a question of the road or the lake, we want the road! We know as well as you that the state will build the lake now whether they have to build us a causeway or not.

They have planned too long for it and don't you think a nice causeway would beautify the lake? Bridges always do. We don't think we are asking for anything impossible.

(The above letter is signed by Mrs. Ross Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hays, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Curry Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Thorne, Mrs. Ella McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Witherow, Mr. and Mrs. John Witherow, Alice L. Danser, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stewart, Amy E. Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rose.)

French trains are carrying 20 per cent more passengers and 70 per cent more freight than before World War II. Because of technical innovations, however, France's national railway is doing the job with 150,000 fewer men.

Dear Truman Twill:

As a veteran world traveler, you might be interested in hearing about a couple of country mice who made a trip to the big-city New York World's Fair.

They went by bus, one night for the jaunt there, a day at the fair and home the next night—an all-night ride each way.

Well, Twill, you'd be surprised at the strange sights and experiences of a couple of country mice visiting their city cousins, so to speak.

The country mice, naturally, were more or less familiar with the barnyard animals displayed at the fair and amused by the ignorance of their city cousins.

The city mice stood around the cages and made remarks which showed they thought rabbits were guinea pigs, calves and goats were big dogs with funny feet and chickens were baby turkeys.

Laugh, they thought they'd die at the gullibility of the city hicks.

THE CITY MICE expressed concern for the safety of a bored girl nonchalantly reading a book inside a cage while tending a coyote puppy and wolf puppy who entertained onlookers by playing tug of war with a rag. Shucks, those pups wouldn't hurt a fly.

And, of course, there was the other side of the coin. The country mice were impressed by the hordes of hoods loitering about.

If you don't know how to recognize a hood when you see one, here is how you do it. He has a cigarette drooping from his lips, wears a silver-shiny suit with narrow cut pants, has his hands in his pockets and talks like a gangster.

Another thing which made their eyes bulge was Bourbon Street in the Louisiana state show. The old hometown was never like that, at least not the parts of the old hometown they lived in.

They thought at first they must have been in a hardware store, because the menu listed a "screwdriver." The waiter had a hard time explaining this to them, because he kept getting tangled up with whether this screwdriver made screws loose or tight.

It was just like the movies and TV, only in real life—or as real life as fairs ever are.

And the guys wore berets, beards, jeans, sandals, velvet sweat shirts and sported pipes. Wow!

A BLAZE listener to the tales of the country mice couldn't resist inquiring if Bourbon Street had a termite patron who asked, "Is the bar tender here?"

All of that was the light side of their first visit to a big city fair, but while the bohemian-type shows intrigued them they were equally impressed by the religious and church exhibits, mammoth automobile manufacturing displays and gimmicks and nationality shows.

At various times, you have held forth against the pressure on patrons to tip employees who serve them. You needn't worry too much.

The World's Fair staff had a bad day. The country mice feel the same way you do about tipping, only more so.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

House Father

By Truman Twill

When equal rights are mentioned, it's always females who are going to come up in the world.

Males are entitled to as many equal rights as females. That's what the law says. One day soon, when men realize what has happened while they were holding the door open for women, they will assert themselves.

In many fields of employment, ranging from scrubwomen to nursing, men are now frozen out.

Thousands of jobs in retail employment that men could perform as handily as women are monopolized by women. Why shouldn't men work at perfume counters in department stores if they want to? Why shouldn't they sell lingerie?

Take "Waitress Wanted" pleas of the resaurant owners. They're always wanting waitresses. Why don't they ever want waiters?

Taking into account that a third of the jobs in this country are held by women and most of them formerly were held by men and could be held by men now if the men had a chance, more fun is going to come out of outlawing sex as a basis of discrimination in employment than anyone can realize until the fun begins.

"I am here to apply for the vacancy in Upper Hall, whose 'house mother' quit at the end of the spring term," announces the kind-looking man to the stern-looking dean of women.

"But Upper Hall is a girl's dormitory," sputters stern-looking.

"I know that," says kind-looking. "Your former house mother in Upper Hall happens to be my wife. She quit because she is taking a job as trainer for the football team. When she told me about this, I realized I always had wanted to be a 'house mother,' in a manner of speaking.

"I have a strong brooding instinct. This came out strongly while our children were growing up. I was always clucking over them and gathering them around me. You either have it or you don't. Take my wife, for example. She's a nut on physical fitness. That's why she nailed the job as trainer for the football team. She's crazy about adhesive tape and rubbing compounds.

"This new law forbidding discrimination on account of sex in handing out jobs is a boon to natural aptitudes. When I was a school boy, we had a house mother in a men's dormitory. It made sense. There can be a house mother in a men's dormitory there can be a house father in a girl's dormitory. Well, now, can't there?

"Don't try to stare me down, lady. I know my rights. I am the best qualified applicant you have for the vacancy. Those other two guys you interviewed aren't even married. Furthermore, both of them lied about their age. They're younger than they were made up to be.

"Okay, then, so I get the job. Put it there, sweetie. We've got some great times ahead of us."

60 Grave Men Come To Dinner

By Victor Riesel

Some 60 very grave men left the White House at 10:30 p.m. last Tuesday.

They were labor and business leaders who had been invited to dine privately with the President in the State banquet room. They had not had much notice. Invitation had come by telephone the previous Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

Victor Riesel

These prominent men had come to discuss the nation's economy with the President and many of his Cabinet. But they also were briefed on the Viet Nam escalation by Defense Secretary McNamara.

When he had finished, some of the labor leaders present believed a crisis in Southeast Asia was imminent. They interpreted Secretary McNamara's report as far grimmer than anything they had yet heard or read in the public prints, and they are mighty well-informed men.

AT LEAST ONE of the labor men later told a friend that he thought the defense secretary's briefing meant that the U.S. "soon" would have 250,000 troops in and around South Viet Nam.

One uncommunicative labor chief muttered some thing that sounded like "We're losing there if heard right," and they did a sphinx.

Though many of the labor leaders in the state dining room had sharp disagreements with some of the government's leaders there, all the union chiefs pledged full support for the nation's foreign policies. George Meany, AFL-CIO president, in his hard and blunt fashion gave the backing of his movement's 13 million members.

After the President gave the floor to his guests, many of whom had flown in from across the land, the National Maritime Unions hardy leader, Joe Curran, took the floor. There was silence.

"BIG JOE" is a waterfront militant from away back. He put it succinctly. This was, and is, important, because he is one of the few such militants left of the old CIO leadership.

He urged strong action in South Viet Nam. Backing up President Johnson's dispatch of troops to take the fight to the Communist forces, Mr. Curran warned that this was imperative. He struck the Leninist theme that the road to Paris and control of Europe, and therefore the world, was through Peiping.

The NMU chief, a student of Leninist tactics, asserted that the Communists' strategy was Leninist—aimed at isolating America. Curran's thesis was to the effect that if this succeeded the U.S. could not survive.

Rarely has there been such unanimity among the labor leaders. Meany and Curran usually growl at each other.

THEIR UNITY on foreign policy is symbolic of the new fraternalism permeating the labor movement.

There is only one major dissenting voice among the nation's influential labor leaders. Oddly, that voice is the soft-spoken tone of Emil Mazey, who as secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers is second in command of that powerful union headed by Walter Reuther.

Time and again, Mazey has attacked President Johnson. His strongest assault on U.S. foreign policy was made at a huge mass meeting on May 15 in Detroit.

"I disagree completely and totally with President Johnson as to why we are in South Viet Nam," said Mazey.

"Johnson has said we are in South Viet Nam to preserve liberty and freedom, but there is no freedom, no liberty in South Viet Nam. . . ."

His have been the only blunt attacks in labor's upper echelons.

AT ONE POINT during Tuesday night's White House dinner, the President turned quiz-master.

"Where is my friend, Walter?" asked the President, searching out the 10 labor leaders, among whom was the Steelworkers' new president, I. W. Abel, on one of his rare visits to the White House. The reference, of course, was to Reuther. The Detroiter greeted the President.

But he did not speak—not on foreign or domestic issues. He was uncharacteristically silent.

Not long afterwards the men who came to dinner and briefing went out into the balmy capital night—far more disturbed than when they arrived.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Miss Helen Redinger of Salem and Miss Elise Hess of East Liverpool were successful Columbiana County applicants in a state civil service examination for appointment as investigators in the aid for the aged division.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Miss Eleanor Whitehill of Georgetown was awarded a four-year scholarship at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa.

Edward Gloss, former newspaperman and a native of Wellsville, was appointed director of information of the Regional War Labor Board at Cleveland.

Ruth A. Flowers of Edward Ave. was promoted to corporal as a WAC medical technician at Ashford General Hospital, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Helen Petrakis of Weirton was named Hancock County 4-H Club agent, replacing Mrs. Ruth McPherson.

People In News

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) —Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., has paid a return visit to Cooley Dickinson Hospital where he spent three weeks last year after suffering a broken back in a plane crash June 19.

This time the senator presented a scholarship fund Sunday to the school of nursing. It was announced that the fund is a memorial to Edward S. Moss, a Kennedy aide from Andover who was killed in the crash.

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — Helen Keller has celebrated her 85th birthday with a cake, a champagne toast and a close group of relatives and friends.

The celebration Sunday was a quiet one for the blind and deaf author who has devoted most of her lifetime to helping the handicapped.

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Bing Crosby crooned a few bars of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" as he led Meadow Court into the Irish Derby winner's circle at the Curragh Race Track.

He had reason to sing. Within hours after Crosby bought a one-third share in the horse, Meadow Court earned him $52,940 as his share of the $155,820 first prize money in Saturday's race.

Crosby bought the share from Canadian millionaire Max Bell. He wouldn't say what it cost him, but commented after the race, "I've got my money back now and more."

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — President Johnson's younger daughter, Luci, arrived in New Orleans Sunday and rode from the airport to her hotel with a young man she described as "a good friend."

His name was not disclosed.

Debt Cloud Overhead

By David Lawrence

It's Now Up In The Trillions

Amid the glowing statements now being broadcast by administration spokesmen predicting a continuing expansion of business, there is a conspicuous indifference to the trouble that can come from excesses in the field of credit.

David Lawrence

The average person isn't aware of the sensational rise in debts, private as well as public. In the last 20 years the total debt in America has gone from $434 billion to $1.3 trillion. That word "trillion" is soon going to describe private debt, too, which already is $882 billion—up 530 per cent since 1945.

It's unquestionably the rapid increase in borrowing by individuals and by business that has stimulated a postwar boom, which is now being described exultantly as an unending prosperity.

Ten years ago, personal debts were 41 per cent of the total income of individuals after taxes. Today these debts are 61 per cent of all individual incomes after taxes.

Walter E. Hoadley, a well-known economist and vice president of the Armstrong Cork Co., said in a recent speech that consumer credit has been "advancing at approximately twice the rate of income gains —a situation which cannot really be expected to persist too much longer without some temporary slowdown."

"IN FACT," he added, "in bank loans and consumer credit are now to be found some definite signs of excessive, and hence unsustainable, activity which portends some periods of correction and adjustment ahead."

Some unpalatable facts need to be stressed in order that corrective measures can be put into effect.

Frankness is more than ever essential, and there was a good example of it in an editorial in "The Wall Street Journal on Wednesday, which said:

"To put it bluntly, we are witnessing at home and abroad mounting evidence of the dangers of credit excess. When a big New York real estate firm heads for bankruptcy; when the largest credit union in Minnesota is being placed in receivership; when a number of banks around the country fail and a great many others put out shaky loans; when the pressures build for higher wages and prices—when all that is visible, we think it reasonable to conclude that there is quite a credit spillover in the domestic economy.

"Even officialdom is beginning to sense it. The government is trying to stick rocks in the stream in the form of lecturing bankers on sound credit practices and talking sternly to employers and unions about the desirability of wage-price stability.

"WHAT WASHINGTON money managers so far refuse to do is halt the swift creation of credit supply by enlarging member bank accounts in the Reserve Banks, and it does that chiefly by purchasing federal securities—with perennial federal budget deficits, there's always a growing supply of them around. Member commercial banks then can make loans in amounts six or more times as large as the sums added to their reserve Bank accounts. . . .

"In fact, businessmen who expand their operations mainly because money is cheap and plentiful are building the foundation for anything but a sound and lasting prosperity, as some of the recent collapses ought to suggest."

It would be a mistake to assume that either a recession or a depression is inevitable but it's by no means impracticable to heed the advice given by Chairman Martin of the Federal Reserve Board and other economists who feel that restraints must be applied.

THE FIRST RESTRAINT, of course, is not to exaggerate the nature of the current prosperity but to emphasize the simple fact that the whole credit system has been permitted to get somewhat out of hand through the granting of credits in many instances without applying sound guidelines. This is why the excess of optimism from official sources can only lead many people to take more chances by expanding loans far beyond the ability of the borrowers to pay.

The oldest rule of economics still applies—that continually to borrow money and run deficits in any business or in government is bound sooner or later to cause a series of events that can make it difficult to put into effect the corrective measures that are necessary. As the Federal Reserve Board chairman said recently about current thinking:

"While the spirit is willing, the flesh, in the form of concrete policies, has remained weak. With the best intentions, some experts seem resolved to ignore the lessons of the past."

Mr. Martin might have added that in a political atmosphere it's always difficult to apply restraints. Yet when these measures are finally initiated, they are more painful politically than if a bit of foresight had been courageously used, especially in keeping credit expansion from overreaching itself.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

In answer to your editorial in Saturday's Review "The Lake Could Be Lost" you, Mr. Editor, did not find out all of the facts.

You did not find out why we are opposing the vacating of these roads. Our main reason is Fire Protection. By losing this section of the Old Steubenville Rd. it leaves approximately 100 families with practically no protection. It will take trucks 20 minutes to a half hour longer to come around by the other route we are to use. In that time our church or a house or barn is beyond help.

Also the state is not giving us another two lane road out. They say the existing roads could be used, but they have not inspected them. The road to the east is mostly a one-lane dirt road with two bridges unsafe for much traffic. In the spring they are mud and in the winter snow covered and sometimes impassable. The road to the west is somewhat better.

Part of it is blacktopped, but one section has a spring under it and is nothing but mud, besides a bridge that is bad and a low spot that is covered with water in the spring floods. The townships who care for these roads have no money to improve the roads and Mr. Williams said the state would not help them even though the bids were $85,000 under the allotted amount.

If you do not call the loss of fire protection, road conditions, and dividing a community undue hardships, I would like you to tell us what is.

You say the lake would provide the county with a major recreation facility and tie in with Gov. Rhodes program of making Ohio more wonderful. Take a drive out this way and see the beautiful land the Wildlife Division has acquired since 1956, it is mostly grown up with weeds and no proper care is taken of it. It was much more wonderful and beautiful when the farmers farmed it.

We'll also say if the lake were someplace else in the county and doing to a community what it is doing to Highlandtown the residents there would be taking the same steps we are.

We are not trying to stop the building of the lake, although if it is a question of the road or the lake, we want the road! We know as well as you that the state will build the lake now whether they have to build us a causeway or not.

They have planned too long for it and don't you think a nice causeway would beautify the lake? Bridges always do. We don't think we are asking for anything impossible.

(The above letter is signed by Mrs. Ross Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hays, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Curry Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Thorne, Mrs. Ella McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Witherow, Mr. and Mrs. John Witherow, Alice L. Danser, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stewart, Amy E. Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rose.)

French trains are carrying 20 per cent more passengers and 70 per cent more freight than before World War II. Because of technical innovations, however, France's national railway is doing the job with 150,000 fewer men.

Algiers Conference Postponed

ALGIERS (AP) — Red China lost considerable face because the Asian-African conference was postponed despite vigorous Chinese insistence that it be held on schedule.

Communist China was forced to back down in the face of overwhelming sentiment against the meeting of chiefs of state this week in the tense Algerian capital.

The Chinese reluctantly joined the other delegates in voting unanimously Saturday to reschedule the meeting for Nov. 5 in Algiers. A preconference meeting of foreign ministers was set for Oct. 28.

The vote came a day after part of the conference building at the Club des Pins, 12 miles west of the city, was wrecked by a mysterious explosion. This and nightly demonstrations in Algiers against the ouster of President Ahmed Ben Bella prompted the delay.

Helmeted policemen, armed with tear gas grenades and submachine guns, were braced for further protests.

Leaflets were circulated calling for renewed demonstrations against the coup led by Col. Houari Boumedienne.

One group called for a general strike today. Another urged Ben Bella's supporters to bang saucepans on their balconies in a "casserole concert" of protest.

Foreign ministers and diplomats who came here for the Asian-African conference, tried to book air passage home.

One Asian diplomat observed that Red China had painted itself into a corner by going ahead with a high - pressure campaign for holding the conference on schedule.

For the Chinese, the conference represented desirable setting for propaganda blasts against the United States at a time when worldwide sentiment for peace talks on Viet Nam appeared to be growing. Peking has rebuffed all peace efforts.

The Chinese charged "imperialists and reactionaries" with obstructing and sabotaging the conference.

Premier Chou En-lai had flown to Cairo nine days ago in preparation for going on to Algiers. He had to content himself with a tiny summit conference with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Indonesian President Sukarno.

The three met for an hour and a quarter Sunday and scheduled more talks Tuesday. No statement was issued.

Study Pushed In Burglaries

LISBON — Deputies in Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan's office today are continuing investigation of four burglaries reported from widely - scattered parts of the county Saturday.

Lon Boggess of Dresden Ave., East Liverpool, reported that someone broke into his home and took a 22 caliber revolver, two boxes of shells, a transistor radio, bread and lunch meat sometime late Friday night. He listed the value at $75.

William Crawford of Yates Rd., off Depot Rd., south of Salem, reported someone entered his home and garage and took a reel-type mower, a roto-spader, a 20-inch bicycle, a wheelbarrow, an axe, a shovel, a hammer, a wrecking bar, brace and bit set, saw, nails and two wooden lawn chairs.

No forceful entry was discovered but the door could have been left unlocked or a skeleton key could have been used, deputies said.

The A. & N. Auto Parts office on Route 14, east of Columbiana, reported several conversion kits and miscellaneous tools were taken sometime Friday night or Saturday morning. The theft was reported at 10:37 a. m. Saturday.

Someone also broke into the home of Joe Post on Winona Rd., east of Depot Rd., and ransacked the house, but nothing was reported taken. The intruders broke a glass in the front door to gain entrance.

Cubs Get Prizes At Picnic Events

Prizes were awarded in games and races that highlighted the annual family picnic of Newell Cub Scout Pack 10 Friday night at Tomlinson Run State Park, near Pughtown.

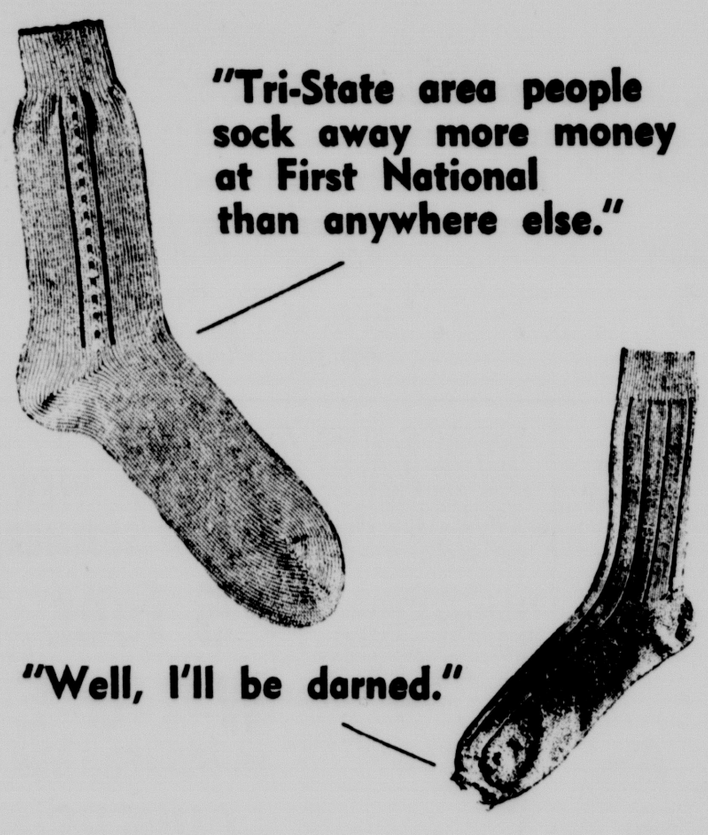

Miniature loving cups were awarded by Jack Durham to: Scott Carnahan, Danny Eckleberry, Mark Eckleberry, Joe Durham, Ricky Keller, Jimmy Dotson, Douglas Anderson, Steve Johnson, Gregg Steimen, Paul Minor, Gregg DeLong, Garry Mooney, Donnie DeLong and Bobby Desmond.

A candy scramble also was a feature. Norman Cox was in charge of entertainment, with Clarence Allison and Harley Freeman assisting.

A pinewood derby will be held July 10 at 2 p. m. at Clark field. Awards will be given for the neatest car, with two for the top winners. The public is invited. Refreshments will be provided. Art DeLong is Cubmaster.

"Well, I'll be darned."
Why? For three good reasons we think.
First, we have more offices, in more convenient locations. It's just plain easier for people to get started banking with us.
Second, people keep on banking with us. We think it's because they like the complete and personal service they get.
Third, the GUARANTEED INTEREST they get on FIRST NATIONAL SAVINGS CERTIFICATES — 4% yearly. And their investment is insured up to $10,000.00 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Algiers Conference Postponed

ALGIERS (AP) — Red China lost considerable face because the Asian-African conference was postponed despite vigorous Chinese insistence that it be held on schedule.

Communist China was forced to back down in the face of overwhelming sentiment against the meeting of chiefs of state this week in the tense Algerian capital.

The Chinese reluctantly joined the other delegates in voting unanimously Saturday to reschedule the meeting for Nov. 5 in Algiers. A preconference meeting of foreign ministers was set for Oct. 28.

The vote came a day after part of the conference building at the Club des Pins, 12 miles west of the city, was wrecked by a mysterious explosion. This and nightly demonstrations in Algiers against the ouster of President Ahmed Ben Bella prompted the delay.

Helmeted policemen, armed with tear gas grenades and submachine guns, were braced for further protests.

Leaflets were circulated calling for renewed demonstrations against the coup led by Col. Houari Boumedienne.

One group called for a general strike today. Another urged Ben Bella's supporters to bang saucepans on their balconies in a "casserole concert" of protest.

Foreign ministers and diplomats who came here for the Asian-African conference, tried to book air passage home.

One Asian diplomat observed that Red China had painted itself into a corner by going ahead with a high - pressure campaign for holding the conference on schedule.

For the Chinese, the conference represented desirable setting for propaganda blasts against the United States at a time when worldwide sentiment for peace talks on Viet Nam appeared to be growing. Peking has rebuffed all peace efforts.

The Chinese charged "imperialists and reactionaries" with obstructing and sabotaging the conference.

Premier Chou En-lai had flown to Cairo nine days ago in preparation for going on to Algiers. He had to content himself with a tiny summit conference with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Indonesian President Sukarno.

The three met for an hour and a quarter Sunday and scheduled more talks Tuesday. No statement was issued.

Study Pushed In Burglaries

LISBON — Deputies in Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan's office today are continuing investigation of four burglaries reported from widely - scattered parts of the county Saturday.

Lon Boggess of Dresden Ave., East Liverpool, reported that someone broke into his home and took a 22 caliber revolver, two boxes of shells, a transistor radio, bread and lunch meat sometime late Friday night. He listed the value at $75.

William Crawford of Yates Rd., off Depot Rd., south of Salem, reported someone entered his home and garage and took a reel-type mower, a roto-spader, a 20-inch bicycle, a wheelbarrow, an axe, a shovel, a hammer, a wrecking bar, brace and bit set, saw, nails and two wooden lawn chairs.

No forceful entry was discovered but the door could have been left unlocked or a skeleton key could have been used, deputies said.

The A. & N. Auto Parts office on Route 14, east of Columbiana, reported several conversion kits and miscellaneous tools were taken sometime Friday night or Saturday morning. The theft was reported at 10:37 a. m. Saturday.

Someone also broke into the home of Joe Post on Winona Rd., east of Depot Rd., and ransacked the house, but nothing was reported taken. The intruders broke a glass in the front door to gain entrance.

Cubs Get Prizes At Picnic Events

Prizes were awarded in games and races that highlighted the annual family picnic of Newell Cub Scout Pack 10 Friday night at Tomlinson Run State Park, near Pughtown.

Miniature loving cups were awarded by Jack Durham to: Scott Carnahan, Danny Eckleberry, Mark Eckleberry, Joe Durham, Ricky Keller, Jimmy Dotson, Douglas Anderson, Steve Johnson, Gregg Steimen, Paul Minor, Gregg DeLong, Garry Mooney, Donnie DeLong and Bobby Desmond.

A candy scramble also was a feature. Norman Cox was in charge of entertainment, with Clarence Allison and Harley Freeman assisting.

A pinewood derby will be held July 10 at 2 p. m. at Clark field. Awards will be given for the neatest car, with two for the top winners. The public is invited. Refreshments will be provided. Art DeLong is Cubmaster.

"Tri-State area people sock away more money at First National than anywhere else."

"Well, I'll be darned."

Why? For three good reasons we think.

First, we have more offices, in more convenient locations. It's just plain easier for people to get started banking with us.

Second, people keep on banking with us. We think it's because they like the complete and personal service they get.

Third, the GUARANTEED INTEREST they get on FIRST NATIONAL SAVINGS CERTIFICATES — 4% yearly. And their investment is insured up to $10,000.00 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

If you are not already a First National customer, we invite you to start tomorrow. It's the bank where you're most likely to see your neighbors.

Mrs. Jean Beaver of Dixonville will be hostess July 9.

Members of the Sweet Adelines, Inc. will sing during the afternoon activities at the Independence Day observance in Midland, July 5.

The group met Friday night at the Potters Savings and Loan annex for early rehearsal at 7:30 o'clock under the direction of Miss Norma Jones and regular rehearsal at 8 o'clock, with Mrs. Nancy Beaver, director, in charge.

Twenty-two attended, including two guests, Mrs. Ann Claypool and Miss Sharon Morrissey of Pittsburgh.

The next rehearsal will be Friday night.

Plans were completed to attend a performance at the Packard Playhouse in Warren, Aug. 7, with husbands as guests, at a meeting of the 108 Club Friday night at the home of Mrs. Carol Reed of Lisbon.

Two tables of 500 were in play, with prizes awarded Mrs. Helen Christen, Mrs. Virginia Burton and Mrs. Kathy Wolfe, who also received individual birthday gifts from the members. Mrs. Linda Males of Chester was a guest.

Hostess gifts were given to Mrs. Reed by the members.

Regular meetings will be discontinued during July and August, with Mrs. Burton of St. George St. the first member to entertain in the fall.

A workshop on the preserving of flowers highlighted the meeting of the East Liverpool Garden Club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Green of Calcutta.

The workshop, which also featured work on various flower arrangements, was under the supervision of Mrs. George White and Mrs. Dorothy Kountz.

During the afternoon, the members enjoyed an identification tour of the Green garden.

A brief business session was conducted by Mrs. John Keller, president, at which time Mrs. Leo C. Lawrence reported on a recent rummage sale.

Members made plans to visit the Youngstown Garden Center at Mill Creek Park July 23.

Mrs. Green served lunch, using a patriotic theme. Mrs. Anna Patterson assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Barbara Marsh of McCoy Ave. has concluded a two-week trip to Kempston, Bedsford, England, where she attended the wedding of her son, George W. Marsh Jr. on June 12.

The bride, the former Miss Gillian Sims is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sims of Kempston, Bedsford, England. The bridegroom is also the son of George Marsh of Garner Ave.

Mrs. Ola Weaver was elected councilor and Mrs. Mary Gilmore inside sentinel at a meeting of Pride of Valley, Daughters of America, Friday night at the Sons of Veterans Hall. Mrs. Anna Calhoon, retiring councilor, presided.

Mrs. Gilmore was received as a member, being transferred from Purity Lodge 7.

Officers, attired in white, will be installed July 9.

Plans were made for a rummage sale the week of July 19 at the Ewing Store in Chester. Proceeds will be used for lodge projects.

A report on the sick was presented. It included Mrs. Hazel Haney of Louisiana Ave., Chester, who is recuperating at her home from a recent fall.

The charter was draped for Mrs. Grace Duvall, who died Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Wines, Mrs. Ola Weaver and Mrs. Ethel Gleckner, trustees, will audit the books July 8 at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Wines of W. 5th St.

Members of the Sweet Adelines, Inc. will sing during the afternoon activities at the Independence Day observance in Midland, July 5.

The group met Friday night at the Potters Savings and Loan annex for early rehearsal at 7:30 o'clock under the direction of Miss Norma Jones and regular rehearsal at 8 o'clock, with Mrs. Nancy Beaver, director, in charge.

Twenty-two attended, including two guests, Mrs. Ann Claypool and Miss Sharon Morrissey of Pittsburgh.

The next rehearsal will be Friday night.

Plans were completed to attend a performance at the Packard Playhouse in Warren, Aug. 7, with husbands as guests, at a meeting of the 108 Club Friday night at the home of Mrs. Carol Reed of Lisbon.

Two tables of 500 were in play, with prizes awarded Mrs. Helen Christen, Mrs. Virginia Burton and Mrs. Kathy Wolfe, who also received individual birthday gifts from the members. Mrs. Linda Males of Chester was a guest.

Hostess gifts were given to Mrs. Reed by the members.

Regular meetings will be discontinued during July and August, with Mrs. Burton of St. George St. the first member to entertain in the fall.

A workshop on the preserving of flowers highlighted the meeting of the East Liverpool Garden Club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Green of Calcutta.

The workshop, which also featured work on various flower arrangements, was under the supervision of Mrs. George White and Mrs. Dorothy Kountz.

During the afternoon, the members enjoyed an identification tour of the Green garden.

A brief business session was conducted by Mrs. John Keller, president, at which time Mrs. Leo C. Lawrence reported on a recent rummage sale.

Members made plans to visit the Youngstown Garden Center at Mill Creek Park July 23.

Mrs. Green served lunch, using a patriotic theme. Mrs. Anna Patterson assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Barbara Marsh of McCoy Ave. has concluded a two-week trip to Kempston, Bedsford, England, where she attended the wedding of her son, George W. Marsh Jr. on June 12.

The bride, the former Miss Gillian Sims is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sims of Kempston, Bedsford, England. The bridegroom is also the son of George Marsh of Garner Ave.

Mrs. Ola Weaver was elected councilor and Mrs. Mary Gilmore inside sentinel at a meeting of Pride of Valley, Daughters of America, Friday night at the Sons of Veterans Hall. Mrs. Anna Calhoon, retiring councilor, presided.

Mrs. Gilmore was received as a member, being transferred from Purity Lodge 7.

Officers, attired in white, will be installed July 9.

Plans were made for a rummage sale the week of July 19 at the Ewing Store in Chester. Proceeds will be used for lodge projects.

A report on the sick was presented. It included Mrs. Hazel Haney of Louisiana Ave., Chester, who is recuperating at her home from a recent fall.

The charter was draped for Mrs. Grace Duvall, who died Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Wines, Mrs. Ola Weaver and Mrs. Ethel Gleckner, trustees, will audit the books July 8 at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Wines of W. 5th St.

Mary Elizabeth Parkinson Marries David M. Harris

MRS. DAVID HARRIS
Honeymooning In Puerto Rico.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Parkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Geer Parkinson of Fox Chapel, Pittsburgh, became the bride of David McKinley Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Allison Harris Jr. of Canton, former local residents, Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock in the Fox Chapel Episcopal Church, with the Rev. Harold E. Towne, rector, officiating.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white linen with Belgian lace accenting the neckline, sleeves, Empire Waistline and hemline. The fitted bodice was styled with a square neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves.

Miss Whit L. Harris, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and wore a cocktail-length gown of pale green linen fashioned in an A-line styling. A portrait neckline and Empire waistline highlighted the fitted bodice. Belgian lace was used on the sleeves and waistline.

The father served as his son's best man.

The newlyweds are honeymooning at Puerto Rico and Caneel Bay Plantation, Virgin Islands.

Mayor At Salineville Fines 2 On Fireworks

SALINEVILLE — Two men were fined for possession of firecrackers at a hearing Saturday before Mayor Stanley Fitch.

Robert Morgan of Mechanicstown and Roy Puckett of Salineville were fined $20 and costs each.

Morgan also was fined $50 and costs for disturbing the peace, but $25 of the fine was suspended. They were cited June 13, according to Police Chief Ray Keister.

Route 30 Crash Hurts Aliquippa Area Driver

Peter Fetchin of Aliquippa R. D. 2 was treated at City Hospital Sunday at 3:05 a. m. for lacerations of the nose and chin following a one-car crash on Pennsylvania Route 30, about a half-mile west of Laughlins Corners.

Fetchin apparently lost control of his auto after falling asleep at the wheel. The sedan left the road and struck a bridge abutment near Fox Lake. It was damaged heavily.

charge. The Rev. Richard C. Swogger, now of the Wintersville Church, was assigned to Carrollton.

The Rev. Clarence E. Achberger of the Carrollton Church was assigned to Mount Vernon to succeed Rev. Conway.

Rev. Clark, minister of the First Methodist Church since June 1961 will assume his new duties at St. Clairsville, July 4.

Rev. Conway's first sermon at the local church will also be July 4.

Rev. Clark, a native of Washington County, Pa., was graduated from East High School at Cleveland, where he resided as a youth and received the Th.B. degree from Malone College, now of Canton, an A.B. degree from Baldwin - Wallace College at Berea, and B.D. degree from the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, when it was the Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary.

Rev. Clark served at New Waterford for three years, at Saybrook five years and at Girard six years before going to the Ravenna church — the charge he served before coming to East Liverpool.

While here he was affiliated with the Ministerial Association, serving as a vice president, a member and director of the Kiwanis Club, director of the local Red Cross Chapter, spiritual adviser of the Senior Citizens Group and the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army.

New responsibilities for Rev. Clark will include duty as chairman of Cambridge District committee on evangelism, a member of the Conference planning committee and the Conference committee on evangelism, and the board of insurance.

Rev. Beck has been pastor of the Wellsville First Church since June 1959. He was graduated from Wesleyan College in 1951 with a bachelor of arts degree and from Wesley Theological Seminary at Washington, the former Westminster Seminary, in 1956 with a degree in bachelor of sacred theology.

He served the Union Grove charge at Cumberland, Md., during his seminary training. He is a veteran of World War II, serving about three years, including over two years in the European theater.

He is a member of the Wellsville Ministerial Association, and served as president of the group in 1963 and for the past two years he served as chairman of the Tri - State Chaplaincy Association.

of the chin and mouth and contusions and abrasions of the forearm.

WILLIAMS suffered multiple lacerations and contusions of the body and possible fractured ribs.

Cars operated by Toni Jean Gallatan, 17, of 419 E. Martin St., East Palestine, and Lewis Leombruno Jr., 25, of Youngstown were involved in a crash Saturday at 11:45 p. m. on County Rd. 421 at the north corporation limits of New Waterford.

Officers said Leombruno was southbound when he went left of center and hit the oncoming vehicle driven by the East Palestine girl. Leombruno failed to halt but was picked up later and charged with leaving the scene of an accident, the patrol said.

Three Salem men were injured when their car overturned on Route 172 two miles west of Guilford Lake Sunday at 6:45 p. m.

The 1964 sedan driven by John Leon Stanton, 22, of Salem was demolished, officers reported. He was cited for speed in excess of road conditions.

OFFICERS said Stanton lost control, went off the left side of the highway and struck an embankment. The car then overturned, coming to rest on its top.

Also injured were two passengers, Charles E. Hartell, 22, and David B. Mellinger, 22, both of Salem.

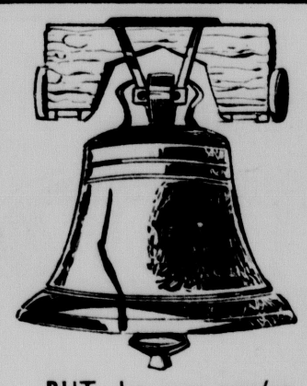

Herman Bowker, 52, of New Waterford R. D. 1 reported to the patrol his car was struck by another that failed to halt Sunday at 6:30 p. m. on Route 154 two and nine - tenths miles east of Route 7.

Bowker was making a left turn into a private drive. The other car, a 1959 Ford sedan with Pennsylvania license plates, rounded a curve, slid sideways and hit the Bowker vehicle, which was off the highway.

EXCISE TAX OFF

Good news for all consumers is the final reduction of the war-imposed Federal excise tax. As most women shoppers know, this consisted of a 10% levy on so-called "luxury" items like watches, handbags, cosmetics, furs, silver and jewelry. As you can doubtlessly recognize, the elimination of this tax offers you an immediate and definite saving of money.

If you have postponed watch, silver or jewelry purchases in anticipation of the reduction do come in and reaffirm your choices while our fine selection is in ample supply.

One of the most pleasing aspects about buying fine gems and other jewelry store merchandise is the knowledge that they will repay the purchaser many times in beauty and durability, while remaining a fine investment in pleasure for future generations. Nicest thought of all is that they now cost 10% less.

Mayor At Salineville Fines 2 On Fireworks

SALINEVILLE — Two men were fined for possession of firecrackers at a hearing Saturday before Mayor Stanley Fitch.

Robert Morgan of Mechanicstown and Roy Puckett of Salineville were fined $20 and costs each.

Morgan also was fined $50 and costs for disturbing the peace, but $25 of the fine was suspended. They were cited June 13, according to Police Chief Ray Keister.

Route 30 Crash Hurts Aliquippa Area Driver

Peter Fetchin of Aliquippa R. D. 2 was treated at City Hospital Sunday at 3:05 a. m. for lacerations of the nose and chin following a one-car crash on Pennsylvania Route 30, about a half-mile west of Laughlins Corners.

Fetchin apparently lost control of his auto after falling asleep at the wheel. The sedan left the road and struck a bridge abutment near Fox Lake. It was damaged heavily.

charge. The Rev. Richard C. Swogger, now of the Wintersville Church, was assigned to Carrollton.

The Rev. Clarence E. Achberger of the Carrollton Church was assigned to Mount Vernon to succeed Rev. Conway.

Rev. Clark, minister of the First Methodist Church since June 1961 will assume his new duties at St. Clairsville, July 4.

Rev. Conway's first sermon at the local church will also be July 4.

Rev. Clark, a native of Washington County, Pa., was graduated from East High School at Cleveland, where he resided as a youth and received the Th.B. degree from Malone College, now of Canton, an A.B. degree from Baldwin - Wallace College at Berea, and B.D. degree from the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, when it was the Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary.

Rev. Clark served at New Waterford for three years, at Savbrook five years and at Girard six years before going to the Ravenna church — the charge he served before coming to East Liverpool.

While here he was affiliated with the Ministerial Association, serving as a vice president, a member and director of the Kiwanis Club, director of the local Red Cross Chapter, spiritual adviser of the Senior Citizens Group and the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army.

New responsibilities for Rev. Clark will include duty as chairman of Cambridge District committee on evangelism, a member of the Conference planning committee and the Conference committee on evangelism, and the board of insurance.

Rev. Beck has been pastor of the Wellsville First Church since June 1959. He was graduated from Wesleyan College in 1951 with a bachelor of arts degree and from Wesley Theological Seminary at Washington, the former Westminster Seminary, in 1956 with a degree in bachelor of sacred theology.

He served the Union Grove charge at Cumberland, Md., during his seminary training. He is a veteran of World War II, serving about three years, including over two years in the European theater.

He is a member of the Wellsville Ministerial Association, and served as president of the group in 1963 and for the past two years he served as chairman of the Tri - State Chaplaincy Association.

of the chin and mouth and contusions and abrasions of the forearm.

WILLIAMS suffered multiple lacerations and contusions of the body and possible fractured ribs.

Cars operated by Toni Jean Gallatan, 17, of 419 E. Martin St., East Palestine, and Lewis Leombruno Jr., 25, of Youngstown were involved in a crash Saturday at 11:45 p. m. on County Rd. 421 at the north corporation limits of New Waterford.

Officers said Leombruno was southbound when he went left of center and hit the oncoming vehicle driven by the East Palestine girl. Leombruno failed to halt but was picked up later and charged with leaving the scene of an accident, the patrol said.

Three Salem men were injured when their car overturned on Route 172 two miles west of Guilford Lake Sunday at 6:45 p. m.

The 1964 sedan driven by John Leon Stanton, 22, of Salem was demolished, officers reported. He was cited for speed in excess of road conditions.

OFFICERS said Stanton lost control, went off the left side of the highway and struck an embankment. The car then overturned, coming to rest on its top.

Also injured were two passengers, Charles E. Hartell, 22, and David B. Mellinger, 22, both of Salem.

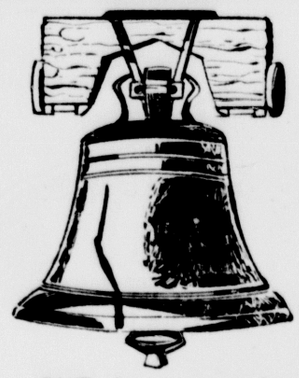

Herman Bowker, 52, of New Waterford R. D. 1 reported to the patrol his car was struck by another that failed to halt Sunday at 6:30 p. m. on Route 154 two and nine - tenths miles east of Route 7.

Bowker was making a left turn into a private drive. The other car, a 1959 Ford sedan with Pennsylvania license plates, rounded a curve, slid sideways and hit the Bowker vehicle, which was off the highway.

2 Forfeit In Lisbon

LISBON — Two motorists forfeited appearance bonds totaling $40 in Mayor Dean Stockman's court after being cited by village police. Thomas A. Kidder, 19, of R. D. 3 forfeited $25 for reckless operation and Richard E. Kruegel, 31, of North Olmstead, forfeited $15 for speeding.

EXCISE TAX OFF

Good news for all consumers is the final reduction of the war-imposed Federal excise tax. As most women shoppers know, this consisted of a 10% levy on so-called "luxury" items like watches, handbags, cosmetics, furs, silver and jewelry. As you can doubtlessly recognize, the elimination of this tax offers you an immediate and definite saving of money.

If you have postponed watch, silver or jewelry purchases in anticipation of the reduction do come in and reaffirm your choices while our fine selection is in ample supply.

One of the most pleasing aspects about buying fine gems and other jewelry store merchandise is the knowledge that they will repay the purchaser many times in beauty and durability, while remaining a fine investment in pleasure for future generations. Nicest thought of all is that they now cost 10% less.

Event Closes Bible Classes At Longs Run

Graduation exercises were held Friday night for the Vacation Bible School at Longs Run United Presbyterian Church.

The children's program was opened with prayer by Douglas Steebner. The Kindergarten, Primary and Junior groups recited Bible verses and sang action songs. The Lord's Prayer was illustrated by Terry Grimes, Beth Duffy, Kim Kennedy, Jill Mitcheson, Dennis Thompson, Donald Bangor, Jack Mitcheson, Gary Black, Barbara Hamilton and Jerry Osborne.

Penny Dutterer won the essay contest held by the Junior High class. Mrs. Lester Hickman, a missionary to Colombia, was presented the Foreign Mission Day offering by Barbara Fritz. Mrs. Hickman was a guest of the school on June 17. Barbara Hamilton presented the Home Mission Day offering to Mrs. Shirley Smith, Sunday School superintendent. The offering will be used to purchase a blackboard for the church.

The offering to meet school expenses was received by David McVay, T. H. Fisher, Rita Dunn and Sherrie Steebner. Tom Echols gave the offertory prayer. The Rev. Joseph H. Schultz, director of the Greater Canton Youth for Christ, was guest speaker. He illustrated his talk with magic feats. Dawn Dutterer closed the program with prayer. Robert Black and Reed Lencse were ushers.

The children's handicraft work was displayed in the social rooms of the church. Bible verse awards and attendance awards were received by the children. The teachers received tokens of appreciation from the director, Mrs. Louise Lencse. Candy Fisher and Joe Larkins presented Mrs. Lencse a gift from the school's staff.

On Friday morning, a picnic lunch was held. A total of 129 children were enrolled in the school, with average daily attendance of 113. The teaching staff was:

Mrs. Ruth Kennedy, projectionist; Mrs. Olive Dutterer, Mrs. Maude Shepherd and Mrs. Kay Smith, refreshments; Mrs. Dorothy Greenwood and Miss Candy Dunn, pianists; Mrs. Frieda Graebing, music director; Mrs. Maude Dunn, kindergarten superintendent; Misses Nancy Holden, Penny Dutterer, Jane Dunn and Becky Graebing, kindergarten teachers.

Misses Marilyn Osborne, Pat Graebing, Vivian Palmer and Paula Graebing, nursery department; Mrs. Marilyn Cowan, Mrs. Virginia Maple, Misses Susan Gongaware, Janice Barker and Becky Smith, grade one; Mrs. Nellie Echols, superintendent of Primary and Junior Departments; Mrs. Olive Grove and Miss Linda Fisher, grade two; Mrs. Shirley Smith and Mrs. Marie Savors, grade three.

Mrs. Ethel Black and Mrs. Martha Mitcheson, grade four; Mrs. Ruth Dunn, Mrs. Margaret Duffy and Mrs. Lois Burris, grade five; Mrs. Doris Thompson and Mrs. Wanda O'Hanlon, grade six; and Mrs. Betty Dunn, Junior High.

The Rev. Russell Shepherd is pastor.

Rescue Mission Burns Mortgage

Eighty attended a mortgage - burning ceremony Sunday afternoon that marked the lifting of debt on the Community Rescue Mission building on Broadway.

The fund campaign began in 1961 to liquidate the debt on the brick structure, purchased in October 1958.

The Rev. C. Donald Vogel, pastor of the Chester First United Presbyterian Church, was the guest speaker. Remarks were given by Mayor Merrill Hall, the Rev. Gene Toot, co-pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, representing the East Liverpool Ministerial Association; Mrs. Grace Lawrence, president of the auxiliary of the Rescue Mission, and Mrs. Phyllis Marshall, Bible Club director.

Roland Edgar recognized the past and present board members and Carl Mansfield, superintendent, introduced the auxiliary officers.

Special music was presented by the Tri-State Choraliers, under the direction of Dan Henderson. The welcome address was given by Delmas Sanford; Scripture reading, James Sayre; opening prayer, William Parsons, and benediction, William Rae.

Refreshments and a tour of the mission followed the service.

Palestine Youth Tours Japan As Glee Club Singer

EAST PALESTINE — Fred H. Johnson Jr., 560 N. Sumner St., is visiting Japan as a member of the 58-voice Yale Glee Club which is making a round-the-world concert tour.

During 10 concerts in Japan, the Yale men will be joined by 33 Japanese singing groups. The Yale group will continue to Hong Kong, Thailand, Malaysia, India, Russia and Sweden before returning home Aug. 18.

One of the trip's highlights will be a royal command performance in Bangkok, where the glee club's program will include songs written by the King of Thailand. The Yale men prepared for their first trip to the Orient and around - the - world with a series of lectures by faculty members on the Yale campus.

The theme of the trip is "People to People Through Music". In a number of countries the young singers will stay in local homes and their concerts will include local songs.

Informal concerts, which include explanations and examples of American folk music, have been scheduled by the Yale group at universities they will visit in countries along their route.

New Hampshire was the first state to declare its independence from Great Britain.

City Residents Named For Girls' State Posts

Two East Liverpool girls returned home Sunday following a week's stay at Buckeye Girls' State in Columbus, where both held offices.

Miss Pamela Sue Archer, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Archer, 1263 Erie St., held the office of fire chief and was a member of the Nationalist Party. Miss Archer, a junior at East Liverpool High School, was sponsored by American Legion Post 374.

Miss Cynthia Ann Smith, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Smith of Sprucevale Rd., was the water commissioner. She belonged to the Federalist Party.

She was sponsored by the American Legion Post in Glenmoor and is a junior at Beaver Local High School.

1st Church Of Christ Renovation Approved

The congregation of the First Church of Christ voted approval of a remodeling program during the worship service Sunday morning.

The project, which is expected to begin sometime in July, will include the remodeling of the Sunday School class rooms and the sanctuary. It is expected to be completed in about five months.

Glenn W. Hall is chairman of the building committee. The general contractor will be the Potters Construction Co.

Rescue Mission Burns Mortgage

Eighty attended a mortgage - burning ceremony Sunday afternoon that marked the lifting of debt on the Community Rescue Mission building on Broadway.

The fund campaign began in 1961 to liquidate the debt on the brick structure, purchased in October 1958.

The Rev. C. Donald Vogel, pastor of the Chester First United Presbyterian Church, was the guest speaker. Remarks were given by Mayor Merrill Hall, the Rev. Gene Toot, co-pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, representing the East Liverpool Ministerial Association; Mrs. Grace Lawrence, president of the auxiliary of the Rescue Mission, and Mrs. Phyllis Marshall, Bible Club director.

Roland Edgar recognized the past and present board members and Carl Mansfield, superintendent, introduced the auxiliary officers.

Special music was presented by the Tri-State Choraliers, under the direction of Dan Henderson. The welcome address was given by Delmas Sanford; Scripture reading, James Sayre; opening prayer, William Parsons, and benediction, William Rae.

Refreshments and a tour of the mission followed the service.

Palestine Youth Tours Japan As Glee Club Singer

EAST PALESTINE — Fred H. Johnson Jr., 560 N. Sumner St., is visiting Japan as a member of the 58-voice Yale Glee Club which is making a round-the-world concert tour.

During 10 concerts in Japan, the Yale men will be joined by 33 Japanese singing groups. The Yale group will continue to Hong Kong, Thailand, Malaysia, India, Russia and Sweden before returning home Aug. 18.

One of the trip's highlights will be a royal command performance in Bangkok, where the glee club's program will include songs written by the King of Thailand. The Yale men prepared for their first trip to the Orient and around - the - world with a series of lectures by faculty members on the Yale campus.

The theme of the trip is "People to People Through Music". In a number of countries the young singers will stay in local homes and their concerts will include local songs.

Informal concerts, which include explanations and examples of American folk music, have been scheduled by the Yale group at universities they will visit in countries along their route.

New Hampshire was the first state to declare its independence from Great Britain.

City Residents Named For Girls' State Posts

Two East Liverpool girls returned home Sunday following a week's stay at Buckeye Girls' State in Columbus, where both held offices.

Miss Pamela Sue Archer, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Archer, 1263 Erie St., held the office of fire chief and was a member of the Nationalist Party. Miss Archer, a junior at East Liverpool High School, was sponsored by American Legion Post 374.

Miss Cynthia Ann Smith, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Smith of Sprucevale Rd., was the water commissioner. She belonged to the Federalist Party.

She was sponsored by the American Legion Post in Glenmoor and is a junior at Beaver Local High School.

1st Church Of Christ Renovation Approved

The congregation of the First Church of Christ voted approval of a remodeling program during the worship service Sunday morning.

The project, which is expected to begin sometime in July, will include the remodeling of the Sunday School class rooms and the sanctuary. It is expected to be completed in about five months.

Glenn W. Hall is chairman of the building committee. The general contractor will be the Potters Construction Co.

compound 10 miles north of the 17th parallel.

Four U.S. Navy Skyhawk pilots reported they destroyed or damaged 10 barges, a foot bridge and a highway bridge 80 to 100 miles south of Hanoi.

Four Navy Skyraider pilots reported they attacked a bridge 180 miles south of Hanoi and damaged or destroyed seven railroad boxcars.

All planes operations were reported to have returned safely. But a U.S. spokesman reported that one U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk went down over North Viet Nam Friday and the pilot was missing.

It was not known whether the pilot was killed or captured.

Three U.S. airmen were wounded early today when the Viet Cong fired mortar shells into the Nha Trang Air Base, 200 miles northeast of Saigon, U.S. spokesman reported. Six Vietnamese soldiers also were wounded, a Vietnamese helicopter was destroyed, two others were damaged and a U.S. Air Force C123 was damaged, U.S. spokesmen said.

U.S. warplanes flew through overcast early today to strike 16 times against the district capital of Toumorong, held by the Viet Cong since Saturday, U.S. military spokesmen said.

Delayed previously by bad weather, Air Force B57s and Marine Corps Phantom jets destroyed one of two 105mm howitzers the Communist guerrillas captured when they overran Toumorong, in the central highlands, the spokesman said. The other gun was damaged, they added.

The howitzers were the first field pieces of such size known to be in the hands of the Viet Cong.

The town's 120 defending militiemen were presumed either killed or captured.

Vietnamese relief forces apparently were held back because of the danger of ambush to convoys traveling to the remote region 290 miles north of Saigon and unsuitable flying conditions for helicopters.

Only one road — a muddy, winding trail — connects Toumorong with the nearest center of government strength, Kontum, 30 miles to the south.

The Viet Cong also was believed regrouping for another attack on Duc Hoa, 20 miles west of Saigon. The Communists overran that village Saturday. But the retreating government troops counterattacked and the Viet Cong withdrew.

In other ground action:

Two U.S. Army advisers were reported wounded, one Vietnamese soldier killed and two other government defenders wounded in an attack on the Nghia Hanh district headquarters 40 miles south of Da Nang.

Viet Cong losses were not known, but U.S. spokesmen said a number of enemy dead were seen from the air.

Within 90 minutes after the initial attack, two U.S. Air Force B57s from Da Nang pounded the guerrilla positions with bombs and rockets and sent the enemy fleeing into the jungles, the spokesmen said.

South Vietnamese troops with U.S. air support killed seven Viet Cong provincial and local officials in a helicopter-borne raid on the Mekong Delta village of Tan Hiep 35 miles south of Saigon. U.S. informants called it the biggest single bag of Viet Cong officials in the war.

They said 24 other Viet Cong were slain and 29 were taken prisoner. South Vietnamese officers estimated that the Viet Cong carried off another 50 dead. A Viet Cong hospital also was reported destroyed.

The dead Viet Cong officials included the provincial chief, the American informants said.

They said the Vietnamese 7th Division ordered the raid after receiving intelligence reports of the meeting.

In the air war Sunday 68 U.S. warplanes struck at ammunition dumps, bridges, highways and military compounds within North Viet Nam, a spokesman said.

Deputy Chairman Huynh Tan Phat of the Viet Cong Central Committee was quoted in the current issue of Life magazine as saying the Communists "intend to step up terrorism and to continue it until every single American is out of the country. No American in Saigon is safe."

Phat also was reported as saying that the Viet Cong "is through with hit and run. Now we will attack in force to wipe out whole enemy units. These attacks will work well in the monsoon."

Phat was interviewed by Akihiko Okamura, a Japanese photographer who was held prisoner for 53 days by the Viet Cong. He was sent into Communist territory by Life.

Okamura said Phat accurately predicted last Friday's terrorist bombing of a Saigon restaurant in which 23 died.

The Saigon police claimed they had cracked a Viet Cong propaganda cell operating in downtown Saigon. Police sources said a 21-year-old high school student was arrested and implicated 24 others who were being questioned.

render to the Republican cause."

Bliss noted he has had only 89 days in which to reorganize the party lineup since succeeding Dean Burch, who served as chairman under Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential nominee.

The chairman said nothing about his action in firing William Cody Kelly, longtime political associate who was his chief aide, for rummaging through the desk of finance director Frank J. Kovac.

Kelly, who said he was looking for evidence that Kovac was serving as a Goldwater spy, claimed the chairman first praised him for his nocturnal activity and then accepted his resignation for it. Bliss was silent on this, dismissing the while incident as an "internal problem" that had been solved.

Goldwater's action in setting up a new Free Society Association dedicated to "enlightening the word 'conservative'," appeared to have caused some concern among Republican leaders who feared such independent groups might cloud party policy and drain off contributions.

Goldwater has said his organization would need about $100,000 annually but in the long run would save the party money. But some party leaders had doubts about whether such groups would help or harm the national party organization.

A cross-section survey by The Associated Press turned up these opinions:

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania: "I don't approve of breaking up or proliferating the Republican party's cause. I've never joined any of the moderate groups that started up. I've never been a participant in them because I belive the party needs unity and needs everybody in it. I do not feel that in the long run the so-called 'splinter' group will help the Republican cause."

Maroney said the two guards, Sgt. John R. Waltz, 57, and Joseph Ferrara, 38, were not abused during the 90-minute rebellion. He said, however, that "the prisoners threatened to kill them."

The other two inmates involved were Dominick Codispodi, 35, doing a 2 ½ to 10-year term for robbery in Philadelphia, and Herbert F. Langes, 25, who was doing 5 to 10 years for robbery with violence in Lancaster County, Pa.

GIRAFFE STEAK IS FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Because many African nations are faced with both overpopulation and inefficient farming methods, scientists have suggested using game animals as a source of protein. Their studies have shown that some wild animals are more resistant to disease and provide more edible meat per pound than domestic cattle. The study of food and population is just another way modern science serves you.

came out with their hands up and surrendered without a struggle.

Maroney said the two guards, Sgt. John R. Waltz, 57, and Joseph Ferrara, 38, were not abused during the 90-minute rebellion. He said, however, that "the prisoners threatened to kill them."

The other two inmates involved were Dominick Codispodi, 35, doing a 2 ½ to 10-year term for robbery in Philadelphia, and Herbert F. Langes, 25, who was doing 5 to 10 years for robbery with violence in Lancaster County, Pa.

GIRAFFE STEAK IS FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Because many African nations are faced with both overpopulation and inefficient farming methods, scientists have suggested using game animals as a source of protein. Their studies have shown that some wild animals are more resistant to disease and provide more edible meat per pound than domestic cattle. The study of food and population is just another way modern science serves you.

Student Unrest Termed Promising By Educator

By G. K. HODENFIELD

NEW YORK (AP) — Much of the student unrest and discontent sweeping college campuses is an encouraging phenomenon, but it must be guided and controlled by the faculties, a Harvard professor said today.

Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, director of Harvard University's health services, said "impatience with injustice" is an attribute which we should try to develop and encourage in our students. But such impatience should not be so impulsive as to be destructive of individuals or ideas."

Farnsworth, in an address prepared for the annual convention of the National Education Association, said student rebellion can be channeled into constructive lines if the college administration and faculty treat students with scrupulous fairness and consistency and listen to their complaints, no matter how trivial.

Another speaker, President E. K. Fretwell of the Association for Higher Education, suggested that student leaders be given a greater role in helping to run the colleges and universities.

They have proven their ability in the Peace Corps, the civil rights movement and other organized causes, Fretwell said in a prepared address.

"Why not tap some of this energy, this dedication, this young-man-and-woman power to do the most important collegiate thing of all: organizing and fostering the teaching-learning process,?" he asked.

Fretwell, dean for academic development of the City University of New York, said, "In the matter of judgment, sometimes in terms of practical idealism and just good sense, student groups have shown themselves considerably ahead of adults."

Farnsworth noted that the older generation has always found much to criticize in youth, but he said "the present situation probably calls for even more concern than usual."

He made these points:

"For the most part, our present-day students have never had to contend with the implacable conditions generated by extreme poverty, drought, plagues or economic depression.

"Millions of our young people are growing up under conditions in which they see little hope or meaning to their future.

"Our young people have heard much more discussion of their rights than of their responsibilities.

"Many students think of a college degree as a means of increasing their earning power or as a means of access to professional schools."

Even so, Farnsworth said, "the young are basically idealistic if given a reasonable opportunity."

The NEA's 103rd annual convention opened Sunday with an announcement that a million-dollar fund drive will be launched to help Negro teachers in the South who have lost their jobs because of school desegregation.

City Woman Injured In Wellsville Mishap

A city woman was injured when the car in which she was riding was struck from behind in a three-car accident Saturday at 4:10 p. m. at the intersection of Routes 7 and 39 in Wellsville.

Police said a car operated by Angelo Infanti, 1307 Main St., Wellsville, hit the rear of another operated by Carol Zarhndt of Vandergrift, Pa., forcing it into the rear of another driven by David Bayer, 934½ Lisbon St., East Liverpool.

Mrs. Nina Bayer, a passenger in her husband's car, was treated at City Hospital for a sprained neck. The Zarhndt woman suffered neck and arm injuries, but apparently was not treated. Infanti was cited for reckless operation, police said.

The pine tree is the principle source of turpentine.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. John Link

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. John (Anna) Link of Gelsenkirchen, Germany, mother of Fred A. Link of Oakmont. She died June 21 following a long illness.

Mrs. Link and her late husband, who died in 1956, visited here on several occasions. Mrs. Link's last trip was in 1962 when she was 82.

She leaves two other sons, John Link and Hugo Link, both of Donora, Pa., two daughters, Mrs. Louise Guder, with whom she resided, and Mrs. Ernest Vornfett of New York City, four grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Barbara Lucas

Mrs. Barbara Anderson Lucas, 327 Maxwell Ave., Chester, widow of Dominic Lucas, died Sunday at 7:10 p. m. at City Hospital after a brief illness. She was 94.

Mrs. Lucas was born in Lithuania, Oct. 29, 1870, and she came to the United States in 1900. She resided 7½ years in Chester with a daughter, Mrs. Ann Cochran. Her husband died in 1932.

Survivors include two other daughters, Mrs. Charles (Mary) Lucas of St. Cloud, Fla., and Mrs. John (Frances) Martin of Las Vegas, Nev.; a son, Thomas Lucas of Lisbon R. D. 1, seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

A Requiem High Mass will be sung Wednesday at 9 a. m. at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Chester by Fr. Eugene Jacobs. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel tonight and Tuesday afternoon and evening. The Rosary will be recited at the Chapel Tuesday at 7 p. m.

Mrs. C. B. Applegate

Mrs. Gertrude M. Applegate, 1028 Oliver St., widow of Charles B. Applegate, died this morning at 12:15 at City Hospital after a brief illness. She was 91.

A retired teacher, Mrs. Applegate was born in New Castle Aug. 1, 1873, to the late Mr. and Mrs. James McKinley. She lived here for 58 years. A graduate of Grove City College, Meadville, Pa., she was a member of the First Church of Christ and its Bethany Class, where she taught for several years. Her husband died April 17, 1951.

She leaves two sons, Earl M. Applegate and Lawrence Applegate, both of East Liverpool; two daughters, Mrs. Edward Hohman of Pittsburgh and Mrs. William Lowe of Ontario, Calif., 10 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. E. C. Traylor. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday.

it confined to geographic, or scio-economic groups?"

When this survey proved inconclusive, others were organized:

—Fifty victims were closely studied, but they had nothing in common, not even water—two were infants, one on bottled water, the other on boiled water

—Occupants of 1,600 households — 6,000 persons — were personally interviewed with the hope of finding whether the incidence of sickness built up slowly. "Or, on one morning, was everybody hit by it?" Hertz asked.

This survey, Hertz said, revealed that the buildup began shortly after May 21.

As results of these surveys were being analyzed, so were samples of water from the city's deep well system, which provides almost 98 per cent of the city's drinking water.

Then, on June 2, the breakthrough: A salmonella organism was found in the water.

"That was the common denominator we had been looking for—water," Hertz said. "We started chlorinating immediately."

The city still is chlorinating, and investigators still are checking the city's water system.

Actor Cochran's Death Laid To Lung Infection

GUATEMALA (AP) —The death of film actor Steve Cochran, 48, aboard his schooner at sea off Guatemala was attributed today to an acute lung infection.

Dr. Abel Giron said the lung infection caused paralysis.

Cochran's body was aboard his 40-foot schooner Rogue, towed into the Guatemalan port of Champerico Saturday. Also aboard were three Mexican women who said the actor died June 15 after he became paralyzed and could move only his head.

The women were identified as Eva Montero Castellanos, 25, a seamstress; Eugenia Bautista Zacarias, 19, a laundress, and Lorenze Infante de laRosa, 14.

The girls told authorities in Champerico that Cochran hired them in Acapulco, Mexico, at the beginning of June to work as maids and helpers aboard the boat. They left Acapulco June 3 en route down the Pacific Coast to Costa Rica.

A bad storm June 12-13 damaged the foremast and stopped the engines. Cochran fixed the mast but soon after complained of pains in his legs which later spread to his chest, arms and head, the girls said.

The actor took to his cabin and his fever began to rise.

physical examinations they underwent.

"It was a different experience, all right," he said Sunday. "It took over a week and they just tested everything five different ways."

Approximately 25 candidates reportedly took the rigid tests at Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio.

National Aeronautic and Space Administration officials would not confirm the number of finalists. Previously they said they had received 1,500 applications or expressions of interest by the end of last year.

One of the six selected, Dr. Duane E. Graveline, who is scheduled to resign today his post in the Aerospace Medical Division at Brooks Air Force Base, said in San Antonio Sunday the moon is like an "unclimbed mountain."

"It's there," he said. "Somebody's going to climb it."

Graveline has done research on weightlessness.

Michel, 31, said he also had looked forward to getting into the program. He has always been interested in space, and read such science fiction as Buck Rogers and Flash Gordon "Just like all the other kids."

Current plans do not call for a scientist on the first flight of the three-man Apollo, which is at least four years away.

A physicist, Michel is known for his research on solar winds. He was born in La Crosse, Wis., and lives in Houston with his wife and son.

Graveline, 34, is a native of Newport, Vt. He is married and has four children.

The other four are:

Dr. Owen K. Garriott, 34, an electronics engineer and associate professor at Stanford University. Born in Enid, Okla. married and the father of three sons.

Dr. Edward G. Gibson, 28, a physicist with a Ford Motor Co. subsidiary in Newport Beach, Calif. born in Buffalo, N.Y. married and has four children.

Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin, 33, a Navy flight surgeon stationed at Jacksonville, Fla. He is the other one with jet experience. Born in Oak Park, Ill. married and has a daughter.

Dr. Harrison Schmitt, 29, a geologist with the U.S. Geological Survey in Flagstaff, Ariz. Born in Santa Rita, N. M.

main — one of determination to end the war at the earliest possible time by a negotiated settlement involving major concessions by both sides."

He did not specify what these concessions were, but said one possible term of settlement might be acceptance of the 1954 Geneva accords "in all their specifications."

Fulbright's Senate speech came one day after he had conferred with President Johnson. The senator later said that Johnson asked him only to detail administration efforts to achieve negotiations.

Speaking on the program with Dirksen, House Republican Leader Gerald Ford said:

"The United States could not agree today — any more than in 1956 — to legitimatizing Communist control of all of Viet Nam by the device of a Communist - style election.

"The Eisenhower administration labored to build out of the chaos in South Viet Nam a durable economy, a progressive social order and military strength. That it achieved a considerable measure of success was attested to by several of Senator Fulbright's colleagues."

In weekend developments revolving around the Viet Nam war:

— Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said if a vote were taken in the United Nations now it would conclude that U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam "was a mistake."

Paul Blair, rookie outfielder with the Baltimore Orioles, stole 34 bases in 45 attempts with Elmira in the Eastern League in 1964.

Driver Fined For Speeding

One Wellsville motorist was fined and the hearing for another was continued until mid-July at traffic hearings today in Municipal Court.

Atlee Alexander Martin, 342 Broadway, drew a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 70 in a 60-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Road. Martin was cited Sunday at 7:10 p. m. by the State Highway Patrol.

Peter A. Russell, 957 Main St., was released on his own recognizance for a hearing July 19 after pleading innocent to a charge of speeding 42 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St.

Russell was cited June 21 in a radar check, city police said.

George Hornick, 1743 Etruria St., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a traffic signal at E. 5th and Washington Sts. at 12:20 a. m. Sunday.

Two Wellsville motorists are scheduled for hearings Tuesday after being cited by the patrol Saturday.

McArthur Coleman, 1113 White St., is accused of crashing a trafic signal at the junction of Routes 7 and 45 in Wellsville at 6 a. m. The patrol said an officer was following Coleman north when he crashed the light, which was red for 50 feet before he entered the intersection.

Leonard Harold Hawkins, 708 Wood St., was cited for speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone Saturday at 4:10 p. m. on the East Liverpool - Wellsville road.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. John Link

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. John (Anna) Link of Gelsenkirchen, Germany, mother of Fred A. Link of Oakmont. She died June 21 following a long illness.

Mrs. Link and her late husband, who died in 1956, visited here on several occasions. Mrs. Link's last trip was in 1962 when she was 82.

She leaves two other sons, John Link and Hugo Link, both of Donora, Pa., two daughters, Mrs. Louise Guder, with whom she resided, and Mrs. Ernest Vornfett of New York City, four grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Barbara Lucas

Mrs. Barbara Anderson Lucas, 327 Maxwell Ave., Chester, widow of Dominic Lucas, died Sunday at 7:10 p. m. at City Hospital after a brief illness. She was 94.

Mrs. Lucas was born in Lithuania, Oct. 29, 1870, and she came to the United States in 1900. She resided 7½ years in Chester with a daughter, Mrs. Ann Cochran. Her husband died in 1932.

Survivors include two other daughters, Mrs. Charles (Mary) Lucas of St. Cloud, Fla., and Mrs. John (Frances) Martin of Las Vegas, Nev.; a son, Thomas Lucas of Lisbon R. D. 1, seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

A Requiem High Mass will be sung Wednesday at 9 a. m. at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Chester by Fr. Eugene Jacobs. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel tonight and Tuesday afternoon and evening. The Rosary will be recited at the Chapel Tuesday at 7 p. m.

Mrs. C. B. Applegate

Mrs. Gertrude M. Applegate, 1028 Oliver St., widow of Charles B. Applegate, died this morning at 12:15 at City Hospital after a brief illness. She was 91.

A retired teacher, Mrs. Applegate was born in New Castle Aug. 1, 1873, to the late Mr. and Mrs. James McKinley. She lived here for 58 years. A graduate of Grove City College, Meadville, Pa., she was a member of the First Church of Christ and its Bethany Class, where she taught for several years. Her husband died April 17, 1951.

She leaves two sons, Earl M. Applegate and Lawrence Applegate, both of East Liverpool; two daughters, Mrs. Edward Hohman of Pittsburgh and Mrs. William Lowe of Ontario, Calif., 10 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. E. C. Traylor. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday.

it confined to geographic, or scio-economic groups?"

When this survey proved inconclusive, others were organized:

—Fifty victims were closely studied, but they had nothing in common, not even water—two were infants, one on bottled water, the other on boiled water

—Occupants of 1,600 households — 6,000 persons — were personally interviewed with the hope of finding whether the incidence of sickness built up slowly. "Or, on one morning, was everybody hit by it?" Hertz asked.

This survey, Hertz said, revealed that the buildup began shortly after May 21.

As results of these surveys were being analyzed, so were samples of water from the city's deep well system, which provides almost 98 per cent of the city's drinking water.

Then, on June 2, the breakthrough: A salmonella organism was found in the water.

"That was the common denominator we had been looking for—water," Hertz said. "We started chlorinating immediately."

The city still is chlorinating, and investigators still are checking the city's water system.

Actor Cochran's Death Laid To Lung Infection

GUATEMALA (AP) —The death of film actor Steve Cochran, 48, aboard his schooner at sea off Guatemala was attributed today to an acute lung infection.

Dr. Abel Giron said the lung infection caused paralysis.

Cochran's body was aboard his 40-foot schooner Rogue, towed into the Guatemalan port of Champerico Saturday. Also aboard were three Mexican women who said the actor died June 15 after he became paralyzed and could move only his head.

The women were identified as Eva Montero Castellanos, 25, a seamstress; Eugenia Bautista Zacarias, 19, a laundress, and Lorenze Infante de laRosa, 14.

The girls told authorities in Champerico that Cochran hired them in Acapulco, Mexico, at the beginning of June to work as maids and helpers aboard the boat. They left Acapulco June 3 en route down the Pacific Coast to Costa Rica.

A bad storm June 12-13 damaged the foremast and stopped the engines. Cochran fixed the mast but soon after complained of pains in his legs which later spread to his chest, arms and head, the girls said.

The actor took to his cabin and his fever began to rise.

physical examinations they underwent.

"It was a different experience, all right," he said Sunday. "It took over a week and they just tested everything five different ways."

Approximately 25 candidates reportedly took the rigid tests at Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio.

National Aeronautic and Space Administration officials would not confirm the number of finalists. Previously they said they had received 1,500 applications or expressions of interest by the end of last year.

One of the six selected, Dr. Duane E. Graveline, who is scheduled to resign today his post in the Aerospace Medical Division at Brooks Air Force Base, said in San Antonio Sunday the moon is like an "unclimbed mountain."

"It's there," he said. "Somebody's going to climb it."

Graveline has done research on weightlessness.

Michel, 31, said he also had looked forward to getting into the program. He has always been interested in space, and read such science fiction as Buck Rogers and Flash Gordon "Just like all the other kids."

Current plans do not call for a scientist on the first flight of the three-man Apollo, which is at least four years away.

A physicist, Michel is known for his research on solar winds. He was born in La Crosse, Wis., and lives in Houston with his wife and son.

Graveline, 34, is a native of Newport, Vt. He is married and has four children.

The other four are:

Dr. Owen K. Garriott, 34, an electronics engineer and associate professor at Stanford University. Born in Enid, Okla. married and the father of three sons.

Dr. Edward G. Gibson, 28, a physicist with a Ford Motor Co. subsidiary in Newport Beach, Calif. born in Buffalo, N.Y. married and has four children.

Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin, 33, a Navy flight surgeon stationed at Jacksonville, Fla. He is the other one with jet experience. Born in Oak Park, Ill. married and has a daughter.

Dr. Harrison Schmitt, 29, a geologist with the U.S. Geological Survey in Flagstaff, Ariz. Born in Santa Rita, N. M.

main — one of determination to end the war at the earliest possible time by a negotiated settlement involving major concessions by both sides."

He did not specify what these concessions were, but said one possible term of settlement might be acceptance of the 1954 Geneva accords "in all their specifications."

Fulbright's Senate speech came one day after he had conferred with President Johnson. The senator later said that Johnson asked him only to detail administration efforts to achieve negotiations.

Speaking on the program with Dirksen, House Republican Leader Gerald Ford said:

"The United States could not agree today — any more than in 1956 — to legitimatizing Communist control of all of Viet Nam by the device of a Communist - style election.

"The Eisenhower administration labored to build out of the chaos in South Viet Nam a durable economy, a progressive social order and military strength. That it achieved a considerable measure of success was attested to by several of Senator Fulbright's colleagues."

In weekend developments revolving around the Viet Nam war:

— Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said if a vote were taken in the United Nations now it would conclude that U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam "was a mistake."

Paul Blair, rookie outfielder with the Baltimore Orioles, stole 34 bases in 45 attempts with Elmira in the Eastern League in 1964.

Driver Fined For Speeding

One Wellsville motorist was fined and the hearing for another was continued until mid-July at traffic hearings today in Municipal Court.

Atlee Alexander Martin, 342 Broadway, drew a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 70 in a 60-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Road. Martin was cited Sunday at 7:10 p. m. by the State Highway Patrol.

Peter A. Russell, 957 Main St., was released on his own recognizance for a hearing July 19 after pleading innocent to a charge of speeding 42 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St.

Russell was cited June 21 in a radar check, city police said.

George Hornick, 1743 Etruria St., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a traffic signal at E. 5th and Washington Sts. at 12:20 a. m. Sunday.

Two Wellsville motorists are scheduled for hearings Tuesday after being cited by the patrol Saturday.

McArthur Coleman, 1113 White St., is accused of crashing a trafic signal at the junction of Routes 7 and 45 in Wellsville at 6 a. m. The patrol said an officer was following Coleman north when he crashed the light, which was red for 50 feet before he entered the intersection.

Leonard Harold Hawkins, 708 Wood St., was cited for speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone Saturday at 4:10 p. m. on the East Liverpool - Wellsville road.

isted and that it would take some time to end it.

She said she was very happy.

The queen said "Claus, like his family, has been opposed absolutely to the Nazi regime.

At her news conference Beatrix said she would have given up Von Amsberg if the Dutch government had formally opposed the marriage.

She said there would be no wedding this year and gave no hint as to when they would wed.

Asked at the news conference if he would describe his political sentiments as monarchistic or republican, Von Amsberg replied: "Democratic."

Lisbon's Fete Plans Pushed

LISBON — Plans are moving ahead on several fronts for Lisbon's Railroad Centennial observance July 17-25.

A pen and ink sketch by Mrs. Noreen Cameron, local artist, will be the chief souvenir for the program. Entitled "First Train into New Lisbon — 1865," the etching - like sketch shows the bustle at train time at the depot.

The Lisbon Commemorative Association, sponsor of the centennial observance, has had several hundred prints made on antique white stock, 9x14 inches, and will offer them for framing.

Robert Kelm of Lisbon, association president, said the Midwest Railway Historical Foundation will bring an 800-passenger excursion train to Lisbon on Sunday, July 25.

Visitors will have an opportunity to see the re-enactment of a Civil War skirmish at the fairgrounds with nearly 1,000 soldiers participating. The battle is scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

Kelm said he has received 871 registrations from members of Civil War commemorative units in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Maryland, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Tennessee, Virginia, Mississippi, Georgia, and North and South Carolina.

Railroad Centennial Week will begin with a coronation ball Saturday night, July 17, in the Floral Hall. Lisbon Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the Railroad Queen Contest, and the winner will reign for all centennial events.

Saturday was to have been the deadline for entrants in the queen contest, but it was extended a week to encourage a larger field. Howard Rose, 130 Pritchard Ave., chairman of the contest, said entrants may file by next Saturday. He said any Columbiana County girl is eligible.

Kelm said plans are being made to run a round-trip excursion from Lisbon to Niles on Saturday, July 24.

Education Award Due Oak Glen High School

Officials of Oak Glen High School in Hancock County will receive a "Pacemaker" award Wednesday for improvement in public education.

Oak Glen was honored for its program of individualized study. Thirty per cent of the school day is unassigned time, during which students use school facilities for individual projects and do homework.

The awards to schools across the nation are made by the National Education Association and Parade, the Sunday newspaper supplement.

Awards Banquet Draws 70

Wellsville Jaycees Honor Groom

Life memberships in the organization were given Daniel N. MacLean and James E. Laughlin.

Davis and Robert Gale Boggs were presented Spoke awards. The presidential award, given to the Jaycee who assisted the president most in the past year, went to Fusco. This was the first year for the presidential citation.

MacLean, Laughlin and Thomas C. Morris Jr. were given "exhausted rooster" pins. They have passed the age limit for membership.

Project chairmen receiving certificates of achievement were Vince Imburgia, Wilbur Jones, Laughlin, Fusco, Jack Call, Groom, Frank Fusco, Joe DaLonzo, Davis, Boggs, Jerry Russell and Walter Henthorne.

Background for leadership awards went to Jack Call, Frank Fusco, Ralph Fusco, Russell, Groom and William Miller.

Listed as Jaycees of the month were Ralph Fusco, for January; Groom, February; Call, March, and Davis, April.

Russell gave the invocation and Davis the welcome. Lombardozzi and Don Snediker, records and recognition chairman, presented awards.

The officers were installed by Walt Taylor of Salem, District 20 vice president, and Robert Lewis of East Liverpool, past District 20 vice president.

Guests included Miss Susan Jones of East Liverpool, the Columbiana County Junior Miss, and her escort, Dennis Horger; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rhodes of the Wellsville Press, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Laneve of East Liverpool.

Association To Stage Meeting In Wellsville

The Greater Wellsville Association will meet tonight at 7:30 at City Hall.

Arthur Montgomery, president, said welcome banners for the Wellsville High School alumni dinner this weekend should arrive this week.

Merchants are being urged to decorate their windows for the event and the association is offering a $10 cash prize for the best. Four members will serve as judges.

The judging will be done Friday. The winner will be announced Saturday.

Alaska's ports are closer to Tokyo than to the east coast of the United States. Thus geography is making Alaskans look increasingly to the Orient for trade.

Grangers To Get Traveling Chair At July 8 Session

The Traveling chair project will be presented to Highlandtown Grange by members of Yellow Creek Grange at a meeting on Thursday, July 8.

Women will take cakes as part of the refreshments for the session. Sandwiches and ice cream will be furnished by the home economics committee. The Highlandtown fire department presented a fire extinguisher to the Grange at a meeting Thursday night attended by 44.

The third and fourth degrees were given Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seigler by the Grange team. The program, "Tribute to Fathers," in charge of Mrs. Janet Taggart, lecturer included: Song, "Father Lead Me," Grange; poems, "When Pa is Sick," Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry; "A Child's Question to Father," Mrs. Hazel Smith; "A Boy's Tribute to His Dad," Jeff Seigler, and "A Girl and Her Dad," Chris Wilson; reading, "I'm a New Member" (dedicated to the new members), Mrs. Taggart: song, "Love's Old Sweet Song," Grange.

The program for the Juvenile Grange meeting was in charge of Margie Francis. It included: Reading "A Child's Prayer," Carol Leatherberry; poems, "When Pa Was a Boy," Marsha Pisarsky and "Dances of the Month," Lynette Hays and games.

The Juvenile Grange is conducting a paper drive. Anyone having contributions may take them to the Grange Hall or contact any juvenile member before July 14.

Lisbon's Fete Plans Pushed

LISBON — Plans are moving ahead on several fronts for Lisbon's Railroad Centennial observance July 17-25.

A pen and ink sketch by Mrs. Noreen Cameron, local artist, will be the chief souvenir for the program. Entitled "First Train into New Lisbon — 1865," the etching - like sketch shows the bustle at train time at the depot.

The Lisbon Commemorative Association, sponsor of the centennial observance, has had several hundred prints made on antique white stock, 9x14 inches, and will offer them for framing.

Robert Kelm of Lisbon, association president, said the Midwest Railway Historical Foundation will bring an 800-passenger excursion train to Lisbon on Sunday, July 25.

Visitors will have an opportunity to see the re-enactment of a Civil War skirmish at the fairgrounds with nearly 1,000 soldiers participating. The battle is scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

Kelm said he has received 871 registrations from members of Civil War commemorative units in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Maryland, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Tennessee, Virginia, Mississippi, Georgia, and North and South Carolina.

Railroad Centennial Week will begin with a coronation ball Saturday night, July 17, in the Floral Hall. Lisbon Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the Railroad Queen Contest, and the winner will reign for all centennial events.

Saturday was to have been the deadline for entrants in the queen contest, but it was extended a week to encourage a larger field. Howard Rose, 130 Pritchard Ave., chairman of the contest, said entrants may file by next Saturday. He said any Columbiana County girl is eligible.

Kelm said plans are being made to run a round-trip excursion from Lisbon to Niles on Saturday, July 24.

Education Award Due Oak Glen High School

Officials of Oak Glen High School in Hancock County will receive a "Pacemaker" award Wednesday for improvement in public education.

Oak Glen was honored for its program of individualized study. Thirty per cent of the school day is unassigned time, during which students use school facilities for individual projects and do homework.

The awards to schools across the nation are made by the National Education Association and Parade, the Sunday newspaper supplement.

Awards Banquet Draws 70

Wellsville Jaycees Honor Groom

Roy Groom was named the outstanding Jaycee of the year at the annual installation and awards banquet held by the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce Saturday night at the home of Wellsville American Legion Post 70. More than 70 attended.

Life memberships in the organization were given Daniel N. MacLean and James E. Laughlin.

Davis and Robert Gale Boggs were presented Spoke awards. The presidential award, given to the Jaycee who assisted the president most in the past year, went to Fusco. This was the first year for the presidential citation.

MacLean, Laughlin and Thomas C. Morris Jr. were given "exhausted rooster" pins. They have passed the age limit for membership.

Project chairmen receiving certificates of achievement were Vince Imburgia, Wilbur Jones, Laughlin, Fusco, Jack Call, Groom, Frank Fusco, Joe DaLonzo, Davis, Boggs, Jerry Russell and Walter Henthorne.

Background for leadership awards went to Jack Call, Frank Fusco, Ralph Fusco, Russell, Groom and William Miller.

Listed as Jaycees of the month were Ralph Fusco, for January; Groom, February; Call, March, and Davis, April.

Russell gave the invocation and Davis the welcome. Lombardozzi and Don Snediker, records and recognition chairman, presented awards.

The officers were installed by Walt Taylor of Salem, District 20 vice president, and Robert Lewis of East Liverpool, past District 20 vice president.

Guests included Miss Susan Jones of East Liverpool, the Columbiana County Junior Miss, and her escort, Dennis Horger; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rhodes of the Wellsville Press, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Laneve of East Liverpool.

Association To Stage Meeting In Wellsville

The Greater Wellsville Association will meet tonight at 7:30 at City Hall.

Arthur Montgomery, president, said welcome banners for the Wellsville High School alumni dinner this weekend should arrive this week.

Merchants are being urged to decorate their windows for the event and the association is offering a $10 cash prize for the best. Four members will serve as judges.

The judging will be done Friday. The winner will be announced Saturday.

Alaska's ports are closer to Tokyo than to the east coast of the United States. Thus geography is making Alaskans look increasingly to the Orient for trade.

Grangers To Get Traveling Chair At July 8 Session

The Traveling chair project will be presented to Highlandtown Grange by members of Yellow Creek Grange at a meeting on Thursday, July 8.

Women will take cakes as part of the refreshments for the session. Sandwiches and ice cream will be furnished by the home economics committee. The Highlandtown fire department presented a fire extinguisher to the Grange at a meeting Thursday night attended by 44.

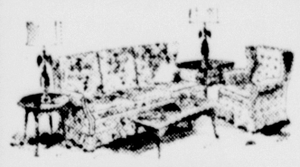

The third and fourth degrees were given Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seigler by the Grange team. The program, "Tribute to Fathers," in charge of Mrs. Janet Taggart, lecturer included: Song, "Father Lead Me," Grange; poems, "When Pa is Sick," Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry; "A Child's Question to Father," Mrs. Hazel Smith; "A Boy's Tribute to His Dad," Jeff Seigler, and "A Girl and Her Dad," Chris Wilson; reading, "I'm a New Member" (dedicated to the new members), Mrs. Taggart: song, "Love's Old Sweet Song," Grange.

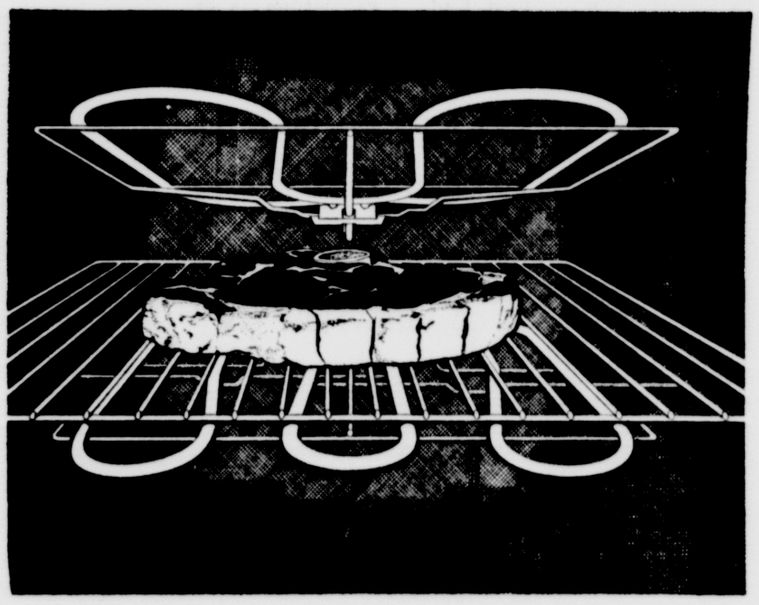

The program for the Juvenile Grange meeting was in charge of Margie Francis. It included: Reading "A Child's Prayer," Carol Leatherberry; poems, "When Pa Was a Boy," Marsha Pisarsky and "Dances of the Month," Lynette Hays and games.

The Juvenile Grange is conducting a paper drive. Anyone having contributions may take them to the Grange Hall or contact any juvenile member before July 14.

'U-Trap' Serves As Safety Valve

Question: Every year or two, I have to clean out the U-trap underneath our kitchen sink.

It gets clogged and prevents the water from going through, causing water to accumulate in the sink. I cannot understand why the trap is there. If the pipe underneath the sink went straight down to the basement and into the large soil pipe, wouldn't there be less chance of clogging?

Answer: Yes, there would. But you might not be around to know about it. The U-trap is designed so that there always will be water in it.

This water prevents sewer gases from backing up into the house. These gases are toxic and sometimes inflammable. That is why, when it is necessary for any reason to drain the water from the pipes, that some water be kept in the traps.

In areas where the draining is done to prevent freezing when a house is unoccupied, all the water is first drained, then the traps are filled with kerosene or some other non-freezing material which will act as a gas seal. Incidentally, when the trap under the kitchen sink gets clogged every year or so, it usually means that somebody is permitting non-liquid substances to go down the drain instead of removing them from the sink.

Such substances include coffee grounds, small pieces of vegetables, lint from wash cloths, etc. Heavy grease also can coat the walls of the trap and cause trouble. When such grease connot effectively be prevented from entering the drain, it's a good idea to turn on the hot water for a few minutes to flush away the grease before it has a chance to settle in the trap.

Funeral March Slated For 'Satchmo' Friend

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A traditional funeral march was planned today for bass drummer Robert Lewis, 65, a boyhood pal of trumpet star Louis Armstrong.

Lewis died last Thursday.

Lewis and Armstrong were inmates of a boys' home when they met.

Lewis, called by Dixieland critics "a fine exuberant drummer," played briefly with Armstrong and later with the Tulane band under Amos Riley.

If You Have Old Furniture, It Can Become A New 'Hit'

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

If you have any idea of throwing away or giving away old pieces of furniture because they are either a natural wood color or chipped and scratched, it would be well to reconsider.

No less an authority than the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association advises that at a recent Chicago exhibition painted furniture was the hit of the show.

Chairs, tables, dining room cupboards, chests and bedroom suites were displayed in antique paint effects ranging from light blue and green to russet red and the traditional ivory gold.

Anyone capable of using a paint brush can convert existing pieces of furniture into smart, decorative items. Instead of the enamel usually suggested for furniture, use an alkyd flat wall paint for both main color and the antique effect. A flat varnish should be used for a protective final coat.

Naturally, the surface to be painted should be cleaned and sanded. And if the article has a stain finish, a coat of shellac must be applied to prevent it from bleeding through into the new finish. For a particularly smart effect, highlight carvings and raised areas with gold paint.

Never let reupholstering stump you. If you remove the worn seat or back of a chair carefully and spread it out, you will have a perfect pattern from which to cut the new material.

If a seat needs rewebbing, cut pieces of new webbing the same length as the old strips and follow the method used previously in tacking them in place.

Refinishing furniture in painted style is a very rewarding hobby and pays large dividends in the improved appearance of your home.

Some Facts About Nails

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

If you wrinkle your forehead in uncertainly when the instructions for a woodworking project call for the use of 8d nails, don't despair. Nearly everybody does the same thing.

The term penny for nail length is an inheritance from antiquity. The letter d is from the Latin word "denarius," meaning penny.

And the term was used in medieval England to designate the number of nails of a given size sold for a penny; thus, a pennyweight. Obviously, the bigger and heavier the nails, the fewer the pennyweight.

ALL NAILS come in standard lengths. The so-called common nail is just as long for a given penny size as most other types, such as box nails, cut nails and the various specially treated or threaded nails.

Only a few unusual types are a bit shorter. As a rule, the longer nails are thicker than the shorter ones of any kind, although there are common differences in diameter between different kinds.

Since all that may be a little confusing, here are some of the standard lengths of common nails for the various penny sizes:

1½ inches-4d; 1¾ inches-5d; 2 inches-6d; 2¼ inches-7d; 2½ inches-8d; 2¾ inches-9d; 3 inches-10d. You might clip this out for future reference.

Research on nailed joints shows that the strongest joint is obtained with a nail long enough to penetrate at least two-thirds of its length into the piece of wood holding the point.

THE HEAD size or shape of a nail is important if "blind" nailing or "set" nailing is to be done.

For these purposes, finishing or casing nails, with very small heads, are used. Blind nailing usually is used to put down tongue - and - grooved flooring, siding or paneling. The nails are driven into one edge of the piece at the base of the tongue.

Set nailing is done by driving the nail below the surface with a punch-like tool called a nail set. The head is then concealed with a putty-like substance of appropriate color to blend with the wood.

The fastening research specialist at the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory in Madison, Wis., John A. Scholten, says that splitting is a hazard with certain kinds of wood if nails are driven too near the ends or edges of a piece.

He names these woods as oak, maple, southern pine and douglas fir. The splitting can be prevented by buying special blunt-pointed nails, blunting the points of ordinary nails or predrilling pilot holes for nails with sharp points.

Officials Attend 2-Day Federal Aid Seminar

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-day seminar sponsored by Rep. J. William Stanton, R-Ohio, gets under way today to acquaint officials in his congressional district with federal programs.

"I feel that if just one good, new idea is found as to how we can better represent the residents of our area, the entire seminar will be worthwhile," Stanton said.

Officials from Lake, Portage, Ashtabula, Geauga and Trumbull counties were invited.

A highlight of the program will be a talk by Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor at a luncheon Tuesday.

Stanton, who served for eight years as commissioner for Lake County, said many local officials are unaware of the many federal programs available to them.

Murder Charges Due In Cleveland Beating

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police Lt. Carl DeLau said first-degree murder charges would be filed today against two men in the fatal beating last week of a plumbing supply company official.

DeLau, chief of homicide, said Walter Lee DeBolt, 22, of Cleveland had admitted beating Robert W. Burke after Burke came upon him and an 18-year-old companion Tuesday in the offices of the Miller Supply Co.

Burke, secretary-treasurer of the firm, died the following day at St. Alexis Hospital.

The lieutenant said the 18-year-old would be charged as an accomplice.

ALL NAILS come in standard lengths. The so-called common nail is just as long for a given penny size as most other types, such as box nails, cut nails and the various specially treated or threaded nails.

Only a few unusual types are a bit shorter. As a rule, the longer nails are thicker than the shorter ones of any kind, although there are common differences in diameter between different kinds.

Since all that may be a little confusing, here are some of the standard lengths of common nails for the various penny sizes:

1½ inches-4d; 1¾ inches-5d; 2 inches-6d; 2¼ inches-7d; 2½ inches-8d; 2¾ inches-9d; 3 inches-10d. You might clip this out for future reference.

Research on nailed joints shows that the strongest joint is obtained with a nail long enough to penetrate at least two-thirds of its length into the piece of wood holding the point.

THE HEAD size or shape of a nail is important if "blind" nailing or "set" nailing is to be done.

For these purposes, finishing or casing nails, with very small heads, are used. Blind nailing usually is used to put down tongue - and - grooved flooring, siding or paneling. The nails are driven into one edge of the piece at the base of the tongue.

Set nailing is done by driving the nail below the surface with a punch-like tool called a nail set. The head is then concealed with a putty-like substance of appropriate color to blend with the wood.

The fastening research specialist at the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory in Madison, Wis., John A. Scholten, says that splitting is a hazard with certain kinds of wood if nails are driven too near the ends or edges of a piece.

He names these woods as oak, maple, southern pine and douglas fir. The splitting can be prevented by buying special blunt-pointed nails, blunting the points of ordinary nails or predrilling pilot holes for nails with sharp points.

Officials Attend 2-Day Federal Aid Seminar

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-day seminar sponsored by Rep. J. William Stanton, R-Ohio, gets under way today to acquaint officials in his congressional district with federal programs.

"I feel that if just one good new idea is found as to how we can better represent the residents of our area, the entire seminar will be worthwhile," Stanton said.

Officials from Lake, Portage, Ashtabula, Geauga and Trumbull counties were invited.

A highlight of the program will be a talk by Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor at a luncheon Tuesday.

Stanton, who served for eight years as commissioner for Lake County, said many local officials are unaware of the many federal programs available to them.

Murder Charges Due In Cleveland Beating

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police Lt. Carl DeLau said first-degree murder charges would be filed today against two men in the fatal beating last week of a plumbing supply company official.

DeLau, chief of homicide, said Walter Lee DeBolt, 22, of Cleveland had admitted beating Robert W. Burke after Burke came upon him and an 18-year-old companion Tuesday in the offices of the Miller Supply Co.

Burke, secretary-treasurer of the firm, died the following day at St. Alexis Hospital.

The lieutenant said the 18-year-old would be charged as an accomplice.

Wood Siding Continues To Win Approval

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Wood siding continues to hold its head high as a favorite exterior house material despite the inroads made by many other products.

There are many persons who feel that wood siding has no equal for giving a home a feeling of warmth and security.

It is significant, for example, that many architects who specify stone, brick or some other material on the outside of a house will often blend it with cupboard, board-and-batten siding or one of the many other varieties and patterns of wood that are available.

Wood siding can be finished in an almost endless number of ways to get desired effects.

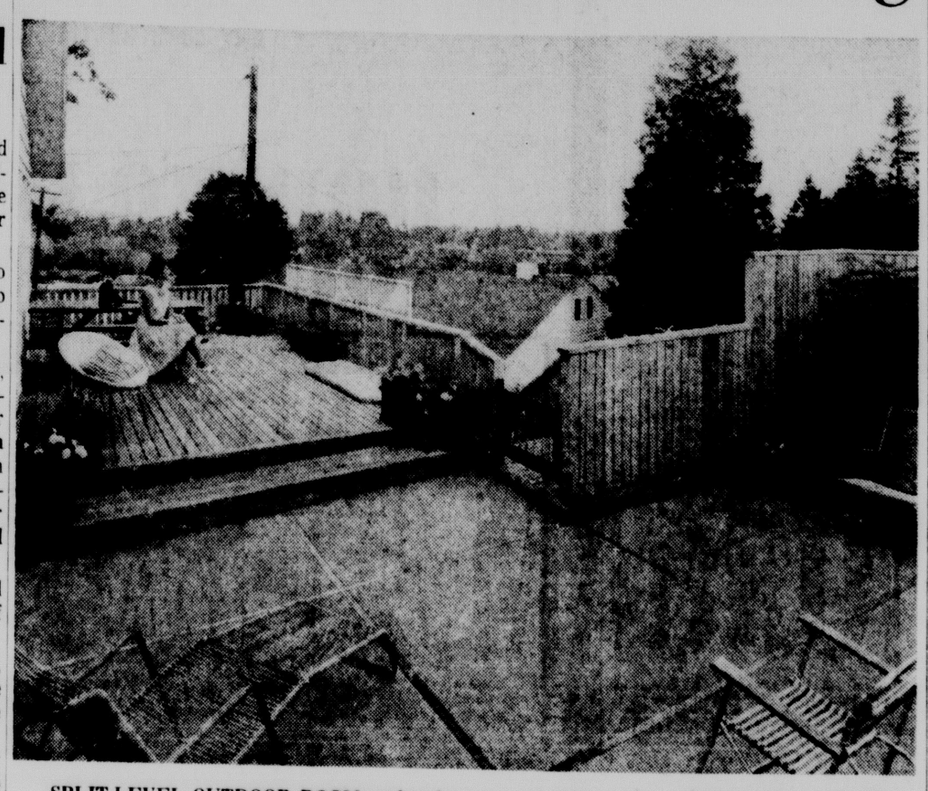

There are natural finishes, some of which do not hide the grain texture and modify the color of the wood only slightly; some of which are actually bleaches and turn the wood to the color of driftwood; and some of which, mostly in the linseed oil family, permit the grain to show but darken the wood.

There are stains of various kinds; those heavily pigmented are more durable; those lighter-bodied show more grain texture. And, of course, there are literally dozens of varied paints —oils, alkyd resins, latexes, etc.

All sorts of opinions have been advanced on how often a house with wood siding should be painted.

The Department of Agriculture, which has done much research on paints and their relation to wood, says that a good white paint should give four to five years' service.

Split-Level Outdoor Living

SPLIT-LEVEL OUTDOOR ROOM makes best use of this narrow, sloping side yard. Plan puts enclosed patio on ground, deck two steps above and over slope. Stairway connects to daylight basement level. Colorful furniture and plantings contrast pleasantly with weather-silvered fir deck and windscreens.

For an outdoor living area that's delightfully functional and just a little different, try a split - level, two - room plan.

People who are disenchanted with the ordinary flat patio find that breaking the space into two distinct areas improves appearance and usage considerably. Generally, it's best not to separate the two rooms, but a movable divider or a low, open screen can be used for a sense of division, if desirable.

THE SPLIT - LEVEL, two-room plan is created simply by elevating one area slightly above the other. It can work either on a perfectly flat lot or on a sloping, problem yard.

The plan can begin with a wood deck built right off a family room, kitchen or living area. The deck, at floor level, then works as an outdoor extension of living space and can function as the principal fresh air dining-lounging area.

Two steps below goes the second room. If level land is available, it can be paved. If not, a second wood deck is usually the most simple solution.

On a perfectly flat lot where a paved patio already adjoins house walls, the plan can be reversed, with a slightly elevated wood deck built out and to one side of the existing patio.

ONE OF THE two rooms may be walled for privacy. Generally the one farther out from the house is the better candidate since screens there won't limit a view from windows.

However, if the deck or patio adjoining the house is to be used frequently for family dining, it may be desirable to include something there for privacy and wind control. Usually a single screen properly placed will suffice.

Simplicity is the watchword of good design for a split - level plan. Wood decks can be built of fir, with 2-by-4s laid flat or on edge for the floor boards. An eighth - inch spacing between courses allows rain runoff.

For the screens, a crisp vertical board pattern is always effective, especially when topped with a cap board to give a neat line at the top. Re-sawn western red cedar boards can be stained to match the house color or left to weather naturally.

Screens for a paved area should be set two or more feet beyond the paving's edge to allow space for a planting bed of fluffy greens.

Ohio Budget Vote Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State senators squared off for the battle of the budget today with time running out on the state's spending authority.

They scheduled a vote on the whopping $1.5 billion general approations bill at an unusual Monday afternoon session, hoping to speed it along to Gov. James A. Rhodes before Wednesday midnight.

Finance Director Richard L. Krabach served notice earlier that unless the measure is enacted before that fiscal deadline, there will be delays in state payrolls and other obligations.

Affected initially would be more than 10,000 aid to the aged checks scheduled to go out Thursday. Salaries of the lawmakers themselves are due to be paid next Tuesday. They also could be held up.

Republicans and Democrats in the evenly divided Senate have pledged action to prevent delayed payments but have not spelled out what form the action will take.

There appears to be strong support for an amendment by Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-Summit, to approve funds for state "housekeeping" bills and leave major disagreement areas of welfare and education for consideration in supplementary measures.

He drafted the amendment before departing last week for Europe as a delegate to a North Atlantic Treaty Organization conference. His absence gives Republicans a 16-15 edge, enough to defeat an expected long list of amendments by Democrats.

The Senate Rules Committee also scheduled a vote today on an administration-backed bill to extend school bus transportation to private and parochial school pupils. There was speculation however, that marathon deliberations on the budget may cause postponement of other business.

Attention in the House focused on the Sunday liquor bill as lawmakers returned from weekend recess to start their 24th work week. Supporters said they expected action by the Liquor Committee on the controversial measure which would permit Sunday sale of liquor after 1 p.m. under local option in counties of 200,000 or more population.

Jose Cardenal of the Los Angeles Angels stole 40 bases in 45 attempts with Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League in 1964.

Philadelphia Strike Ended

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — All truck traffic was normal again today as teamsters, back from an unauthorized week-long strike, delivered tons of food and other merchandise throughout the Greater Philadelphia area.

About 13,000 members of Teamsters Local 107 manned trucks and freight platforms to move mountains of piled - up goods to factories and retail stores.

Supermarkets and small grocery stores, their supplies exhausted because of the teamster "holiday," had replenished their shelves.

The Teamsters approved over the weekend a back-to-work order by Michael Hession, secretary-treasurer of the local, thus ending the six-day wildcat strike.

Communist Split Seen Stiring Red Activity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says competition between the Soviet Union and Red China has stimulated Communist activities throughout Africa.

The Massachusetts Democrat, chairman of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on refugees and escapees, said the two Communist countries are primarily competing for the loyalty of African students and exile leaders.

The Kennedy report came after closed session testimony by G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, and Abba P. Schwartz, administrator of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs.

Congressman Urges Martin's Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman has called again for the resignation of William McChensey Martin as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

The Texas Democrat, chairman of the House Banking Committee, has blamed Martin for a recent stock market slump. It came after Martin said there are similarities between 1965 economic conditions and those which prevailed before the 1929 crash. He also said there are dissimilarities.

Mansfield Movie Brings Arrest Of 5 Pittsburgh Men

PITTSBURGH—Hearings are slated Wednesday for officials of five theaters arrested Saturday by Allegheny County detectives on charges of permitting obscene exhibitions — screening of Jayne Mansfield's movie, "Promises, Promises."

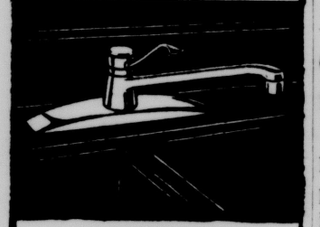

District Attorney Robert Duggan who ordered the raids said numerous complaints had been received about the movie which he called "atrocious."

The Art Cinema in the downtown area and five drive - in theaters were visited by detectives who said Miss Mansfield appeared "99 per cent nude in some scenes."

During hearings before Swissvale Justice of the Peace T. F. Wilson are Morris Rubin of the Art Cinema, Fairground Drive-in and Silver Lake Drive-In; John Glaus of the Fairground Drive-In; Norman Mervis of the Miracle Mile Drive - In, Roy Fiedler of the Dependable Drive-In, and Frank Reid of the Silver Lake Drive-In.

Bob Swift, who managed the Detroit Tigers this spring during Charlie Dressen's recuperation from a heart attack, caught for the Tigers in 1945, the last year they won the American League pennant.

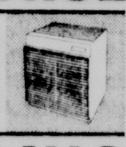

Johnny Sellers won the Jersey Derby, Tyro Stakes and Belmont races all within six days this spring.

Taxi Strikes Hit New York And Chicago

(By The Associated Press)

Strikes by taxicab drivers today crippled transportation in two major U.S. cities — New York and Chicago.

But first major impact of the stoppages came as the metropolitan multitudes made their way to work this morning.

Drivers in New York struck two hours after midnight in a demand for union recognition. Strike leaders and police estimated it had immobilized up to 95 per cent of the city's 12,000 cabs.

In Chicago, drivers and mechanics of the Yellow Cab Co. and the Checker Taxi Co., comprising about 85 per cent of the city's licensed cabs, struck Saturday in a dispute over a new contract.

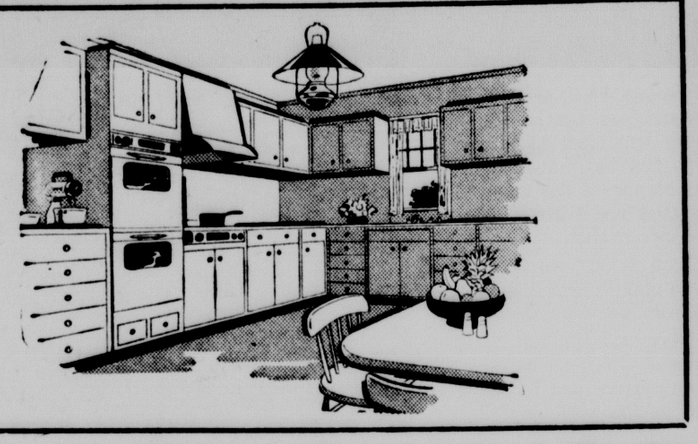

A few independent and driver-owned taxicabs still were operating, but even many of these stopped in New York City.

The Chicago Transit Authority pressed into service extra buses and the elevated trains added cars to help take care of an estimated 15,000 conventioners in getting between hotels and meeting places.

PLAN YOUR KITCHEN TO FIT YOUR INDIVIDUAL USE.

Every woman imagines a slightly different room when she thinks of her ideal kitchen. This is as it should be. Kitchens can be as different as people. But, all should have one asset in common—sound planning. A well planned kitchen is much more than a time and step saving department in your home. The efficiency of your kitchen is most important, but so is the family that will be using it. Before any work starts, detailed plans should be drawn up on paper. Think of your family, think of all the possible ideas you would like in your ideal kitchen, you should list them. Would you like a barbecue in the kitchen, a family snack bar, two places to cook? The answers to these and other questions will aid you, when you come to the final stage of blue prints. You will have achieved efficiency and service without expensive mistakes.

Tribe Keeps Pace With Twins As Both Win 2

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins have developed the best puppet act since Kukla, Fran and Ollie — Mincher, Mele and Nossek.

The head of the act in this case is Sam Mele, manager of the Twins. And he's manipulating his puppets so well, they're keeping Minnesota ahead of the rest of the American League even though they're on stage only half of the time.

The pair, Don Mincher and Joe Nossek, took turns coming up with winning performances Sunday as the Twins swept a doubleheader from Detroit, 6-4 and 6-5 in 10 innings.

The double victory kept the Twins one-half game ahead of the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox, who also won doubleheaders.

Mincher broke up the first game, snapping a 4-4 tie with a two-run homer in the eighth inning. Nossek ended the nightcap with his third hit of the game, a single that brought in Rich Rollins with the winning run in the 10th.

First baseman Mincher and third baseman Nossek are part of one of the most unusual platoons in the majors, with shortstop Zoilo Versalles the only infielder remaining stable.

When the opposition starts a right-handed pitcher, Mele shifts Harmon Killebrew to third base and places the left-handed hitting Mincher at first base. Southpaw-swinging Bernie Allen plays second.

But when Minnesota faces a southpaw, Mele pulls Mincher off first in favor of Killebrew and picks the right-handed hitting Nossek out of the dugout and puts him down at third. Rollins goes in at second.

In other AL games Sunday, the Indians defeated Kansas City 10-7 in 15 innings and 11-7, the White Sox dumped Baltimore 6-2 and 4-0, New York whipped Los Angeles 7-2 and Boston swept Washington 4-1 and 5-4 in 11.

The Tigers tied the opener 4-4 in the eighth inning when Don Wert singled and came all the way home as Tony Oliva threw wildly on Jackie Moore's single. But Harmon Killebrew led off the Twins' eighth with a single, and Mincher drove a Fred Gladding pitch against the right field foul pole.

A bases-empty home run by Don Memeter and Willie Horton's two-run homer brought Detroit even at 5-5 in the eighth inning of the second game. Then in the 10th, Rollins led off a single, was sacrificed to second and scooted home on Nossek's ground single to center field.

Chuck Hinton's fourth hit, a three-run homer off Jim Dickson, ended the five hour, 15-inning marathon against Kansas City. The Athletics went ahead 7-6 on Jim Landis' triple and Ken Harrelson's double in the seventh, but Cleveland tied it in their half as Chico Salmon doubled and scored on Hinton's single.

The Indians broke a 7-7 deadlock in the nightcap with four runs in the seventh. Rocky Colavito started it with a single and scored the lead run on Max Alvis's sacrifice fly.

The White Sox took advantage of five errors, three by Baltimore shortstop Luis Aparicio, for five unearned runs in their doubleheader. They tied the first game 1-1 in the first inning on Aparicio's first miscue, and pitcher John Milled's throwing error put them ahead to stay in the second.

The White Sox wrapped up the nightcap with three runs in the first inning. Skowron singled across two runs after runners reached base on errors by Aparicio and pitcher Steve Barber.

The Yankees' Whitey Ford, with relief help from Pedro Ramos in the eighth, posted his sixth straight victory. Elston Howard drove in two runs as New York won its fifth game in the last six.

Pinson, Robinson Pull Reds Within One

★ ★ ★ Pirates Trounce NL Leaders, 10-2 ★ ★ ★

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a better than even bet that Vada Pinson will have his best seasons in odd years.

Continuing to prove that 1965 will be no exception in his flip-flop pattern, Pinson combined with roommate Frank Robinson for nine hits and eight runs batted in as Cincinnati pounded Milwaukee 10-9 and 10-2 Sunday and moved to within one game of the National League lead.

Pinson sealed the sweep with a grand slam homer in the nightcap and wound up the day with four hits, four runs scored and four runs batted in. Robinson, who won the opener with a tie-breaking homer in the ninth, collected five hits while also scoring four and driving in four.

Pinson's 4-for-8 performance lifted his average to .311 while re-emphasizing the off-and-on pattern he has established during his seven-year major league career.

Starting with 1959, his first full year, Pinson has hit over .300 every odd-numbered year and under that level in the even-numbered seasons with averages of .316, .287, .343, .292, .313 and last year's lowest of all, .266.

With Pinson and Robinson showing the way, the Reds lashed 29 hits in the doubleheader, made it 11 victories in the last 14 games and closed considerable ground on the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers, who were walloped by Pittsburgh 10-2.

Elsewhere, St. Louis defeated Chicago 8-0 as Bob Gibson won his first game in more than a month before the Cubs took the nightcap 6-3, Philadelphia's Ray Culp shut out San Francisco 6-0 and Houston downed the New York Mets 4-2.

The Reds built a 9-1 lead in the opener with Deron Johnson, Tony Perez and Tommy Harper hitting homers, but the Braves came back to tie the score in a wild sixth inning that cost Cincinnati eight runs, two players and a manager.

Frank Bolling and Joe Torre smashed homers during the Milwaukee uprising with Torre's blow just inside the foul line causing an argument that led to the ejection of pitcher John Tsitouris, Johnson and Manager Dick Sisler.

The nightcap was easier for the Reds, who exploded for six runs in the fourth inning, including the fifth grand slam of Pinson's career and another homer by Robinson. Jim Maloney breezed to the victory for an 8-3 record.

Jim Pagliaroni hit a three-run homer and Bill Mazeroski chipped in with a two-run shot as the Pirates handed Johnny Podres his fourth straight defeat. Bob Veale, now 8-5, checked the Dodgers on five hits and struck out 11.

Gibson, who had lost six straight after starting the season with eight victories in a row, limited the Cubs to five hits and struck out 12 in the opener while supplying the only runs the Cardinals needed with a two-run homer in the second inning.

The Cardinals built an early lead in the nightcap on Ken Boyer's homer but the Cubs eventually broke a 3-3 tie with three ninth inning runs. The tie-breaking run scored with Glenn Beckert reached first on Bill White's error and raced home on a double by Billy Williams.

Culp, now 4-4, scattered eight Giant hits while Rich Allen and Johnny Callison supplied the power for the Phillies. Allen rapped four hits and drove in two runs after Callison got Philadelphia rolling with his 14th homer in the first.

Bob Bruce, 6-9, pitched five perfect innings for the Astros and allowed just three hits but needed Mike Cuellar to put down a ninth inning Mets' uprising. Bruce singled a run home for Houston, Lee Mays homered and Jim Wynn doubled in what turned out to be the deciding run in the eighth.

SQUEEZE PLAY WORKS. Pedro Gonzales, right, Indians second baseman, executes a perfect suicide squeeze play, scoring Leon Wagner shown running in from third base Sunday against Kansas City at Cleveland. The Tribe won both ends of a doubleheader. (UPI Telephoto)

500 Winner Is First In Grand Prix

CLERMONT — FERRAND, France (AP) — Scotsman Jim Clark won the 51st Grand Prix of France Sunday with a driving style so relaxed he didn't even know he was knocking down lap records.

"After a few laps I felt right at home on the circuit," said Clark of the serpentine five-mile Auvergne course, carved out of the sides of ancient volcano cones. The Scot ace drove a Lotus.

Most of the 17 drivers never had raced through the circuit's 51 turns and long steep grades, being used the first time for Formula One cars. So tough was the going that Clark's winning time was a modest 2 hours, 14 minutes, 38.4 seconds for an average speed of 89 miles per hour.

Clark set seven lap records on his 40 times around.

"I didn't even know I was doing it until a reporter told me after the race," he told newsmen. "I just drove the way I felt."

Floyd Takes St. Paul Open By 4 Strokes

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Raymond Floyd, a beefy young belter who brims with confidence on a golf course, may be ready to join the likes of Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus in the power brigade on the pro golf tour.

Floyd, playing his third year on the pro tour although only 22, slammed his way to the championship in the $100,000 St. Paul Open Sunday and picked up the biggest check of his career, $20,000.

He shot a final-round 69 on wind-blown Keller golf course to take the top prize with a 72-hole total of 270 — 14 under par and four strokes better than Tommy Aaron and Gene Littler.

Palmer and Doug Sanders predict big things for Floyd.

"He's a real good golfer now and he'll get better," Palmer said. "He's one who doesn't let things bother him."

"Floyd is going to be a great golfer," said Sanders. "He is a fine putter, hits the long ball and has a good temperament for golf."

Connor's Birds Net Clean Sweep In Trophy Race

Pat Connor's birds made it a clean sweep in the East Liverpool Homing Pigeon Club's 500 mile championship race from Vandalia, Ill. Saturday.

The Connor entries took the first four positions giving his loft the average speed trophy for the 1965 series.

The first three birds were clocked by Connor and were the only birds in the club to make the 500 miles in the same day.

Tribe Keeps Pace With Twins As Both Win 2

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins have developed the best puppet act since Kukla, Fran and Ollie — Mincher, Mele and Nossek.

The head of the act in this case is Sam Mele, manager of the Twins. And he's manipulating his puppets so well, they're keeping Minnesota ahead of the rest of the American League even though they're on stage only half of the time.

The pair, Don Mincher and Joe Nossek, took turns coming up with winning performances Sunday as the Twins swept a doubleheader from Detroit, 6-4 and 6-5 in 10 innings.

The double victory kept the Twins one-half game ahead of the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox, who also won doubleheaders.

Mincher broke up the first game, snapping a 4-4 tie with a two-run homer in the eighth inning. Nossek ended the nightcap with his third hit of the game, a single that brought in Rich Rollins with the winning run in the 10th.

First baseman Mincher and third baseman Nossek are part of one of the most unusual platoons in the majors, with shortstop Zoilo Versalles the only infielder remaining stable.

When the opposition starts a right-handed pitcher, Mele shifts Harmon Killebrew to third base and places the left-handed hitting Mincher at first base. Southpaw-swinging Bernie Allen plays second.

But when Minnesota faces a southpaw, Mele pulls Mincher off first in favor of Killebrew and picks the right-handed hitting Nossek out of the dugout and puts him down at third. Rollins goes in at second.

In other AL games Sunday, the Indians defeated Kansas City 10-7 in 15 innings and 11-7, the White Sox dumped Baltimore 6-2 and 4-0, New York whipped Los Angeles 7-2 and Boston swept Washington 4-1 and 5-4 in 11.

The Tigers tied the opener 4-4 in the eighth inning when Don Wert singled and came all the way home as Tony Oliva threw wildly on Jackie Moore's single. But Harmon Killebrew led off the Twins' eighth with a single, and Mincher drove a Fred Gladding pitch against the right field foul pole.

A bases-empty home run by Don Memeter and Willie Horton's two-run homer brought Detroit even at 5-5 in the eighth inning of the second game. Then in the 10th, Rollins led off a single, was sacrificed to second and scooted home on Nossek's ground single to center field.

Chuck Hinton's fourth hit, a three-run homer off Jim Dickson, ended the five hour, 15-inning marathon against Kansas City. The Athletics went ahead 7-6 on Jim Landis' triple and Ken Harrelson's double in the seventh, but Cleveland tied it in their half as Chico Salmon doubled and scored on Hinton's single.

The Indians broke a 7-7 deadlock in the nightcap with four runs in the seventh. Rocky Colavito started it with a single and scored the lead run on Max Alvis's sacrifice fly.

The White Sox took advantage of five errors, three by Baltimore shortstop Luis Aparicio, for five unearned runs in their doubleheader. They tied the first game 1-1 in the first inning on Aparicio's first miscue, and pitcher John Milled's throwing error put them ahead to stay in the second.

The White Sox wrapped up the nightcap with three runs in the first inning. Skowron singled across two runs after runners reached base on errors by Aparicio and pitcher Steve Barber.

The Yankees' Whitey Ford, with relief help from Pedro Ramos in the eighth, posted his sixth straight victory. Elston Howard drove in two runs as New York won its fifth game in the last six.

Pinson, Robinson Pull Reds Within One

Pirates Trounce NL Leaders, 10-2

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a better than even bet that Vada Pinson will have his best seasons in odd years.

Continuing to prove that 1965 will be no exception in his flip-flop pattern, Pinson combined with roommate Frank Robinson for nine hits and eight runs batted in as Cincinnati pounded Milwaukee 10-9 and 10-2 Sunday and moved to within one game of the National League lead.

Pinson sealed the sweep with a grand slam homer in the nightcap and wound up the day with four hits, four runs scored and four runs batted in. Robinson, who won the opener with a tie-breaking homer in the ninth, collected five hits while also scoring four and driving in four.

Pinson's 4-for-8 performance lifted his average to .311 while re-emphasizing the off-and-on pattern he has established during his seven-year major league career.

Starting with 1959, his first full year, Pinson has hit over .300 every odd-numbered year and under that level in the even-numbered seasons with averages of .316, .287, .343, .292, .313 and last year's lowest of all, .266.

With Pinson and Robinson showing the way, the Reds lashed 29 hits in the doubleheader, made it 11 victories in the last 14 games and closed considerable ground on the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers, who were walloped by Pittsburgh 10-2.

Elsewhere, St. Louis defeated Chicago 8-0 as Bob Gibson won his first game in more than a month before the Cubs took the nightcap 6-3, Philadelphia's Ray Culp shut out San Francisco 6-0 and Houston downed the New York Mets 4-2.

The Reds built a 9-1 lead in the opener with Deron Johnson, Tony Perez and Tommy Harper hitting homers, but the Braves came back to tie the score in a wild sixth inning that cost Cincinnati eight runs, two players and a manager.

Riverview and Central Service automatically gain the playoffs at the end of the season. The Florists finished with 19 points while Central closed the first half with 15.

Riverview edged Central in extra innings by breaking a 5-5 tie with the winning run in the last of the ninth.

The contest was even all the way with both teams collecting eight hits. Mike Goodballet one of two Riverview pitchers wound up with the victory and also slapped a triple to help his own cause.

Jeff Hall, the starter for Central Service, fanned 15 batters but was relieved by Emory Brewer who was checked with the loss. Brewer and Campbell had two hits each for the losers. Bartram's three safeties and two by Dan Smith paced the champion Riverview nine.

Mike Goodballet slammed a triple to drive in Danny Smith in the last of the sixth inning to give Riverview its victory over the Dentists.

Tom Moore of the Dentists pitched a strong two - hitter and fanned 13 batters but was given the loss. Bob Pancake was the winning pitcher sharing the duties with Goodballet. Welch had two of the Dentists four hits.

The second half play starts today with the Realtors meeting the Lawyers at 6 p. m.

Wellsville Sweeps Pair Behind Miles And Agnew

Strong pitching performances from Jim Miles and Bo Agnew featured the Wellsville Merchants sweep of two games Sunday at Kilgore in the Tri-County League.

The double victory leaves Wellsville a game behind Jewett for the league lead. Wellsville has an 11-2 record and Jewett is 10-1.

Miles hurled the opening game blanking Kilgore 5-0 on two hits while fanning 13 batters. Agnew followed the same script in the second game with a one - hitter and struck out 10 batters in a 10-0 victory. Agnew was pitching no - hit ball for over five innings before giving up the lone hit in the sixth frame.

John Martin's home run was the big blow in Wellsville's nine-hit attack in the first game.

In the nightcap, Butch Hamilton homered and Agnew helped his own cause by smacking a roundtripper.

The league's all - star game will be played Sunday at Irondale.

Taylor Is Impressed With OSU-Bound Stars

MARION, Ohio (AP) — The Southern all-stars whipped the Northerners 98-84 here Saturday night in the annual high school cage classic.

But Ohio State basketball Coach Fred Taylor won the jackpot.

Taylor was one of the interested spectators at the Coliseum and he watched with delight as three Buckeye-bound prep stars turned in impressive performances.

Steve Howell, Columbus Eastmoor's burly 6-foot-5 star, and All-Ohio Jeff Miller, Lima Shawnee's 6-5 ace, shared scoring honors with 21 points apiece.

Howell, who also contributed 15 rebounds to lead in that department, delivered key baskets as the Rebels evened the summer sries, 3-3.

Miller, although performing in the losing cause, garnered 10 rebounds, tops for the Yankees.

And Larry Hisle of Portsmouth, who turned in an excellent floor game while delivering 14 points for the winners, also is headed for Ohio State.

Howell, Miller and Hisle will be teammates this winter on the Buckeye freshmen basketball squad, an indication that the cage picture at Ohio looks bright.

Others who turned in standout efforts were Bob Arnzen, the 6-foot-5 Cincinnati St. Xavier star who scored 14 and grabbed 10 rebounds:

Dick Haucke, the 6-6 frontcourter from Cincinnati La-Salle who is enrolled at Cincinnati and Don Carrel, 6-4, of Marion Harding who contributed 19 points for the losers.

Carrel, playing before the home crowd, bucketed nine shots in 15 tries, the best marksmanship of the night. He will attend Ohio Northern.

The Southerners, with Howell, Arnzen and Haucke controlling the boards, had too much strength for the shorter Yankees. Haucke tallied 20 and retrieved seven rebounds.

The stubborn North team fell 15 points back early in the first quarter but kept pecking away and midway through the third period whittled the deficit to only three points.

Next year's contest was again awarded to Marion, marking the third straight year the game will be played here.

Legion Nine Drops Pair To Steubenville

East Liverpool Post 374 came up with only five hits over the weekend and dropped two contests. Steubenville handed the locals a 3-1 setback Saturday at Steubenville then lost to the same team 7-4, Sunday at Colt Field.

On Saturday Post 374 was limited to two hits and committed three errors. Steubenville collected five hits off Jack Myler, the losing hurler. Kunkel was the winning pitcher.

Sunday's contest, Post 374 only collected three hits in losing a 7-4 battle in extra innings. After six scoreless frames, Steubenville scored four runs in the top of the seventh. East Liverpool bounced back to tie the score with four runs in the last of the seventh but lost it when the visitors tallied three times in the ninth.

Marook, the winning pitcher, got in trouble by issuing eight walks. Bill Wright was the losing pitcher coming in to relieve Rich Whittington in the seventh inning. Steubenville came up with 11 hits off the two Post 374 pitchers.

Willard Big Gun In East Victory

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Ken Willard, a powerful 230-pound running back from North Carolina, may turn out to be the rookie phenom of the pro football season with the San Francisco 49ers.

"He runs so low they can't get at him," said teammate Dick Butkus of Illinois Saturday night after Willard gained 133 yards in 18 carries for the East in a 34-14 victory over the West in the fifth All-American game.

Willard's yardage total was a record for this pre-season affair and earned him the game's most valuable player award.

John Huarte, the New York Jets' $200,000 prize package from Notre Dame, provided the big scoring punch for Coach Ara Parseghian's East team. The quarterback hit Notre Dame's Jack Snow and Syracuse's Jim Nance with touchdown tosses, scored once himself on a three-yard keeper and kicked four conversions. Tom Nowatzke of Indiana and Rollie Stichweh of Army scored the other East touchdowns.

Gale Sayers of Kansas, a flashy rookie prospect for the Chicago Bears, was outstanding in the first half and wound up with 52 yards on 18 carries for the night. Sayers scored one West touchdown and the other came on a 15-yard run by Rick Redman of Washington after intercepting a Huarte pass.

Butkus, an East linebacker who will join Sayers with the Bears, made 16 tackles and played an outstanding defensive game.

Jeff Jordan of Tulsa doubled up. As a safety he broke up an East scoring threat by knocking down a pass in the end zone and also caught four passes for the West. Snow and Larry Elkins of Baylor each caught five passes, and Bob Hayes, the Olympic spring champ from Florida A&M, caught four and was a constant threat as a punt return man. Hayes' best was a 41-yard gainer on a pass from Navy's Roger Staubach.

Huarte played most of the game and completed 10 of 23 passes for 82 yards. The West divided the work among three quarterbacks. Craig Morton of California hit with four of 12, Jerry Rhome of Tulsa connected with six of 10 and Bob Perry of Oregon completed two of three.

"Willard has astonishing speed, especially for his size," said Parseghian, who coached the East against Arkansas' Frank Boyles, coach of the West. "Ken weighs around 230 but he has speed and agility. He runs over you but he also can make you miss him.

"And that Butkus is really strong. On defense, Butkus, Marty Schottenheimer of Pitt and Verlon Biggs of Jackson State were outstanding."

The Eastern players raved about the job done by their center, Bill Curry of Georgia Tech. "He's the hardest charging guy I've ever seen," said Willard.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Bob Gibson, Cardinals, won his first game since May 20, snapping a six-game losing streak with a five-hit, 12-strikeout performance as St. Louis walloped the Chicago Cubs 8-0 in the opener of a doubleheader.

BATTING — Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson, Reds, led Cincinnati to 10-9, 10-2 doubleheader over Milwaukee and to within one game of the National League lead, Pinson collecting a grand slam among his four hits and Robinson two homers among his five hits.

Esquire, Ferro Take Two Games In Slow Pitch

Esquire Barbers and Ferro-Louthan won two games and lost another in Slow Pitch League action over the weekend.

Esquire defeated Hookstown 12-8 with Bob Swogger collecting three hits then handed Harmony Bar a 14-9 setback Sunday as Jerry Wines had a perfect four-for-four day including a triple, two doubles and a single.

Ferro - Louthan hung an 8-6 defeat on Esquire with Lawrence Simms and Dave Watkins belting three hits apiece. Shorty Simms was the winning pitcher. Butch McElhaney had three hits and Art Bosworth two hits for the losers. Jerry Wines was the losing pitcher.

Ferro also whipped Dude's, 12-1 with Lanny DeBee's four hits leading the way. Loren Griffen and Ken Hemm added three hits each while Jack Canton was the losing pitcher.

Ferro's loss came at the hands of Osborn's Barbers by a 12-5 decision. John Martin blasted a home run and Dan Fisher stroked a triple to pace the Barbers.

Next season's University of Wyoming basketball team will include six students from Illinois and three from Iowa.

Police Bullet Claims Man Fleeing Theft Site

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 22-year-old East Side man who ignored police orders to stop running from the scene of a theft was shot and killed Sunday night.

Police said it was a freak shot that killed Albert Cutter. He apparently was struck in the chest by a richocheting bullet, officers said.

Patrolman Thomas Iglewski fired three warning shots from 90 feet away, but one of the bullets apparently richocheted and hit Cutter, police said.

Iglewski was one of two patrolmen to respond to a call from a person who said three men were stealing parts from a used car lot. Two men were apprehended, but Cutter jumped a nearby fence and started to run, police reported.

Affectionately Must Rank As One Of Greatest Mares

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no doubt about it. Affectionately has proved herself one of the great mares of American turf history.

The 5-year-old daughter of Swaps - Searching carried a whopping 137 pounds and still won the $58,900 Vagrancy Handicap at seven furlongs at Aqueduct Saturday.

The impost was a modern weight-carrying record for a filly or mare, and equivalent to 142 pounds for a male.

Affectionately, owned by Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs and trained by her husband, Hirsch, showed her herculean prowess by carrying the staggering weight through a 22.1 quarter, the half mile in 44.3, the six furlongs in 1:09.1 and the seven furlongs in 1:23 to stave off a late bid by Sought After, under 111 pounds, to win by a head.

"She was a little slow getting started," said jockey Walter Blum after the race. "Maybe I ought to say slower than usual. I suppose the weight had something to do with that. But once she settled down and got rolling she pulled away. I only hit her twice. I hit her on the shoulder about the quarter pole and again about the eighth pole. She was doing her best and there was no sense in punishing her.

"The weight was telling at the end, but, boy, she's some mare."

No one can dispute that statement. It was Affectionately's 47th career start, 27th victory and her sixth stakes victory this year. She now is the second money-winning filly or mare of all time with $528,750. Cicada's $783,674 tops the list.

Floyd Green Expected To Ride On Saturday

Jockey Floyd Green, one of the perennial leaders at Waterford Park for several years who suffered a broken collar bone on opening night of the night session, on April 26, announced that he expects to be up and riding again on Saturday, July 3. Green had thirty wins to his credit when he was hurt during the post parade in the first race. He expects to start galloping horses about Wednesday of next week.

When famous pacer Adios Butler won his first start at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, N. Y., in 1958 he was timed for the mile in 2:10 1-5. He eventually ran 21 mile races under two minutes.

Riverview and Central Service automatically gain the playoffs at the end of the season. The Florists finished with 19 points while Central closed the first half with 15.

Riverview edged Central in extra innings by breaking a 5-5 tie with the winning run in the last of the ninth.

The contest was even all the way with both teams collecting eight hits. Mike Goodballet one of two Riverview pitchers wound up with the victory and also slapped a triple to help his own cause.

Jeff Hall, the starter for Central Service, fanned 15 batters but was relieved by Emory Brewer who was checked with the loss. Brewer and Campbell had two hits each for the losers. Bartram's three safeties and two by Dan Smith paced the champion Riverview nine.

Mike Goodballet slammed a triple to drive in Danny Smith in the last of the sixth inning to give Riverview its victory over the Dentists.

Tom Moore of the Dentists pitched a strong two - hitter and fanned 13 batters but was given the loss. Bob Pancake was the winning pitcher sharing the duties with Goodballet. Welch had two of the Dentists four hits.

The second half play starts today with the Realtors meeting the Lawyers at 6 p. m.

Tom Nowatzke of Indiana and Rollie Stichweh of Army scored the other East touchdowns.

Gale Sayers of Kansas, a flashy rookie prospect for the Chicago Bears, was outstanding in the first half and wound up with 52 yards on 18 carries for the night. Sayers scored one West touchdown and the other came on a 15-yard run by Rick Redman of Washington after intercepting a Huarte pass.

Butkus, an East linebacker who will join Sayers with the Bears, made 16 tackles and played an outstanding defensive game.

Jeff Jordan of Tulsa doubled up. As a safety he broke up an East scoring threat by knocking down a pass in the end zone and also caught four passes for the West. Snow and Larry Elkins of Baylor each caught five passes, and Bob Hayes, the Olympic spring champ from Florida A&M, caught four and was a constant threat as a punt return man. Hayes' best was a 41-yard gainer on a pass from Navy's Roger Staubach.

Huarte played most of the game and completed 10 of 23 passes for 82 yards. The West divided the work among three quarterbacks. Craig Morton of California hit with four of 12, Jerry Rhome of Tulsa connected with six of 10 and Bob Perry of Oregon completed two of three.

"Willard has astonishing speed, especially for his size," said Parseghian, who coached the East against Arkansas' Frank Boyles, coach of the West. "Ken weighs around 230 but he has speed and agility. He runs over you but he also can make you miss him.

"And that Butkus is really strong. On defense, Butkus, Marty Schottenheimer of Pitt and Verlon Biggs of Jackson State were outstanding."

The Eastern players raved about the job done by their center, Bill Curry of Georgia Tech. "He's the hardest charging guy I've ever seen," said Willard.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Bob Gibson, Cardinals, won his first game since May 20, snapping a six-game losing streak with a five-hit, 12-strikeout performance as St. Louis walloped the Chicago Cubs 8-0 in the opener of a doubleheader.

BATTING — Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson, Reds, led Cincinnati to 10-9, 10-2 doubleheader over Milwaukee and to within one game of the National League lead, Pinson collecting a grand slam among his four hits and Robinson two homers among his five hits.

Esquire, Ferro Take Two Games In Slow Pitch

Esquire Barbers and Ferro-Louthan won two games and lost another in Slow Pitch League action over the weekend.

Esquire defeated Hookstown 12-8 with Bob Swogger collecting three hits then handed Harmony Bar a 14-9 setback Sunday as Jerry Wines had a perfect four-for-four day including a triple, two doubles and a single.

Ferro - Louthan hung an 8-6 defeat on Esquire with Lawrence Simms and Dave Watkins belting three hits apiece. Shorty Simms was the winning pitcher. Butch McElhaney had three hits and Art Bosworth two hits for the losers. Jerry Wines was the losing pitcher.

Ferro also whipped Dude's, 12-1 with Lanny DeBee's four hits leading the way. Loren Griffen and Ken Hemm added three hits each while Jack Canton was the losing pitcher.

Ferro's loss came at the hands of Osborn's Barbers by a 12-5 decision. John Martin blasted a home run and Dan Fisher stroked a triple to pace the Barbers.

Next season's University of Wyoming basketball team will include six students from Illinois and three from Iowa.

Police Bullet Claims Man Fleeing Theft Site

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 22-year-old East Side man who ignored police orders to stop running from the scene of a theft was shot and killed Sunday night.

Police said it was a freak shot that killed Albert Cutter. He apparently was struck in the chest by a richocheting bullet, officers said.

Patrolman Thomas Iglewski fired three warning shots from 90 feet away, but one of the bullets apparently richocheted and hit Cutter, police said.

Iglewski was one of two patrolmen to respond to a call from a person who said three men were stealing parts from a used car lot. Two men were apprehended, but Cutter jumped a nearby fence and started to run, police reported.

Taylor Is Impressed With OSU-Bound Stars

But Ohio State basketball Coach Fred Taylor won the jackpot.

Taylor was one of the interested spectators at the Coliseum and he watched with delight as three Buckeye-bound prep stars turned in impressive performances.

Steve Howell, Columbus Eastmoor's burly 6-foot-5 star, and All-Ohio Jeff Miller, Lima Shawnee's 6-5 ace, shared scoring honors with 21 points apiece.

Howell, who also contributed 15 rebounds to lead in that department, delivered key baskets as the Rebels evened the summer sries, 3-3.

Miller, although performing in the losing cause, garnered 10 rebounds, tops for the Yankees.

And Larry Hisle of Portsmouth, who turned in an excellent floor game while delivering 14 points for the winners, also is headed for Ohio State.

Howell, Miller and Hisle will be teammates this winter on the Buckeye freshmen basketball squad, an indication that the cage picture at Ohio looks bright.

Others who turned in standout efforts were Bob Arnzen, the 6-foot-5 Cincinnati St. Xavier star who scored 14 and grabbed 10 rebounds:

Dick Haucke, the 6-6 frontcourter from Cincinnati La-Salle who is enrolled at Cincinnati and Don Carrel, 6-4, of Marion Harding who contributed 19 points for the losers.

Carrel, playing before the home crowd, bucketed nine shots in 15 tries, the best marksmanship of the night. He will attend Ohio Northern.

The Southerners, with Howell, Arnzen and Haucke controlling the boards, had too much strength for the shorter Yankees. Haucke tallied 20 and retrieved seven rebounds.

The stubborn North team fell 15 points back early in the first quarter but kept pecking away and midway through the third period whittled the deficit to only three points.

Next year's contest was again awarded to Marion, marking the third straight year the game will be played here.

Affectionately Must Rank As One Of Greatest Mares

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no doubt about it. Affectionately has proved herself one of the great mares of American turf history.

The 5-year-old daughter of Swaps - Searching carried a whopping 137 pounds and still won the $58,900 Vagrancy Handicap at seven furlongs at Aqueduct Saturday.

The impost was a modern weight-carrying record for a filly or mare, and equivalent to 142 pounds for a male.

Affectionately, owned by Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs and trained by her husband, Hirsch, showed her herculean prowess by carrying the staggering weight through a 22.1 quarter, the half mile in 44.3, the six furlongs in 1:09.1 and the seven furlongs in 1:23 to stave off a late bid by Sought After, under 111 pounds, to win by a head.

"She was a little slow getting started," said jockey Walter Blum after the race. "Maybe I ought to say slower than usual. I suppose the weight had something to do with that. But once she settled down and got rolling she pulled away. I only hit her twice. I hit her on the shoulder about the quarter pole and again about the eighth pole. She was doing her best and there was no sense in punishing her.

"The weight was telling at the end, but, boy, she's some mare."

No one can dispute that statement. It was Affectionately's 47th career start, 27th victory and her sixth stakes victory this year. She now is the second money-winning filly or mare of all time with $528,750. Cicada's $783,674 tops the list.

Floyd Green Expected To Ride On Saturday

Jockey Floyd Green, one of the perennial leaders at Waterford Park for several years who suffered a broken collar bone on opening night of the night session, on April 26, announced that he expects to be up and riding again on Saturday, July 3. Green had thirty wins to his credit when he was hurt during the post parade in the first race. He expects to start galloping horses about Wednesday of next week.

When famous pacer Adios Butler won his first start at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, N. Y., in 1958 he was timed for the mile in 2:10 1-5. He eventually ran 21 mile races under two minutes.

Orchestra Ends Tour, Receives Cleveland Salute

CLEVELAND (AP) — Some members of the Cleveland Orchestra expressed surprise at the warmth of the welcome they received when they came home from their 10½-week tour of Russia and Western Europe.

The orchestra, given rave notices throughout the tour, found more than 5,000 people waiting to greet them Saturday night at Cleveland Hopkins Airport. There was a red carpet, a 25-piece band playing festive music and youngsters waiving "welcome home" signs.

It was the kind of a welcome a championship football team might get.

The consensus among members of the orchestra was that the tour was highly successful and that the State Department, which sponsored the trip, had not wasted its money.

Olin Trogdon, who plays double bass and also acts as personnel manager, said if he had to "pick out one highlight, it would have to be the response we received in Russia.

"In some places," he added, "they almost broke the door down to hear us."

George Szell, orchestra conductor, did not return with the other members. He remained in Switzerland for a vacation.

Customers Take Tires From Auto

A man and woman who said they were potential customers took a 1959 model auto on a 45-minute trial run from an East End used car lot Saturday afternoon and a salesman later discovered they had removed two tires from the vehicle, replacing them with old wheels and casings.

The theft was reported by James Potts, a salesman at National Auto Sales on Pennsylvania Ave. He gave police a description of the couple. Potts said after the couple left the lot, he discovered the spare tire and wheel and the right front tire and wheel had been removed and replaced with old wheels and tires.

Meanwhile, Clyde W. Boso, 650 Inez Ave., a retired police lieutenant, told officers Saturday afternoon a radio antenna was broken off his 1964 model auto Friday night while it was parked in front of his home.

Lisbon Man To Enter Naval Academy Class

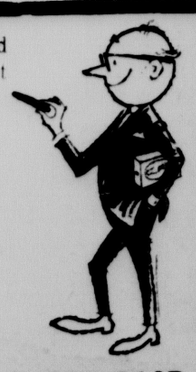

LISBON — Seaman App. David A. McPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer McPherson, 604 E. Lincoln Way, recently was graduated from the U.S. Naval Preparatory School at Bainbridge, Md. He was among 110 fleet candidates qualified for admission to the U.S. Naval Academy.

Having met the requirements for appointment as midshipmen, he and the other members of the Preparatory School's graduating class will join other men from civilian sources for the Naval Academy Class of 1969. The new "plebe" class will be officially formed Wednesday during ceremonies at the Naval Academy in Annapolis.

John Krzemienski, Michigan State football end from Beaver Falls, Pa., was the outstanding senior on the Spartan football team last fall.

Orchestra Ends Tour, Receives Cleveland Salute

CLEVELAND (AP) — Some members of the Cleveland Orchestra expressed surprise at the warmth of the welcome they received when they came home from their 10½-week tour of Russia and Western Europe.

The orchestra, given rave notices throughout the tour, found more than 5,000 people waiting to greet them Saturday night at Cleveland Hopkins Airport. There was a red carpet, a 25-piece band playing festive music and youngsters waiving "welcome home" signs.

It was the kind of a welcome a championship football team might get.

The consensus among members of the orchestra was that the tour was highly successful and that the State Department, which sponsored the trip, had not wasted its money.

Olin Trogdon, who plays double bass and also acts as personnel manager, said if he had to "pick out one highlight, it would have to be the response we received in Russia.

"In some places," he added, "they almost broke the door down to hear us."

Customers Take Tires From Auto

A man and woman who said they were potential customers took a 1959 model auto on a 45-minute trial run from an East End used car lot Saturday afternoon and a salesman later discovered they had removed two tires from the vehicle, replacing them with old wheels and casings.

The theft was reported by James Potts, a salesman at National Auto Sales on Pennsylvania Ave. He gave police a description of the couple. Potts said after the couple left the lot, he discovered the spare tire and wheel and the right front tire and wheel had been removed and replaced with old wheels and tires.

Meanwhile, Clyde W. Boso, 650 Inez Ave., a retired police lieutenant, told officers Saturday afternoon a radio antenna was broken off his 1964 model auto Friday night while it was parked in front of his home.

Lisbon Man To Enter Naval Academy Class

LISBON — Seaman App. David A. McPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer McPherson, 604 E. Lincoln Way, recently was graduated from the U.S. Naval Preparatory School at Bainbridge, Md. He was among 110 fleet candidates qualified for admission to the U.S. Naval Academy.

Having met the requirements for appointment as midshipmen, he and the other members of the Preparatory School's graduating class will join other men from civilian sources for the Naval Academy Class of 1969. The new "plebe" class will be officially formed Wednesday during ceremonies at the Naval Academy in Annapolis.

John Krzemienski, Michigan State football end from Beaver Falls, Pa., was the outstanding senior on the Spartan football team last fall.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Speech Defect Can Be Corrected Early

Many young children have trouble with sounding simple words correctly. They may constantly omit certain sounds or substitute other sounds. While they are growing up in the home they may easily be understood by their parents and playmates. When they enter school, however, the teacher and other children may feel and act toward them as if they are much younger than they really are.

Dr. Garry Myers

From Connecticut comes this letter:

"WE HAVE taken into our home a little foster child who will be four years old in August. He was taken from his parents when he was about 1½ years old and has been in several foster homes. He is a darling child but it is very difficult to understand him when he talks.

"He puts an h in front of most vowels. For example — orange, becomees horang. He drops the s when it is at the beginning of a word. For instance, he will say tore for store. He also has difficulty making the r sound and the th sound.

"I feel his biggest problem is in making sentences.

"RATHER than say, 'I want to go to the store,' he will say, 'I go tore?' He leaves words like a, the, to, an, etc., completely out of his sentences. He is eventually able to say some thing like, 'I want a cookie,' but only after I have him say it over and over. Otherwise, he would simply say, 'Have cookie?' It seems impossible for him to even repeat a sentence containing more than four words.

"Sammy is willing to try time after time and is very proud when he finally says a sentence perfectly. I feel he has shown some slight improvement in the three weeks he has been with us but I would be grateful for any suggestions I could get from a person with more experience in speech problems."

My repy in part:

HOW wonderful it is that you are providing this little child with a home of love and understanding. You have clearly analyzed his speech problems. It might be well to have his hearing tested. Even if he does not hear distinctly you can help him in the following ways:

Aim to provide him with abundant affection and to make him feel happy as you and he talk to each other. This objective you reveal in your letter. As you do things for him and with him, talk about what you are doing. Listen raptly when he tells you anything he wishes to say.

Since you have observed the kinds of words and sounds which give this child difficulty, often say such words casually but slowly and distinctly in your conversation with him or in his presence.

READ nursery rhymes and stories which contain these words and sounds.

Do read to this child, you and Dad, once or several times every day. This should help him more than anything else to get sentence structure. If I were you, I wouldn't worry much about a complete sentence. He will get that as time goes on. It's very important that he responds in his own way and feels comfortable and happy with you as he does.

It would be fine if older children of the neighborhood were also to read to him and talk with him. Sometimes an older child can do more than anybody else to help a young child who doesn't speak distinctly.

Don't look for rapid gain. Be glad he is improving and that you can help him.

My bulletins, "Why Read to Baby and Young Child?" and "The Young Child's Speech," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

City Worker Faced With Three Choices

Old Covered Bridge For Pedestrians Only

CEDARBURG, Wis. (AP) — An official State Historical Society of Wisconsin marker has been placed on the state's last remaining covered bridge.

Built in 1876, the Cedarburg bridge is the lone survivor of more than 40 covered wooden bridges that once dotted the Wisconsin countryside.

The bridge, after 85 years of full service, is now restricted to pedestrian traffic.

Honor Students Listed At Center

Area students attending Kent State University's Salem Academic Center were among those receiving honor grades for the spring quarter, Richard J. Velzy, director, has announced.

Four students who received all A's for two or more subjects were Mrs. Pauline E. Provins, with 16 credits hours, Mrs. Florence Bates and Mrs. Joan Sekeley, each with eight credits, all of Salem, and Miss Phyllis Hamilton of Lisbon, with six credits of "A" work.

Other students carrying from six to 14 credit hours, with B plus grades, were Lynn Baker, Mrs. Betty Gibb, Mrs. June Henceroth, Miss Patricia McCurdy and Mrs. Lois White, all of Salem, and Miss Judith Farmer of Lisbon.

Several others received A for their single class schedule. They included Keith Nelson of East Liverpool, Mrs. Bernice Arter and Miss Joyce A. Eskey of Lisbon, Mrs. Joanne Felton and Mrs. Aletha Hanley of Salineville and Mrs. Twila Greene, Henry Leider, Mrs. Bonita Mosher and Mrs. Roberta Muhleman, all of Salem.

The first scientific breakthrough to get banner headlines was the discovery of X-rays by Wilhelm Roentgen in 1895. Articles ran for weeks in the world press. Shy old ladies took baths fully clothed because they believed scientists had mystery rays that could look through brick walls.

Eat To Keep Nutrients Up, Calories Down

In our land of plenty we need a new attitude toward food. Ironic as it may seem, too much good food is killing us!

We are fearfully and wonderfully made. Given adequate amounts of the replenishing nutrients, the body can repair itself. Get acquainted with that word nutrients. Certain foods, aptly termed protective, are known to be superior sources of the nutrients essential for upkeep and renewal of body tissues. Here they are: Fruits, including citrus fruit or juice; green and yellow vegetables; milk and cheese; eggs; lean meat, fish and fowl; and whole grains. On a rigidly restricted carbohydrate diet, these essential foods cannot be included in adequate amounts.

Ida Jean Kain

OUR MODERN knowledge of nutrition makes it possible to plan a reducing pattern that keeps the nutrients up and the calories down. Sometimes I think I do not promise enough for the scientifically planned reducing diet. Perhaps what is wrong is the word — diet. It's not a diet, not really, but a way of eating that allows you to slim down and stay slim for life.

Look upon protective nutrition, not as a diet, but as a way of eating for ideal weight and positive, wholesome, salubrious health to be genuinely enjoyed. When you regard the protective foods in terms of glowing health and more joy in living, you want to make them the backbone of your daily fare.

Research in the field of nutrition is a continuing process. From the current research there is convincing evidence that when an excessive amount of food is consumed at one big meal, the body is forced to handle the overload in an abnormal way. In these alternate metabolic pathways, more fat is laid down in the body tissues. If total calories for the day are not in excess of your requirements, you cannot weigh more by the scales. . .but more of your weight will be in body fat.

OUR MODERN plan of slighting breakfast, going light at lunch and saving the big meal for the end of the day leads to a higher proportion of fat in the tissues. By apportioning the day's total of calories in small, easily handled loads, nature helps you to build a lean, lithe body.

We need to work with nature to control weight, not by periodic dieting, but by not overeating. Also, exercise should be stepped up so that we can eat enough to be happy and not hungry. Exercise is the greatest variable in our calorie needs. Creeping pounds are an eternal problem today simply because we are not calorie spenders.

Czech Referee Tried Bribe To Look Better

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) —Czechoslovak authorities are investigating the case of a soccer referee who is suspected of having tried to bribe another referee.

It seems that the referee, Stefan Krizalkovic, offered the other man 5,000 crowns ($695) to make a lot of mistakes during a second - league soccer match so that he, Krizalkovic, would look better in comparison.

"Krizalkovic resorted to bribery in order to become a higher class football referee," the Czechoslovak news agency C.T.K. said.

Refusal to share food is a grave sin to Africa's Bushmen. These nomads eke out a bare existence from the harsh, barren expanse of the Khalahari.

The word "quarantine" comes from the Italian quaranta, or 40. This was the number of days set by Italian authorities in 1374 to detain travelers suspected of having bubonic plague.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Speech Defect Can Be Corrected Early

Many young children have trouble with sounding simple words correctly. They may constantly omit certain sounds or substitute other sounds. While they are growing up in the home they may easily be understood by their parents and playmates. When they enter school, however, the teacher and other children may feel and act toward them as if they are much younger than they really are.

Dr. Garry Myers

It's fortunate if their speech is corrected or improved long before that time.

From Connecticut comes this letter:

"WE HAVE taken into our home a little foster child who will be four years old in August. He was taken from his parents when he was about 1½ years old and has been in several foster homes. He is a darling child but it is very difficult to understand him when he talks.

"He puts an h in front of most vowels. For example — orange, becomees horang. He drops the s when it is at the beginning of a word. For instance, he will say tore for store. He also has difficulty making the r sound and the th sound.

"I feel his biggest problem is in making sentences.

"RATHER than say, 'I want to go to the store,' he will say, 'I go tore?' He leaves words like a, the, to, an, etc., completely out of his sentences. He is eventually able to say some thing like, 'I want a cookie,' but only after I have him say it over and over. Otherwise, he would simply say, 'Have cookie?' It seems impossible for him to even repeat a sentence containing more than four words.

"Sammy is willing to try time after time and is very proud when he finally says a sentence perfectly. I feel he has shown some slight improvement in the three weeks he has been with us but I would be grateful for any suggestions I could get from a person with more experience in speech problems."

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

An Appeal To LBJ

Stan Freberg agrees with me (and no doubt millions of others) that President Johnson's beautify-the-landscape campaign should be extended into our living rooms, where the litter from TV commercials is every bit as ugly as the billboards lining our highways.

Hal Humphrey

Humorist Freberg, whose own company turns out many of the better TV commercials, would first eliminate that one-minute drama in which the young bride-to-be is afraid her daddy's dandruff is likely to ruin the wedding ceremony.

-:-

AFTER A shampoo suggested by daughter, the wedding goes off without a hitch, and daddy proudly states that "I haven't lost a daughter, I've gained a dandruff shampoo."

I will vote with Freberg to purge the living rooms of that one, if I also can throw in the athletic old biddy who keeps telling us to "Put a (car) in your garage, Honey!"

According to Freberg, who studies the form chart on TV commercials consistently, the level of quality in these hard-sell electronic messages currently is at its lowest, and there is little hope of its improving. An ad agency man occasionally will admit this is true, but he defends these low-grade commercials on the ground that the public is watching and responding.

-:-

"OF COURSE the public is responding, but only by virtue of the total weight of the stuff," counters Freberg. "Proctor & Gamble is spending $133 million this year on TV. Imagine it! That is around $375,000 every day. Repetition finally gets through to anybody. It's almost subliminal."

Even with that much "weight, as Freberg puts it, a big advertiser sometimes will run into a problem its agency is unable to solve.

"That's when they call me in —when they're about to lose the account," Freberg says, a trifle bitterly.

In trouble or not, the client still views Freberg's creations with suspicion. The General Mills people, for example, retained Freberg's company to come up with a series of commercials designed to grab the adult audience.

THE FIRST ONE revealed a David Susskind-type round-table discussion on the merits of a cereal and closed with a well-decorated army general announcing that he was General Mills.

"What I didn't know," says Freberg, "was that a General E. W. Rawlings is president of General Mills, and he decided I was poking fun at him."

So it was up to Freberg to sit down with Gen. Rawlings and say, "You see, sir, the name of your company is General Mills and this general in my commercial is only a play on . . ."

Gen. Rawlings was appeased but only after being promised the uniform worn by the general in the commercial would be changed so as not to look like a real Army uniform.

"SIX AGENCY MEN from New York were flown out here to go with me to Western Costume and assemble a phony uniform. We rented epaulets from Brazil, a blouse from Lithuania and decorations from Luxembourg," Freberg recalls. "And after all of that, the first day's shooting had to be postponed when the actor turned up stoned!"

Ultimately this Freberg creation reached the air and was an instant success, even to getting adults to eat the cereal. Unfortunately, such successes do not usually mean repeat business for Freberg, Ltd.

"After the problem is solved, the agency people say, 'Now we can go back to regular advertising,' and you know what that means, Freberg explains, shrugging resignedly.

One of his clients at the moment is CBS, for whom Freberg is preparing a series of one-minute promotional commercials to herald the network's new shows. Happily for him, there is no general at CBS.

Tree Given Reprieve For Robin, Four Eggs

ROCKFORD, Ill (AP) — When concern spread through the Hallstrom School that a poplar tree would get an ax, a reprieve was granted to permit a robin and four blue eggs to remain unmolested.

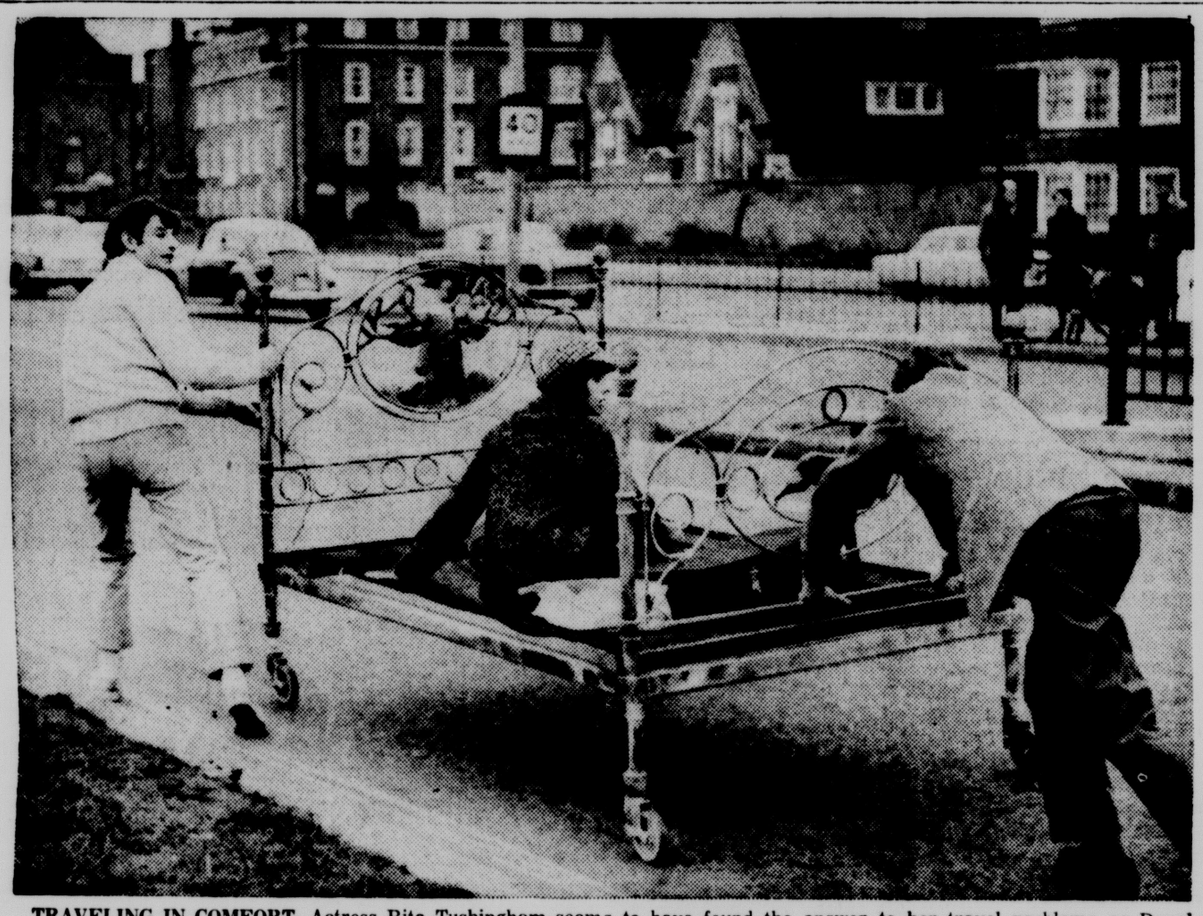

Children and teachers breathed a sigh of relief as the stay of execution was granted by the Board of Education officer.

Gerald Raasch, director of buildings and grounds, said the tree is scheduled to be cut down because its roots are breaking into the foundation of the school building.

Fireworks are as old as civilization, the National Geographic says. Combustibles similar to those exploded on the Fourth of July were made by ancient Chinese and Indian firemakers with charcoal and saltpeter. The later addition of sulphur produced gunpowder — long before the invention of the gun.

VICTIMS OF VANDALS. In Geneva, Switzerland, workmen carry out the task of cleaning four giant stone figures, the statues of church reformers Farel, Calvin, Beze and Knox. The statues have been the victims of vandals on eight different occasions.

TRAVELING IN COMFORT. Actress Rita Tushingham seems to have found the answer to her travel problems as Donal Donnelly, left, and Michael Crawford supply the muscle. When no vehicle was available, the trio decided to take over as they transported a bed from one movie set to another.

Ohio Lists 18 Road Deaths, 10 Drownings

At a Glance

Traffic	18
Drowning	10
Miscellaneous	2
Total	30

By The Associated Press

At least 18 persons lost their lives in Ohio traffic, and 10 were reported drowned over the weekend. An accidental shooting and an accidental electrocution took two more lives.

Fifteen of the fatalities were recorded Sunday.

Seven of the drownings involved swimmers. Three drowning victims were boaters. Three bodies had not been recovered by Monday morning, including those of two men who were among six in a boat which capsized Sunday night in the Ohio River at Portsmouth.

One of the victims had been in this country only since Wednesday. He was 22-year-old Ivo Gergurevic, who came here from Yugoslavia under the sponsorship of the Catholic Legion of Cleveland. He drowned at Mosquito Lake, near Warren Sunday.

All but two of the traffic mishaps came in separate accidents.

Among the Eastern Ohio deaths were:

Sunday

Jonni Culbertson, 16, Alliance in a one-car accident on Ohio 225 north of Alliance.

Ralph T. Miller, 54, Dayton, when a piece of a guardrail ripped through the car in which he was riding on U.S. 50 near Coolville, Athens County.

Mrs. Metta Parker, 76, Monroe Falls, Summit County, in a two-car collision on Ohio 162 five miles west of Akron.

Ivo Gerguvic, 22, Cleveland, drowned in Mosquito Lake near Warren.

Charles Blankenship, 21, West Liberty, Logan County, drowned in a pond on the Middletown Tree Farm east of Urbana.

Edward W. Bihl, 49, Wheelersburg, more recently of Tampa, Fla., missing and presumed drowned as a result of a boating accident in the Ohio River at Portsmouth. Boat with six aboard capsized; other four pulled from river.

Mrs. Jennie Zala, 47, Maple Heights, killed in collision on Willow Freeway in Cleveland suburb of Cuyahoga Heights. Six others were injured.

Clifford R. Bainbridge, 20, Cleveland, drowned in Lake Erie, off Edgewater Park, where he had gone wading with his wife and a friend.

Gene Barnes Jr., 10, Hanoverton, drowned in a Carroll County farm pond where he was swimming.

Saturday

James Combs, 18, Plymouth, when the car in which he was riding overturned near Willard.

James Wilson, 9, Belvidere, Ill., and Delores Sanders, 30, Cleveland, in a two-car crash on the Ohio Turnpike near Brecksville.

Ann Lynn Fisher, 5, in a two-car collision in Elyria.

Lee Thomas, 11, of near Jefferson, drowned in Windsor Hill Creek.

Carol Jo Grannan, 4, Columbus, drowned at Jackson Lake Park near Lithopolis.

A wide variety of objects has served mankind as money. Shells, beads, cattle and other domestic animals have been commonly used throughout the world. More unusual items include huge stones, pig tusks and woodpecker scalps.

The rapid rise in consumption of coal and oil has increased the amount of carbon dioxide in the earth's atmosphere. Since carbon dioxide helps the earth to hold the heat of the sun, some scientists predict that the earth's temperature will increase appreciably in the coming years. This might have wide-ranging effects, such as the melting of much polar ice and a rise in the sea level.

Verdicts Waited For Students In Berkeley Sit-In

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A three-day stream of verdicts for University of California rebels arrested during the Berkeley campus sit-in last December was to begin here today.

In all, 674 defendants will appear in three groups. An individual verdict, guilty or innocent of two or three charges will be handed down for each person.

All are charged with trespassing and failure to disperse. Some who had to be carried from the building are also charged with resisting arrest.

The rebels — including more than 100 nonstudents — were arrested during the Dec. 2-3 sit-in at Sproul Hall, the campus administration building. Police arrested more than 700 during the sit-in, but 90 pleaded no contest to charges and several were handed over to juvenile court.

Trouble on the 27,000-student Berkeley campus began last fall when university officials invoked a long-standing but unenforced rule against political advocacy on the campus.

Student groups formed the Free Speech Movement and held the first of a series of mass rallies Sept. 21 at Sproul Hall.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

An Appeal To LBJ

Stan Freberg agrees with me (and no doubt millions of others) that President Johnson's beautify-the-landscape campaign should be extended into our living rooms, where the litter from TV commercials is every bit as ugly as the billboards lining our highways.

Hal Humphrey

Humorist Freberg, whose own company turns out many of the better TV commercials, would first eliminate that one-minute drama in which the young bride-to-be is afraid her daddy's dandruff is likely to ruin the wedding ceremony.

-:-

AFTER A shampoo suggested by daughter, the wedding goes off without a hitch, and daddy proudly states that "I haven't lost a daughter, I've gained a dandruff shampoo."

I will vote with Freberg to purge the living rooms of that one, if I also can throw in the athletic old biddy who keeps telling us to "Put a (car) in your garage, Honey!"

According to Freberg, who studies the form chart on TV commercials consistently, the level of quality in these hard-sell electronic messages currently is at its lowest, and there is little hope of its improving. An ad agency man occasionally will admit this is true, but he defends these low-grade commercials on the ground that the public is watching and responding.

-:-

"OF COURSE the public is responding, but only by virtue of the total weight of the stuff," counters Freberg. "Proctor & Gamble is spending $133 million this year on TV. Imagine it! That is around $375,000 every day. Repetition finally gets through to anybody. It's almost subliminal."

Even with that much "weight, as Freberg puts it, a big advertiser sometimes will run into a problem its agency is unable to solve.

"That's when they call me in —when they're about to lose the account," Freberg says, a trifle bitterly.

In trouble or not, the client still views Freberg's creations with suspicion. The General Mills people, for example, retained Freberg's company to come up with a series of commercials designed to grab the adult audience.

THE FIRST ONE revealed a David Susskind-type round-table discussion on the merits of a cereal and closed with a well-decorated army general announcing that he was General Mills.

"What I didn't know," says Freberg, "was that a General E. W. Rawlings is president of General Mills, and he decided I was poking fun at him."

So it was up to Freberg to sit down with Gen. Rawlings and say, "You see, sir, the name of your company is General Mills and this general in my commercial is only a play on . . ."

Gen. Rawlings was appeased but only after being promised the uniform worn by the general in the commercial would be changed so as not to look like a real Army uniform.

"SIX AGENCY MEN from New York were flown out here to go with me to Western Costume and assemble a phony uniform. We rented epaulets from Brazil, a blouse from Lithuania and decorations from Luxembourg," Freberg recalls. "And after all of that, the first day's shooting had to be postponed when the actor turned up stoned!"

Ultimately this Freberg creation reached the air and was an instant success, even to getting adults to eat the cereal. Unfortunately, such successes do not usually mean repeat business for Freberg, Ltd.

"After the problem is solved, the agency people say, 'Now we can go back to regular advertising,' and you know what that means, Freberg explains, shrugging resignedly.

One of his clients at the moment is CBS, for whom Freberg is preparing a series of one-minute promotional commercials to herald the network's new shows. Happily for him, there is no general at CBS.

Tree Given Reprieve For Robin, Four Eggs

ROCKFORD, Ill (AP) — When concern spread through the Hallstrom School that a poplar tree would get an ax, a reprieve was granted to permit a robin and four blue eggs to remain unmolested.

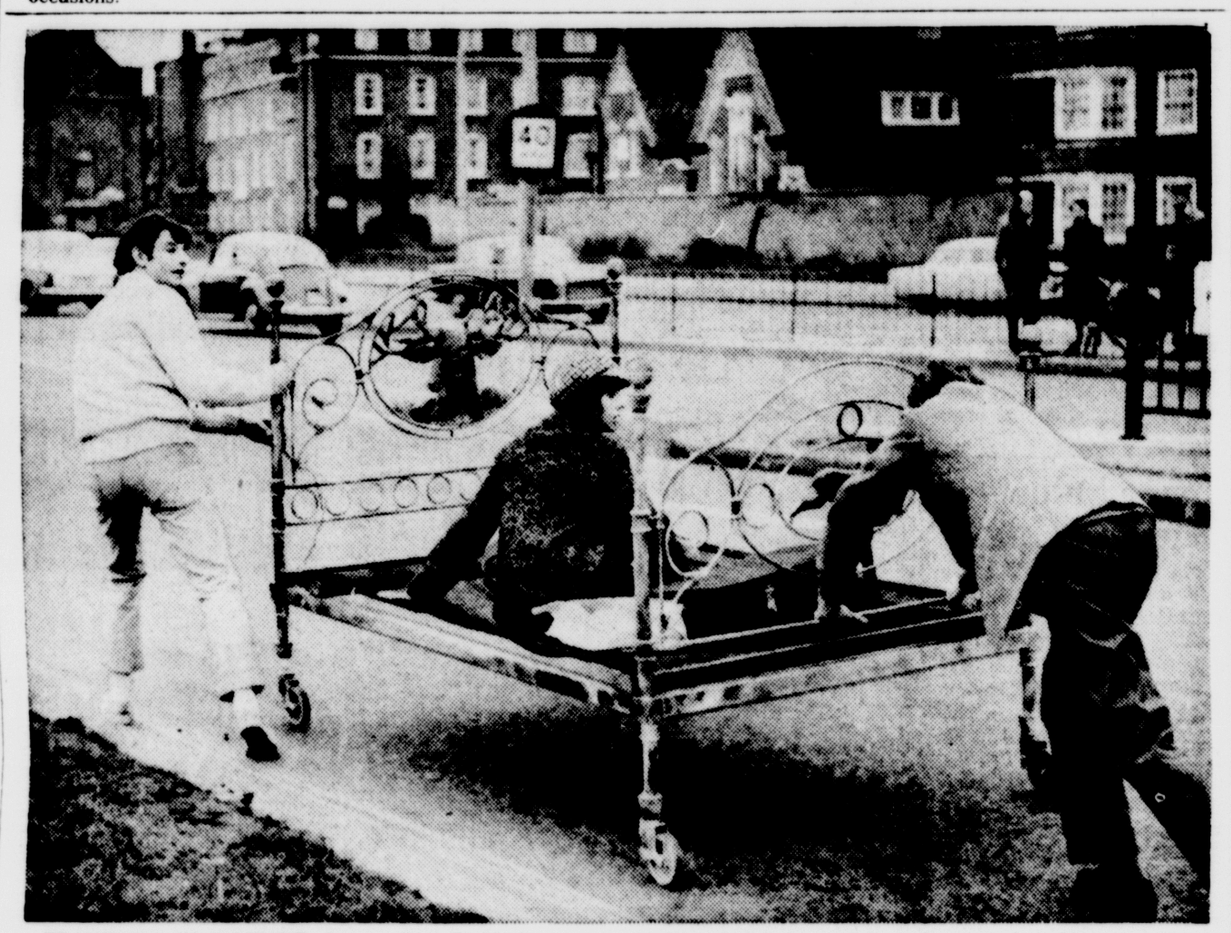

Children and teachers breathed a sigh of relief as the stay of execution was granted by the Board of Education officer.

Gerald Raasch, director of buildings and grounds, said the tree is scheduled to be cut down because its roots are breaking into the foundation of the school building.

Fireworks are as old as civilization, the National Geographic says. Combustibles similar to those exploded on the Fourth of July were made by ancient Chinese and Indian firemakers with charcoal and saltpeter. The later addition of sulphur produced gunpowder — long before the invention of the gun.

VICTIMS OF VANDALS. In Geneva, Switzerland, workmen carry out the task of cleaning four giant stone figures, the statues of church reformers Farel, Calvin, Beze and Knox. The statues have been the victims of vandals on eight different occasions.

TRAVELING IN COMFORT. Actress Rita Tushingham seems to have found the answer to her travel problems as Donal Donnelly, left, and Michael Crawford supply the muscle. When no vehicle was available, the trio decided to take over as they transported a bed from one movie set to another.

Ohio Lists 18 Road Deaths, 10 Drownings

At a Glance

Traffic	18
Drowning	10
Miscellaneous	2
Total	30

By The Associated Press

At least 18 persons lost their lives in Ohio traffic, and 10 were reported drowned over the weekend. An accidental shooting and an accidental electrocution took two more lives.

Fifteen of the fatalities were recorded Sunday.

Seven of the drownings involved swimmers. Three drowning victims were boaters. Three bodies had not been recovered by Monday morning, including those of two men who were among six in a boat which capsized Sunday night in the Ohio River at Portsmouth.

One of the victims had been in this country only since Wednesday. He was 22-year-old Ivo Gergurevic, who came here from Yugoslavia under the sponsorship of the Catholic Legion of Cleveland. He drowned at Mosquito Lake, near Warren Sunday.

All but two of the traffic mishaps came in separate accidents.

Among the Eastern Ohio deaths were:

Sunday

Jonni Culbertson, 16, Alliance in a one-car accident on Ohio 225 north of Alliance.

Ralph T. Miller, 54, Dayton, when a piece of a guardrail ripped through the car in which he was riding on U.S. 50 near Coolville, Athens County.

Mrs. Metta Parker, 76, Monroe Falls, Summit County, in a two-car collision on Ohio 162 five miles west of Akron.

Ivo Gerguvic, 22, Cleveland, drowned in Mosquito Lake near Warren.

Charles Blankenship, 21, West Liberty, Logan County, drowned in a pond on the Middletown Tree Farm east of Urbana.

Edward W. Bihl, 49, Wheelersburg, more recently of Tampa, Fla., missing and presumed drowned as a result of a boating accident in the Ohio River at Portsmouth. Boat with six aboard capsized; other four pulled from river.

Mrs. Jennie Zala, 47, Maple Heights, killed in collision on Willow Freeway in Cleveland suburb of Cuyahoga Heights. Six others were injured.

Clifford R. Bainbridge, 20, Cleveland, drowned in Lake Erie, off Edgewater Park, where he had gone wading with his wife and a friend.

Gene Barnes Jr., 10, Hanoverton, drowned in a Carroll County farm pond where he was swimming.

Saturday

James Combs, 18, Plymouth, when the car in which he was riding overturned near Willard.

James Wilson, 9, Belvidere, Ill., and Delores Sanders, 30, Cleveland, in a two-car crash on the Ohio Turnpike near Brecksville.

Ann Lynn Fisher, 5, in a two-car collision in Elyria.

Lee Thomas, 11, of near Jefferson, drowned in Windsor Hill Creek.

Carol Jo Grannan, 4, Columbus, drowned at Jackson Lake Park near Lithopolis.

A wide variety of objects has served mankind as money. Shells, beads, cattle and other domestic animals have been commonly used throughout the world. More unusual items include huge stones, pig tusks and woodpecker scalps.

Contract Rates On Request

Deadline: 5:00 P. M. the day before publication. On Mondays and on morning following legal holidays advertisements are accepted until 9:00 A. M. the day of publication.

The Review endeavors to print only truthful classified advertisements and will appreciate having its attention called to any advertising not conforming to the highest standard of honesty. Public demand for usable used goods was never greater than right now. Help meet it by selling the things you don't need through fast acting, inexpensive Review Want Ads, and have extra cash in their place. Simply Dial 385-4545.

The Review is a member of the Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising Managers which includes practically all leading newspapers throughout the country and has for one of its aims the elimination of fradulent advertising.

Place your ad by calling East Liverpool Review Want Ad Dept. 385-4545.

Renewals of ads that appeared the prevoius day and corrections may be made until 9:00 A. M. on the day of publication.

If you are planning to use your Savings to pay for the extra needs . . . perish the thought. Here's an easier way . . . one which thousands have been using lately with good results. You have unused furniture in the attic, a piano or a bedstead, or you have a fur coat or a bicycle which no one is using. Why not sell them and get good hard cash in return? All you do is place an ad with what you have to sell listed under the proper classification. Our Want Ad taker will help you word your ad to appeal to the greatest number of people . . . Then watch the buyers begin to call.

Phone 385-4545, or mail it to the Review Want Ad Dept., 210 East Fourth St., E. Liverpool. Notices, Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent advertisements must be accompanied by cash. All other Want Ads can be accepted by mail or over the telephone and a statement of the charge will be mailed to you.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service - Safety of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, until twelve o'clock noon, E.D.S.T., July 6, 1965, for the purchase of a used mower and tractor or a demonstrator mower and tractor, according to specifications now on file in the office of the said Director.

Each bid must contain the full names of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond to the satisfaction of the Director in the amount of 5% of bid or by a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of 5% of the bid for the new vehicles, payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool, as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted a contract shall be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected, such check will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted, such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

Envelopes containing bids should be marked on outside "Mower Bid".

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

What's New in The SHOPS?
Wall-To-Wall—Take It With You

New, different . . . beautiful and practical . . . luxurious but not expensive.
Carpet - Chex! Carpet - Chex is the modern way to beautiful long - wearing wall-to-wall carpeting. Carpet-Chex are 9x9 inch squares which you can fit together to make a rug any size you wish—and which you can take with you if you move. Carpet-Chex outlasts ordinary carpeting 3 to 1. Hidden areas are converted into carpet performance by rotating the squares from little used areas to heavy traffic spots. Cigarette burns, stains and damage are gone. Carpet-Chex are backed with sponge rubber, bonded to a rigid polystrene base and are designed to lock securely together.

What's New in The SHOPS?
Wall-To-Wall—Take It With You

Carpet pieces lock together forming rug.

New, different . . . beautiful and practical . . . luxurious but not expensive.
Carpet - Chex! Carpet - Chex is the modern way to beautiful long - wearing wall-to-wall carpeting. Carpet-Chex are 9x9 inch squares which you can fit together to make a rug any size you wish—and which you can take with you if you move. Carpet-Chex outlasts ordinary carpeting 3 to 1. Hidden areas are converted into carpet performance by rotating the squares from little used areas to heavy traffic spots. Cigarette burns, stains and damage are gone. Carpet-Chex are backed with sponge rubber, bonded to a rigid polystrene base and are designed to lock securely together.

74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pickups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. 74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pickups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

Junior Editors Quiz on FIREFLIES

QUESTION: What makes fireflies light up?

ANSWER: Few things add more interest to a summer evening than the fireflies, shining like tiny moving stars whose lights flicker on and off. Their lamps are lit by a remarkable kind of light which is different from most of the other lights around us. It is often called cold light, because, although produced by a chemical reaction somewhat similar to burning, there is very little heat produced. There are five chemicals in the fireflies' abdomens which are held under control. But nervous stimulation can take off the control, and then the chemicals work together to produce the light. It is the females who do most of the glowing. In some kinds, the females have no wings, in which case they are called glowworms. Fireflies are not flies, but a kind of beetle. It is easy to distinguish beetles from flies because they have a hard cover which protects their papery wings. When in flight, the covers are held up above the moving wings—you can see this in the picture. In the tropics, fireflies are even brighter. They are often put together in a bottle to give off light. Although each one glows on and off, with enough in a bottle they will give a steady but flickering light.

FOR YOU TO DO: Catch a few fireflies and put them in a glass jar to study awhile before you let them go. Scientists do not know all the secrets about cold light, but sometime they may find out. When they do, the little firefly may prove of great benefit to mankind.

Lucy Gorski of New Britain, Conn., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia, for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, June 28, the 179th day of 1965. There are 186 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1778, American artillery Sgt. John Hays dropped from the sweltering heat at the Battle of Monmouth Courthouse, N.J. His wife, Mary, swabbed and loaded his gun and when the battle ended she rushed pitchers of water to the heat-stricken colonials. Mary lives in American history as "Molly Pitcher."

On this date

In 1838, Queen Victoria was crowned.

In 1914, Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria was assassinated, the spark which touched off World War I.

In 1919, the Treaty of Versailles was signed

In 1942, Allied commando forces were attacking Salamaua, New Guinea.

In 1944, Thomas E. Dewey was named the Republican presidential candidate.

Ten years ago—More than one million U.S. government employes were given pay raises averaging 7½ per cent.

Five years ago — Argentina sent a note to Israel, asking how it intended to carry out a U.N. Security Council resolution calling on Israel to make "appropriate reparation" for the capture and removal from Argentina of the Nazi executioner of Jews, Adolf Eichmann.

One year ago — President Johnson declared the United States would risk war if necessary to preserve peace and protect Southeast Asia.

Ribot was foaled in England but is considered as being bred in Italy since Europe does not follow the American custom of crediting the place of birth as the place where the horse was bred.

Junior Editors Quiz on FIREFLIES

QUESTION: What makes fireflies light up?

ANSWER: Few things add more interest to a summer evening than the fireflies, shining like tiny moving stars whose lights flicker on and off. Their lamps are lit by a remarkable kind of light which is different from most of the other lights around us. It is often called cold light, because, although produced by a chemical reaction somewhat similar to burning, there is very little heat produced. There are five chemicals in the fireflies' abdomens which are held under control. But nervous stimulation can take off the control, and then the chemicals work together to produce the light. It is the females who do most of the glowing. In some kinds, the females have no wings, in which case they are called glowworms. Fireflies are not flies, but a kind of beetle. It is easy to distinguish beetles from flies because they have a hard cover which protects their papery wings. When in flight, the covers are held up above the moving wings—you can see this in the picture. In the tropics, fireflies are even brighter. They are often put together in a bottle to give off light. Although each one glows on and off, with enough in a bottle they will give a steady but flickering light.

FOR YOU TO DO: Catch a few fireflies and put them in a glass jar to study awhile before you let them go. Scientists do not know all the secrets about cold light, but sometime they may find out. When they do, the little firefly may prove of great benefit to mankind.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You've received thousands of letters from people, but have you ever received a letter from a hamster? I'll bet this is your first.

Several of us hamsters read your column every day. Our masters line the floor of our cages with your page of the newspaper because they know we are fans. Usually we agree with your advice, but recently you let us down.

A young boy asked you to help persuade his mother that hamsters are desirable pets for children. It seems his mother had the impression that hamsters smell. You said, "I hope your mother will let you have the hamsters because they make wonderful pets, but they do smell."

When we read that, Ann, we were sick. We do not smell. Our cages smell if they are not kept clean but why blame us for that?

Dear Sidney: I apologize to every hamster everywhere. It was my advice that smelled. Hamsters, according to all the experts, are indeed odorless, and I'm happy to set the record straight.

Mother's Failure

Dear Ann: What can a mother say to a 23-year-old son who refuses to accept responsibility for himself? When I tell him he is behaving like a juvenile he says, "It's your fault. You raised me."

I raised him all right. His father gave me no help whatever — and it shows. When the boy was in school I was the one who kept prodding him to do his chores and his homework. He used to hide behind his father and whine, "Make her leave me alone." My husband would turn to me and say, "Ruth, why don't you quit nagging the boy?

I know I've failed as a mother but it's too late to do anything about it now. What can I say when my son looks me in the eye and says, "You raised me. It's your fault." — TRIED AND FLOPPED.

Dear Tried: You can say, "Yes, I raised you and I'm sorry I didn't do as well as I had hoped, but I did my best. Now since we agree that I botched the job, I suggest you take over and make something better of yourself. Humans can change and improve. The world is full of people who have succeeded in spite of incredibly poor upbringing. Be my guest."

Pied To Sky

Dear Ann: I'm a food editor who has an unusual problem. It was caused by Ann Landers.

You recently printed a column about pies and said you were a pie lover. Then you named the cities where the very best pie can be found.

Our city appeared on your list, so I made it my business to find out where you enjoyed the pie and I succeeded in wheedling the recipe out of the reluctant pastry chef in the hotel.

The printers made a mistake and the recipe as it appeared was preposterous, but dozens of women tried it anyway. Now I'm afraid to open a letter or pick up the telephone.

One reader screamed, "I just baked the pie that Ann Landers raved about and I'm going to make my family drink it for dinner."

The most irate caller said, "I'm taking that miserable failure to my church bake sale today and I shall tell everyone it is Ann Landers' favorite."

Why don't you stick to affairs of the heart? — SICK OF GARBAGE PAIL CATASTROPHES.

Dear Sick: Don't worry, I will. I received more than 8,000 recipes for pie crusts, a dozen pie tins, rolling pins, pastry knives, flour cloths and countless cans of shortening. From now on I promise to stay out of the kitchen.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Youth, 17, Shot Accidentally In Morgan Pageant

CINCINNATI (AP)— Steven Wilhite, 17, remained in poor condition today and a doctor said he may have been hit by a live bullet during his mock execution Saturday as part of a historical pageant.

The youth was "shot" as part of the sesquicentennial celebration at Winchester, an Adams County village 50 miles east of here.

Dr. Eugene B. Elam, a neurosurgeon handling Wilhite's case, said the Winchester youth apparently was hit under the left eye with a .22 caliber bullet that lodged near his brain.

Winchester was one of the towns that was raided in 1863 by confederate Gen. John Hunt Morgan, who rode through Southern Ohio from the Indiana border until his men were forced to surrender near West Point not far from the Pennsylvania line.

While passing through Winchester, a youth shot off the general's hat and Morgan ordered him shot by a firing squad. Young Wilhite played the youth's part in the pageant.

Authorities at first thought Wilhite was hit by wadding from a blank cartridge.

$100,000 Sought By Geneva Man In Police Beating

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—A Geneva man has filed suit for $100,000 against the city and a policeman for an alleged beating at the police station Feb. 23.

The suit was filed Saturday in Common Pleas Court in Jefferson by Peter Zorbas, who says he suffered a broken nose, two chipped teeth and face bruises in a melee at the police station after his arrest.

Named in the suit were Patrolman Harold F. Brugh, and the city of Geneva.

Brugh admitted hitting Zorbas in the face with his fist but said it was necessary to subdue the man. Police said Zorbas, arrested for driving while intoxicated and for leaving the scene of an accident, started the fight.

Lebanon Woman Dies In Southwest Mishap

CLINES CORNERS, N. M. (AP)—A Lebanon, Ohio, woman was killed and her husband and son injured Saturday in a traffic accident on U.S. 66 near here.

Killed was Mrs. Doris Catchpole. She was riding in a car driven by her husband, Thomas, 32, when the vehicle left the rain-slick highway and struck a tree. The husband and son, Thomas, 6, were hospitalized.

In strawberry season, box turtles gorging on fresh fruit often become so fat that they cannot close their shells.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Can you wash a feather duster? Mine leaves more marks than a pencil carried by any of my grandchildren!

MA, MA, MA.

Heah, Hon: The reason your feather duster leaves marks is probably because you have used it on things you have waxed and also for things on which you have used an oil rag. Oil and waxes DON'T mix!

Wash the duster but don't dare throw it in a washing machine—

Here's how I wash mine:

Put a little detergent in the wash basin, then fill the basin with hot water from the tap.

Act like you are Cinderella's God Mother and wave your magic wand over and then DOWN into this suds . . . .

Watch that water get black as coal. Laugh at yourself . . . you didn't know, but you'll be happy that your neighbor isn't there to see it!

Rinse the feathers under the COLD water faucet until the water is clear.

AND, GAL, it will look like you have a wet chicken, and you will think the old feather duster is ruined, but it won't be.

Fix another basin of suds. Do the same thing again.

Rinse well AGAIN. Won't take but a few seconds.

Then, to get your good old bottle of vinegar. Put a blub-blub from the bottle in your basin. (That's about a fourth of a cup.)

Fill it with warm water and rinse away!

Shake that old feather duster over your bath tub to get the excess water out. (It will now look like a wet, sick hen.)

Stand it on end (with the featherside UP) or hang on your clothesline and next morning you will wonder where all those delightful, feathery feathers came from! And why you didn't wash the duster every week or so . . .

I love 'em,
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Put your name on your mailbox with pieces of reflector tape.

Your guests will thank you!

MRS. L. ANTRIM.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: If the din during the "children's hour" (that time between school's dismissal and Dad's homecoming) is driving Mama over the brink, two little wads of cotton — one in each ear — takes the edge off the shrieks (be they shrieks of pleasure of simple indignation).

The clan still can get through to Mama, if she's needed; but lowering the volume during this time surely makes it easier for her to smile and be gracious during dinner.

MOTHER OF SEVEN

DEAR HELOISE: I save the cardboards that come in my husband's shirts when they are returned from the laundry.

When draining fried foods, I slip one of the cardboards under the paper toweling on which these foods will be placed to drain.

It prevents grease from seeping through onto the counter, and also saves extra toweling.

After use, just throw away.
MRS. HAROLD BOZARTH.

DEAR HELOISE: Whenever I make a garment for a grandchild, I always make a matching garment for the child's doll or teddy bear.

The grandchildren just love them.

MRS. DELLA THATCHER.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.
